INDIA YANKS AT TETHER

Move Made for Freedom

National Congress Backs Up Gandhi in Proposal for Civil Disobedience

Middle Path Plan Voted But Liberal Federation Asks Dominion Status

LAHORE (India) Dec. 31. (AP)—Mahatma Gandhi, elderly ascetic who for years has been the symbol of the Nationalists' hopes of India, today in a challenging speech won almost unanimous support of the India National Congress for his objective of independence.

The debate had lasted seven hours among those who favor postponing any action, those who at once would break all relations with Great Britain and those who favor the middle path of Gandhi toward the ultimate objective of an independent India. At the final vote only six out of the 2000 delegates voted against the resolution which Gandhi sponsored.

The resolution authorized the all-India Congress Committee, an executive body of about 300 members, to launch whenever it thinks the time ripe a program of civil disobedience to include nonpayment of taxes and similar resistance to British rule.

BOYCOTT PROCLAIMED

It called upon Nationalist members of the Central Provincial Legislature to resign from those bodies and proclaimed a general boycott of such assemblies. It stated also that no good purpose can be served by representation at the proposed round-table conference in London to discuss constitutional reform for India. It did, however, express appreciation of the efforts of Lord Irwin, Viceroy of India, to effect a peaceful settlement of the problems.

Gandhi in his speech declared that his resolution could not stand the change of even one comma. If members of the Congress did not indorse the appreciation of the efforts of the Viceroy they had better hound Gandhi and Pandit Motilal Nehru out of the Congress. In the matter of the proposed boycott of the provincial councils he agrees with the Pandit that those bodies are played out but he suggested that if the Congress thought the councils can win independence they could go there even though he personally felt this to be inconsistent with the creed of independence.

OPPOSITION VOTED DOWN

The only opposition came from the Pandit Mandan Mohan Malaviya and Subash Rose, the one seeking to postpone any action for the present and the other calling for a declara-

Will Rogers Remarks:

BEVERLY HILLS, Dec. 31. [To the Editor of The Times:] I have read New Year predictions till I am blue in the face about great future of Standard Oil, Stay Froze ice chest, chewing gum, hot water bottles, Bull Durham, Mme. Ginsberg's face cream, reducing belts and one-man machine guns, but I have yet to see one word on what 1930 holds in store for the Democrats. And that's the very thing that makes me believe us Democrats may get a break in the coming year. I base my facts on the fact that 96 per cent of all predictions are wrong, and on the fact that it's an off year in politics and all off years are Democratic years.

Yours,
WILL ROGERS.

TUCSON (Ariz.) Dec. 31. (AP)—Gen. Jose Maria Tapia, newly appointed Governor of Baja California, arrived here today en route to his inauguration Thursday at Mexicali, capital city of the Mexican State.

In outlining his administration program Gov. Tapia pledged himself to "whole-hearted co-operation with the American authorities in stamping out the smuggling of liquor from Lower California into the United States."

"I will endeavor to clean up the border, as you Americans say," he continued, "particularly with the view to ending organized vice on our side of the line so that it will not percolate back into the American side."

Gov. Tapia stated that during his regime he will work for the com-

NEW ACTION ON FILMS

Trust Charged by Independent

Damage of $1,300,000 Asked from Hays and Leading Producers

Complaint Says Association Controls 95 Per Cent of Output

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—A suit charging violation of the Sherman antitrust law was started against the Motion-picture Producers and Distributors of America, Will H. Hays and forty-seven motion picture producers and film boards of trade today in Federal court by Ivan Abramson and the Graphic Film Corporation.

Action also will be brought against the Paramount-Famous-Lasky Corporation, Loew, Inc., Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer Distributing Corporation, Fox Film Corporation, First National Pictures, Inc., Universal Film Exchange, Inc., United Artists Corporation, Pathe Exchanges, F. B. O. Picture Corporation, Vitagraph, Inc., and film boards of trade of all the large cities of the country.

Abramson asks $1,300,000 for damages asserted to have been sustained by him through the activities of the defendants.

SUIT ALLEGATIONS

The suit sets up that "the leading producers of the country engaged the services of Hays for the purpose of organizing the producers and distributors group, and various film boards of trade for the unlawful purposes of destroying competition by the independent producers and of monopolizing for their own benefit the exhibition of motion pictures."

Abramson has engaged United States Senator Brookhart of Iowa and former Congressman Nathan B. Perlman and Samuel Mezansky as his attorneys.

The papers served on Mr. Hays and the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America today contend that the "Producers and Distributors control not less than 95 per cent of all picture production in the United States and supply 22,000 theaters with pictures." They further set forth the charge that as the result of the activities of Mr. Hays and the association the number of independent producers has been reduced from forty or fifty to twelve.

ADDITIONAL CHARGES

Other charges in the complaint are that the defendant companies "in order to monopolize unlawfully the production and distribution of motion pictures, to destroy competition by independent producers and to drive from the industry the independent exchanges, unlawfully conspired with each other and in furtherance of said conspiracy engaged the services of Will H. Hays, then a Cabinet officer of the government, agreeing to pay him the enormous salary of $150,000 a year or more for his services and $150,000 or more per year as expenses for the maintenance of the Hays organization."

Through the construction of enormous theaters in cities in competition with individual owners who have refused to give up their houses to them or to exhibit exclusively their motion pictures, the complaints continue, the defendant companies have driven out the independent producers.

The suit states that Abramson has been in the motion-picture industry since its infancy and has directed famous actors and actresses, but that he can no longer obtain a market for his productions.

PARIS JAILS ITALIAN TRIO AS BOMBERS

Anti-Fascists Said to be Plotting Against Lives of Italy's Arms Delegates

PARIS, Dec. 31. (AP)—Three Italians were arrested tonight on suspicion of plotting against Fascists and in the home of one of them police found a quantity of high explosives, a number of detonators, and other materials for making bombs.

The arrests and raid were made by agents of the Surete-General, the French Scotland Yard, which lends its efforts particularly toward the protection of the state and of prominent personages.

The police assert that those arrested had maintained relations with Camillio Berneri, who was arrested about a week ago in Brussels, Belgium, and who confessed to a dual plot against the lives of the Belgian royal family as they journey to Italy for the wedding of Princess Marie Jose, on January 8.

The Havas news agency described the prisoners as Italian newspaper men. Their names were given as Alberto Cianca, Guiseppe Sarbelli and Alberto Parchiani. It was at the home of Cianca that the explosives were found.

The Havas agency indicated that the three were perhaps plotting against the Italian naval delegation which will pass through France en route to the London conference next month. The exact nature of the plot has not been disclosed.

Every Times Reader Can Help—

MAKE 1930 A California Year!

All regular monthly subscribers of the Los Angeles Times will receive tomorrow complimentary copies of the six magazines comprising the 1930 ANNUAL MIDWINTER NUMBER.

The Times is confident that this surpassing edition, which for the first time employs a four-color process, will meet with universal commendation, and that all Southern Californians will read its informative articles with engrossing interest. There is a danger that this very interest on the part of local people may obscure the real purpose of this publication, which is, of course, to present a clear and telling picture of Southern California's attractions and opportunities to eastern tourists, business men, investors and the millions of people who would make good future citizens of California.

Believing that an intensive nation-wide distribution would bring incalculable benefits to the community, The Times is extending a mailing offer which nets this newspaper but a trifling part of the production cost. When names and addresses are furnished, The Times will mail the six magazines, together with a full, illustrated account of the Tournament of Roses and the East-West football game, to any point in the United States, Canada or Mexico for 25c, and to other countries for 35c. The domestic postage on this year's edition when copies are mailed by individuals will amount to 18c. Use order blank printed on another page.

JANUARY TO BE RAINLESS

Father Ricard Sees No Relief, at Least for Month, for Parched Southland

SANTA CLARA, Dec. 31.—January will be dry, chilly and frosty at night, says Father Ricard's forecast, based on the sun spots, issued tonight. The "padre of the rains" can see no relief for parched Southern California and little if any precipitation elsewhere in the State. His forecast follows:

January 1, 2—Slightly disturbed over the northwest, but with not a sign of change down this way; be careful of the very cold nights and days.

January 3, 4, 5—The storm over the North Pacific Coast will increase in intensity, causing partial cloudiness in Northern and perhaps Central California, with heavy frosts and very cold nights.

January 6, 7—The storm over Washington and Oregon will continue, but the high pressure down this way will continue to keep it cold and frosty; no rain in sight for the south.

January 8, 9, 10—The storm to the north of us will pass to the eastward, keeping it clear and very cold down this way.

January 11, 12, 13, 14—Beginning to clear in the north for a short time, with much frost and intense cold in Northern and Central California, but with no hope of rain for the south as yet.

January 15, 16, 17—More rain and snow over the northwest, but with no change from Oregon southward.

January 18, 19, 20—These dates mark the beginning of an accumulation of lows over the Pacific Northwest, but without much change down this way and to the south of us, except perhaps for a little cloudiness on the latter date.

January 21, 22, 23, 24—There will be an increase of the above storm over Washington and Oregon and the extreme end of Northern California, with a little cloudiness over the central portion, but with no change in the south.

January 25, 26, 27, 28—Still stormy along the north coast, but with the high pressures over these parts we can expect a continuance of our very cold nights and frosty mornings.

January 29, 30, 31—The storm to the north of us will begin to abate somewhat, and we will close this first month of the year with very little, if any, prospect of rain for Central, parched Southern California and the other southern States generally.

Mrs. Hoover's Illness Abates

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the President, who has been confined to the White House with a cold for the past two days, today had practically recovered.

Dr. Joel Boone, White House physician, said that Mrs. Hoover's indisposition had been slight, but that care had been taken that she should not aggravate the cold.

MA EARTH BEEFY AT EQUATOR

Her Waist Line Found to be About 81 Miles More There Than Via Poles

OTTAWA, Dec. 31. (AP)—A. H. Miller, a scientist attached to the dominion observatory, has completed measurements which show the diameter of the earth through the poles is twenty-six miles less than through the equator.

His calculations were made from observations of a pendulum swinging in a vacuum. It was carried to Berlin, Greenwich, Washington and back to Ottawa. At each point the speed of the swing varied with differing pulls of gravity.

Technically, mother earth is not a sphere, but an ellipsoid.

Rain Passes Up Northern Area; Frost Forecast

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Rain anticipated today for extreme Northern California failed to materialize except at Eureka, where a trace fell. The low-pressure area expected to produce the moisture was driven away before causing further precipitation by a widespread area of high pressure chasing it northeast.

The forecast is for clear and fair weather, but with a continuation of low temperatures which will cause heavy frosts in all the valleys.

Temperatures of freezing or below were recorded at Lindsay, Modesto, Orland, Oroville, Paso Robles, Porterville, Rocklin, Santa Rosa and Stockton. Porterville's mark of 23 deg. was the minimum reported to the Weather Bureau.

Air Line Plane Sets Record

CHICAGO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Chicago to Cleveland in an hour and a half.

The record was set yesterday by a trimotored Fokker plane on the Universal Air Line, traveling at an average of 203 miles an hour and carrying twelve passengers and two pilots.

Pilots Ray Fortner and Garnett Caldwell left the Municipal Airport at 4 p.m. and dropped down on the Cleveland Airport, 326 miles away, at 5:37 p.m.

YEAR ROSY TO HOOVER

New Prosperity Predicted

Americans' Lot to Improve, and World Peace Vision to Grow, He Thinks

President Expects to Solve Prohibition, Tariff and Other Problems

BY LAURENCE M. BENEDICT
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—President Hoover greets the year 1930 with the utmost confidence that it will bring to the people of the United States continued prosperity, vast improvement in government, improved facilities for the general advance of humanity and to the world at large a heartening vision of peace.

As the old year dies, Mr. Hoover is not disappointed or discouraged. The carping of critics to his mind does not stand the test of cold analysis. He looks backward with satisfaction and forward with hope. Such criticism as is well founded he will utilize to his advantage in the future. Such aid as comes to him will be appreciated. He has mapped his course and he will follow it with a single purpose. That purpose is the common advance.

PROBLEMS FACED

There are half a dozen perplexing problems confronting the administration. Most of them have been obstacles to progress for a long time. Likewise, they have been the subjects—or rather, the victims—of politics. Politics has prevented definite and decisive action upon them, but, nevertheless, the President is confident that in the end they will be disposed of to the satisfaction and the benefit of a majority of the people.

One of these is the tariff. The country knows the history of the tariff debate and Mr. Hoover's position in regard to revision. He asked Congress for such revision as would apply protection to agriculture and increased protection to those industries that had suffered through natural economic changes since the Fordney-McCumber bill was passed. Likewise, he urged retention of the flexible tariff clause.

TARIFF VIEWS

Washington long ago arrived at the conclusion that Congress will pass no tariff bill or will pass a bill which the President can not consistently sign.

Mr. Hoover does not share this view. He more clearly senses the sentiment of the country than anyone in Washington of less broad perspective possibly can and, therefore, he is confident that a conference committee of the Senate and House will finally turn out a tariff bill that the Senate will pass and that a majority of the people of the country will approve. He will sign such a bill.

PROHIBITION TO FORE

Prohibition is another of these problems. Just at present the country might expect Mr. Hoover to be seriously annoyed by all the noise that reverberates about the Capitol and throughout the country about the failure of this and that agency of the government to enforce the law.

But Mr. Hoover is not annoyed. He knows the facts. He knows what is being done, what can be done with the available machinery and when the time comes he will specify what should be done to increase efficiency in law enforcement.

It is extremely unlikely that Mr. Hoover expects to solve the problem of prohibition enforcement within the year, but he does expect to increase efficiency in enforcement and to that end will submit a program of legislation to Congress that will keep it so busy that it will have little time to talk about enforcement if it conscientiously goes about the task of providing the means of more rigid enforcement.

PROGRESS BEING MADE

Meanwhile the administration is doing the best it can with congested court dockets, with district at-

PANIC KILLS 72 AT FIRE

Little Bodies Crushed in Mad Rush for Doors, While Fumes Take Toll

PAISLEY (Scotland) Dec. 31. (AP)—Seventy-two small girls and boys died in the blind panic that followed outbreak of a small fire in the Glen Moving-Picture Theater late today.

The flare-up in the projection room changed the new year celebration of this Scottish mill town to mourning, in which the nation joined. Eighty others of the audience were injured but more than half of them had recovered sufficiently tonight to go to their homes.

The operator and manager prevented a holocaust by carrying the single blazing roll of film out of the building at the cost of serious burns to themselves. This kept down the fire damage to a negligible amount but the fumes from the burning film dropped the struggling children in great numbers while others piled up in jams in doorways and at the foot of stairways.

It was the most serious disaster of its kind in Great Britain since 1883. The children, mostly from working-class families, had crowded into the 750-seat theater, singing and dancing in excitement over the prospect of thus spending their "hog ma-nay," the traditional Scottish New Year's treat which outshines Christmas north of the Tweed.

CRY OF FIRE RAISED

But in a few minutes their gay laughter had given way to shrieks of terror and agony. A wisp of smoke had come out of the projection box of the theater. Some one cried "fire!" and in an instant the hundreds of youngsters were scratching and scrambling over each other in an effort to get out of what proved to be a death trap.

The catastrophe quickly became a combined reproduction of the 1903 Iroquois Theater fire in Chicago and the panic at a miners' Christmas party in Calumet, Mich., ten years later. Like the Chicago affair, many of today's victims perished through inhalation of noxious fumes, and like the Calumet panic, many others met death when the rush piled children six and eight deep on a stairway.

And as the New Year's bells of Chicago were stilled after its visitation and the night winds silently fluttered the streamers of crepe on 400 homes, so Paisley tonight gave over its customary rejoicings at the passing of another year. Always gloomy under its covering of factory smoke, the place was wrapped in a black shroud of grief and shock.

FILM BOX BLAZES

There was a parallel, too, between the households visited by death and the scene which the children had just witnessed on the screen. The feature film of the special holiday matinee had portrayed the story of "one of the crowd." It had worked up to a big scene which showed a working-class mother and father looking out of a window just in time to see their child struck down in the street by an automobile.

The childish exclamations of sympathy which this scene evoked were interrupted by the old, old panic signal of "fire!" Then came bedlam. The youngsters sprang from their seats and dashed toward one of the exits in blind terror. They scrambled over the chairs, fell in aisles. They shrieked "mamma," or "daddy," or "sister." They scratched each other. They fought and the younger and weaker went down under the older ones.

Up in the projection box the assistant operator had noticed smoke coming from the case containing the film which had just been rewound.

THOSE WILY SUPERVISORS!

First Eight Decide to Escort Mayor Rolph in Rose Parade, and Then Six Plan Mexican Trip

BY FLOYD J. HEALEY
"Times" Staff Correspondent

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Pasadena's annual rose parade may proceed with "Sunny Jim" Rolph, San Francisco's Mayor, leading the grand march and garnished with $3150 worth of San Francisco's Supervisorial splendor. It's all legal n'everything. "Sunny Jim" can tell the Pasadenans about the City Hall dome which, in case you haven't heard, is higher than that of the national Capitol, and the Supervisors—eight of 'em—won't be touched on the shoulder at the wrong time by a deputy auditor demanding exhibits A, B, etc., on what the uneducated call swindle sheets.

But wait until the boys come home.

Originally it was all a matter of courtesy to Pasadena. The Tournament of Roses committee asked "Sunny Jim" to come down and lead the floats around and San Francisco's motto is "the city that knows how," so the Supervisors thought it was the courteous thing to give "Sunny Jim" a guard of honor, or something. So eight of them decided to go along. Nothing unusual about that. It had been done before. And, besides, four of these Supervisors were beaten for re-election, are graduated from their last board meeting and it's their last chance to star for dear old Siwash.

It was all as nice as could be. Great boost for San Francisco; great spirit of co-operation with a sister city of the commonwealth; and a great time to be had by all.

Then some gent went and looked up the drawing accounts and discovered this:

Shannon, $800; Kent, $400; McSheehy, $300; Toner, $250; Schmidt, $250; Hayden, $250; Deasy, $250; Powers, $250; one chauffeur, $150, and two other chauffeurs, $150 each.

Total, any way it's added: $3150.

"Now why," queried the questioner of himself, "should it cost $3150 in one day to toast Pasadena—in Pasadena?" Truly, he reasoned, "that's a whole lot of toasts—in Pasadena."

But the boys who "know how" fixed that all up with a resolution

YEAR'S RECORDS PROVE PLEASING

Government Close to Farm and Factory in 1929

Mellon and Lamont Both Score Pessimism

Hoover's Economic Move Held Unprecedented

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Economic records of 1929 completed tonight revealed a year in which the national government through manifold agencies was drawn to more intimate association with, and participation in, the nation's industrial, commercial and agricultural life activity than has ever been effected in any peace-time era.

Higher officials who responded to the customary call for new year's statements on outlook for American prosperity in 1930, spoke in the light of twelve months of unusually close and persistent experience with developments of the business world, and found reason for basic optimism.

MELLON CONFIDENT

Secretary Mellon, prefacing his statement with a mention of the inevitable hazards of economic prophecy, declared that he could "see nothing in the present situation that is either menacing or warrants pessimism." Some seasonal slackness in winter months might be possible in trade and commerce, he said, but hardly more than ordinary.

"I have every confidence that there will be a revival of activity in the spring and that during the coming year the country will make steady progress," he continued. "In the credit situation the trend of money rates is downward. There is plenty of credit available and we have reason to expect that the rates for new capital in building construction and expansion will be such as to facilitate the promotion and accomplishment of new undertakings. The government's finances are in sound condition which warranted a cut in taxes and the government itself is in a position to do its part in helping the country to meet and solve the problems which are ahead."

Secretary Lamont said the "nature of the economic development in the United States is such that we may confidently predict, for the long run, a continuance of prosperity and progress."

LAMONT SEES PROSPERITY

"American business in 1929 reached higher levels than ever before, notwithstanding recessions in some lines in later months," he added. "Measured by quantities, the output of our manufacturing industries broke all previous records. A new high level was established in mineral production. Employment in manufacturing industry and wage payments were both considerably greater in 1929 than in the preceding year. Exports of American-manufactured goods reached the huge total of approximately $3,250,000,000. Broadly speaking, the business history of 1929 recorded the continuation of a movement which has been substantially unbroken for an exceptionally long period."

As to the farm future the Agriculture Department said the new year was beginning "with no depressing surpluses of food products to be worked off," although 1929 crops had been worth $85,000,000 more than those of 1928, and livestock sales in the same period $90,000,000 better than those of 1928.

The advance of the government toward association with vital economic national process was most marked in 1929 in the agricultural field, for the year end finds a Federal board, armed with $500,000,000 of Federal funds, overseeing the whole of national farm-product marketing.

HOOVER STEP SIGNIFICANT

Aside from the direct grappling with farm problems, the government's contact with business undertaken in 1929 included also the partial shaping of a new tariff policy, still uncomplete and in bitter controversy as 1930 begins. Secretary Mellon's mention of tax reduction and credit matters referred indirectly, also, to the long and action-filled period of the old year when the Federal Reserve system faced the increasing credit strain arising from ever-mounting security speculation that culminated in October and November with stock-exchange depression.

After the bursting of the speculative bubble came the significant step of the government into what was historically an unprecedented role. President Hoover, in the last months of 1929, summoned the leaders of finance, transportation, commerce, agriculture, and labor from all parts of the country to Washington, and with their cooperation, laid down a program of expanding capital expenditure, of instituting construction activity, and of taking a series of considered steps with the announced purpose of averting economic depression. The year closed with this demonstration of governmental participation in national economic life still in progress.

Oakland Killer to Hang Friday

SAN QUENTIN, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Louis Lazarus, slayer of William McFarlin, Oakland bank teller, in a hold-up, will enter the death cell at 4:30 p.m. tomorrow.

He is scheduled to hang Friday morning, his last appeal having failed. He was visited today by his fiancee, Mrs. Evelyn De Filipo of Los Angeles, and the latter's sister, Mrs. Jean O'Brien, wife of William O'Brien, also to hang, but with an appeal pending.

WELCH WILL HAVE FOE IN RACE FOR CONGRESS

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Police Judge George J. Steiger of San Francisco said today he plans to oppose Representative Richard J. Welch, Fifth California District, in the 1930 race for Congress. The Fifth District is one of the two making up the city and county of San Francisco.

JULIAN CASE CONSIDERED

U. S. Atty. McNabb to Consult Attorney-General on Federal Angles of Local Matters

BY ROBERT B. ARMSTRONG
"Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Samuel W. McNabb, United States Attorney for the Los Angeles district, arrived here today for conference with the Department of Justice officials and before he leaves Washington a decision may be reached as to the possible reopening by the government of the Julian Petroleum Corporation case. He expects to see Atty.-Gen. Mitchell before leaving and today spent most of the afternoon with Assistant Attorney-General Oscar R. Luhring.

Neither McNabb nor Luhring would be quoted for publication and the final decision may wait until Thursday when it will rest with Atty.-Gen. Mitchell.

McNabb expected on his arrival here to get away from Washington on January 2, if possible, but he has in addition to the new phase of the Julian case before the Department of Justice some income-tax prosecution cases, including some indictments against income-tax experts who acted for Hollywood stars. One of the cases to be discussed is the Berger case, where a conviction was found against the so-called expert. Commissioner of Internal Revenue Lucas will not return to Washington until Thursday or Friday and it will require his personal action on this and other cases before McNabb can arrive at a final decision.

McNabb will also confer with some of the officials of the Interior Department over titles to the San Pedro park site and other pending matters before he returns to the Coast.

While McNabb is prominently mentioned as a candidate for the Federal judgeship, to succeed Judge Henning, he declined to discuss the matter, but probably before he leaves Washington he may discuss the matter with Senator Shortridge. There are now at least fifteen candidates and no decision will be made for several days.

TARIFF ON SILVER TO BE SOUGHT

Western Senators Will Endeavor to Put Mining on Better Basis

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31.—Efforts to place silver mining operations in the West on a more profitable basis through a tariff of 30 cents a fine ounce are expected to stand out in the coming new tariff controversy as it affects raw minerals.

Western Senators, led by Pittman, Democrat, and Oddie, Republican, Nevada, the latter chairman of the Senate Mines Committee, will endeavor to line up support for Pittman's pending amendment providing a 30 per cent duty. Silver mine operators and union officials, also, appear to be taking an interest in the move.

Silver long has been a free list commodity. Although the United States is on an export basis—producing an average of 60,000,000 ounces annually, and consuming about 40,000,000—imports amount to approximately 100,000,000 and although much of this is subsequently exported, the Senators from the silver mining States contend the foreign product competes in the domestic market.

SUIT ASSERTS FILM COMBINE

On these grounds, he claims damages under the Sherman antitrust law.

OTHER DEFENDANTS

Other defendants named in the complaint include: Educational Film Exchanges, Inc.; Tiffany-Stahl Productions, Fox Theater Corporation, Adolph Zukor, Jesse H. Lasky, William Fox, Nicholas M. Schenck, the film boards of trade of the following cities: New York, Albany, Chicago, Buffalo, Dallas, Charlotte, Cincinnati, Cleveland, Denver, Des Moines, Detroit, Indianapolis, Kansas City, Los Angeles, Milwaukee, Memphis, Little Rock, Minneapolis, New Haven, New Orleans, Oklahoma City, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Portland, Or.; St. Louis, Salt Lake City, San Francisco, Washington, and the Northwest Film Board of Trade.

C. C. Pettijohn, general counsel of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, Inc., issued a statement regarding the suit brought by Abramson in which he said that "the defendants will insist that this case be tried."

"The allegations in the complaint are so ludicrous that no notice of the filing of the suit would be taken if it were not for the interesting fact that Senator Brookhart appears as trial counsel," he continued.

pletion of the Tia Juana-Ensenada highway, one of the main arteries of travel in Baja California; the completion of the Tia Juana dam; establishment of a $5,000,000 corporation in Mexico City for the manufacture of airplanes and farm machinery, and development of a colonization project in Lower California, whereby small farmers might acquire land at moderate cost. He said he will advocate the building of many rural schoolhouses and an additional large expenditure for teachers.

The Mexican official was met here by his brother, Capt. Jesus Tapia, member of his staff at Mexicali. Tomorrow the new Governor will celebrate a reunion of his family here, some of whom live in Sonora, Mex., and others in this city.

Escaped Texas Slayer Taken

WAXAHACHIE (Tex.) Dec. 31. (AP) After a manhunt lasting half the afternoon, Herman Riley, 19 years of age, confessed slayer of his parents, was captured late today, following his escape from the Ellis County Jail here.

Riley's trail was picked up by officers in a park here and after a chase of several miles he was found hiding under a vacant house. J. W. Estep, who escaped with Riley, had not been located.

Riley was charged with killing his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Riley, and wounding his brother, Walter, 17, at their home near here early this month.

WOMAN FOUND SLAIN

SEVENTY-TWO DIE IN PANIC

He grabbed this case and tried to carry it out of the building without alarming the audience. But it was so hot that he could not get beyond the vestibule.

FUMES START PANIC

There he called for the manager and between the two of them the box was thrown out a side door. Both suffered severe burns on their hands.

The smell of fumes from the film case and the commotion caused by its being thrown through the side door were what really started the panic. The children rushed to the opposite side of the theater away from the fumes but only trapped themselves. The manager pleaded with them to come back and go out the open exit, but they did not heed him.

Instead the terror-stricken youngsters fought to get out a door that was already jammed. They piled themselves breast high while wave after wave of gas swept over them, asphyxiating those who were not crushed to death in the first rush.

Another section of the panic-stricken audience started down the stairway from the balcony. One of them stumbled. Others fell with him and the conditions at the jammed exit were repeated at the foot of the steps.

NURSES BREAK DOWN

Word of the tragedy went through the town like wildfire. Even before the fire department and constables had reached the scene, the doors of the theater were besieged by frantic men and women. Others came in time to see heroic rescuers, protected only by wet handkerchiefs tied across their noses and mouths as makeshift gas masks, carrying out the broken and battered bodies of their small and loved ones.

The ambulance service of the city was inadequate for the emergency, so tram cars were commandeered to carry a steady stream of gasping and dying victims to the Royal Alexandra Infirmary. There even experienced nurses broke down and wept.

THEATER UNDAMAGED

Infirmary officials said that all the deaths that occurred there were caused by suffocation.

The theater itself was not damaged and the only fire loss was the destruction of the box of film.

Throughout the night the infirmary was the setting for scenes of infinite pathos as grief-stricken parents tried to identify their children or waited through the dragging hours for word from the wards where the injured were being watched and treated.

Late this evening, however, only thirty-seven injured children were still at the hospital. They are mostly suffering from shock, and all probably will be discharged tomorrow, explained one of the officials of the institution.

But this picture of hope was wiped out by the death scenes. All available space, even to the basement, was utilized for laying out the bodies of the dead.

tion of a complete severance of British connection and the establishment of a parallel government. So little support came to these leaders that their amendments were voted down without division.

Meanwhile at the conference of the National Liberal Federation of Madras, its president, Sir Phiroze Sethna, characterized the cry for independence as "chimera." He paid tribute to the good faith of Secretary of State for India Benn and declared the way to India's heart is to grant immediate and full responsible government and dominion status.

NAIDU CALLS LAHORE DECISIONS "SUICIDAL"

MADRAS (India) Dec. 31. (AP)—Dr. Varadarajulu Naidu, influential leader of the all-India Congress, today resigned his membership in the Congress and Provincial Congress Committee, after issuing a statement characterizing decisions of the meeting at Lahore as "suicidal."

He referred particularly to the resolution already past the executive committee demanding complete independence for India.

The Indian National Liberal Federation meeting here issued an appeal today to all parties in India declaring the federation's belief that the only rallying cry which might unite all interests is dominion status for India.

MESSENGER WHO STOLE $150,000 CAPTURED

MIAMI (Fla.) Dec. 31. (AP)—Chief of Detectives L. O. Scarboro announced today that securities totaling $150,000 said to have been stolen by F. H. Keeler, 24-year-old broker's messenger, from Paine, Webber & Co., of St. Paul, Minn., had been recovered here. Keeler was arrested.

CHARLES TAFT OF OHIO DIES

He Was Half-Brother of Former President

Public Revered Publisher for Philanthropies

Infirmities of Old Age Cause of Demise

CINCINNATI, Dec. 31. (AP)—Charles P. Taft, 86 years of age, Cincinnati publisher and philanthropist, died at his home here tonight.

Mr. Taft, a half-brother of William Howard Taft, Chief Justice of the United States, had been unconscious the past three days suffering from the infirmities of old age.

A year and a half ago he was stricken with pneumonia at his summer home at Murray Bay, Quebec, and never fully recovered from that illness.

Mr. Taft was known internationally for his philanthropies and contributions to art, education and the development of modern journalism.

His sickness was known only to intimate friends, and the Cincinnati public, which revered him, knew nothing of the anxious moments of the past three days when he hovered between life and death.

MANY ENTERPRISES

Metaphorically at least and in many respects literally, Charles Phelps Taft for more than a quarter of a century was the entrepreneur of Cincinnati.

The Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra, the May Festival and the Cincinnati Zoological Gardens with their summer operas owe their existence and prosperity to Mr. Taft and his wife, Mrs. Annie Sinton Taft.

Other enterprises which marked the progress of the city and which were due to his activities include the Cincinnati Suburban Bell Telephone Company; the reorganized Cincinnati and Electric Company, the former Columbia Gas and Electric Company which introduced natural gas to Cincinnati; the reorganized Cincinnati street railway; the Dixie Terminal Building, which provides a terminal for all street car lines from Cincinnati into Kentucky, and the suspension bridge, one of the first of its type in the United States and the first structure built across the Ohio River linking Ohio and Kentucky.

A patron of the arts and education, his last munificent gift to the city, made jointly with Mrs. Taft, was their Pike-street residence, the greatest art treasure house of the Middle West, with its collection of paintings and porcelains, now valued at considerably more than its purchase price which was in excess of $5,000,000.

At the same time Mr. and Mrs. Taft gave $1,000,000 to endow the Cincinnati Symphony Orchestra on condition that the city raise a fund of $2,000,000 further to endow the Cincinnati Institute of Fine Arts, the orchestra, and promote cultural influence in Cincinnati.

VETERAN JOURNALIST

As the publisher of the Cincinnati Times-Star, Mr. Taft entered the journalistic field in 1879 and contributed to the development of the modern newspaper.

Besides his varied interests in Cincinnati, Mr. Taft ventured with some success into politics; was part owner for several years of the Chicago and Philadelphia National League baseball clubs, and was instrumental in the development of Southern Texas as president of the Coleman Fulton Pasture Company, familiarly known as the "Taft Ranch," along the Gulf Coast of Texas. The towns of Gregory, Portland and Sinton are located on the original ranch ground. He also established the town of Taft. The cotton industry with the manufacture of by-products was successfully carried on and as the country developed the land was sold to farmers.

OTHER INTERESTS

Mr. Taft was born at Cincinnati, December 21, 1843, the eldest son of the late Judge Alphonso Taft and his first wife, Fannie Phelps Taft. His father served as Secretary of War and Attorney-General in the Cabinet of President Grant during the latter's second term. The son was graduated from Yale University in 1864 and from Columbia University Law School two years later. He then spent three years in further study at Heidelberg and at the Sorbonne.

Returning to Cincinnati, Mr. Taft formed a legal partnership with Gen. Edward F. Noyes. It was terminated after two years when Gen. Noyes was elected Governor of Ohio and Mr. Taft to the Ohio House of Representatives. Mr. Taft also served one term in Congress. He was Presidential elector at large from Ohio in 1904 and president of the Electoral College which formally elected Theodore Roosevelt President and Charles W. Fairbanks Vice President. As a delegate at large from Ohio to the Republican national convention of 1908 he had the pleasure of voting to nominate his half-brother, William Howard Taft, who became twenty-seventh President of the United States and later Chief Justice of the United States.

On December 4, 1873, Mr. Taft married Miss Annie Sinton, daughter of David Sinton of Cincinnati. They celebrated their golden wedding anniversary in 1923. Although Mr. Taft's early ambition was for the legal profession, he abandoned practice when, with his father-in-law, he bought the controlling interest in the Cincinnati Times. A year later that journal was consolidated with the Star, the opposition afternoon newspaper, and from then on Mr. Taft devoted himself enthusiastically to the publishing and supervising of the Times-Star. It became one of the most powerful Republican organs in the Ohio Valley and was one of the first newspapers to revolt against "yellow journalism."

With the reorganization of the Times-Star he inaugurated a policy of decency and fairness on the theory that the public should have that which dictated to its best interests.

He soon found that the public was above the kind of news copy it formerly had received and his judgment was vindicated with the prosperity of the Times-Star from the start.

NUMEROUS GIFTS

Mr. Taft's gifts to the University of Cincinnati were many. They included a department of heliotherapy for the treatment of tuberculosis, which he installed in 1924 and maintained for three years. He also made substantial gifts to the Hebrew Union College of Cincinnati, to Yale, Princeton and Harvard universities and to the Walter Hines Page School of International Relations at Johns Hopkins University.

With Mrs. Taft he established the Anna Louise Inn, a home for young working girls of limited earnings. They built a unit to Christ Hospital in memory of their grandson, Charles Taft Semple, who died in childhood.

In 1919 Mr. Taft presented to the city of Manchester, Eng., a bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln, the work of George Gray Barnard, the American sculptor. It was a replica of the Lincoln statue given by Mr. Taft to the city of Cincinnati.

Mr. Taft was a communicant of the Protestant Episcopal Church and a thirty-third degree Mason.

RESIGNATION OF DE RIVERA REPORTED

King Reserving Decision on Acceptance, According to Havas Dispatch

PARIS, Dec. 31. (AP)—The French frontier town of Hendaye relayed to the Havas News Agency tonight a report from Madrid that Premier Primo De Rivera, head of the Spanish government since 1923, has tendered King Alfonso the joint resignation of the Cabinet. The King was reported to have reserved decision and promised to communicate with the Premier within three days.

It was reported also that the Finance Minister had handed his resignation to the Premier on Monday night and that even if the other ministers retain office he will maintain his resignation. The joint resignation was said to have been presented this morning.

Primo De Rivera has said on several occasions recently that the time was approaching for a moderation of the dictatorship which he has wielded. He indicated that he is desirous of retiring to private life. Other observers have prophesied the end of the present form of government before the end of 1930, but there has been nothing to indicate that the change was so imminent.

THOSE CRAFTY SUPERVISORS!

a week ago authorizing all this and then fixed up another resolution giving six of themselves a ten-day leave "to absent themselves from the State" at the expense of the fund that operates under clauses containing one which tells how "to encourage trade and immigration."

Seems some reports have drifted in about some excellent trading possibilities in right smart horse flesh at the new track in Agua Caliente. It is merely coincidence, of course, that the track is in Mexico, but that's all the merrier because the boys can get in a few licks on the promotion of more travel across the border. One can't blame Supervisors for the location the geographers picked out for Agua Caliente.

Of course, this border trip is assumptive. There is no assumption about the new finance committee that will be on the job when the boys get home. The forecast is cloudy—but warmer.

For one thing, Superior Judge Conlan today issued a temporary restraining order at the request of Adolph Uhl, taxpayer, which prevents Auditor Boyle from giving official sanction to the amounts drawn until he shows cause that the appropriations are entirely legitimate. He is cited to do this January 7. Uhl, who is a consistent pryer into municipal affairs and expenditures, remarks in the document which brought the restraining order that the supervisorial jaunt is a "whoopee trip."

Common Advance Will be Executive's Only Aim

torneys lacking authority to initiate prosecutions and no police assistance to bring criminals to justice and hamstrung in many other directions by archaic institutions and regulations altogether out of keeping with the necessities of the law. The President realized to the greatest extent the problem presented by prohibition before he took the oath of office. This realization influenced him to appoint a commission to study the whole question of law enforcement from every angle. The program he will submit to Congress will be based upon exact knowledge and definite conclusions.

The economic depression which followed the crash of the securities markets constitutes another problem, but one well on the way to final solution. It was a problem in the sense that it required delicate handling. It is being handled with deft precision and it is the view of the administration that unless uncontrollable forces intervene the nation should be on stable financial and economic bases within the next three months.

NORMALITY NEAR

Decided action by the administration at the beginning of what threatened to be a widespread panic checked the course on its sweep and as a result Mr. Hoover is confident that there will be general restoration of confidence within the period named. The effects of the depressions of 1903 and 1907-08 were general for from eighteen months to two years. Mr. Hoover looks forward with confidence to early restoration of business on a sound footing.

Mr. Hoover does not share depressing views of the outcome of the London conference on naval disarmament. The latest French note has not convinced him as it has many others that France will not consistently be able to enter the conference. As his attitude is interpreted the President is convinced that an agreement of the five powers will be reached at London. It is his view that France and Italy are not only certain to enter the conference but that each is anxious for a solution of the naval arms problem.

TECHNICIANS TO ADVISE

In this connection it is pointed out that the London conference will differ greatly from the conference that failed at Geneva, principally in that the naval technicians will officiate in an advisory capacity only. Mr. Hoover's advices are that France, while now demanding a place in the spotlight, will not seek to disrupt the London meeting by too insistent an attitude of national self-interest.

Mr. Hoover entertains the hope of a constructive year in so far as improvements in government economy are concerned. He will seek to have accepted the principle of reorganization of the government departments. He is represented as feeling that strides should be made in this direction beyond the concentration of prohibition enforcement in the Department of Justice. He has just proposed linking all present agencies dealing with war veterans with the Veterans' Bureau. He is working on reorganization of the Indian Bureau and proposals for bringing together various arms of the government dealing with education.

MORE COMMISSIONS

More commissions will materialize during the year, it is safe to predict. Mr. Hoover claims no patent on the idea of appointing commissions. He has appointed many of them, considering them useful by way of getting at the truth of things.

An important change with legislative ramifications will come if the President succeeds in setting up a Federal commission in which will be unified the regulation of communications, including radio, and taking from the Interstate Commerce Commission jurisdiction over telephone and telegraph systems.

A complete change in the Federal commission for regulating power will be sought. The President is convinced that the power commission now made up of three Cabinet officers, should be a more permanent body manned by officials not burdened as are the Secretaries of War, Agriculture and the Interior.

NO POLITICAL WORRIES

The President is not concerned over the political situation of either party. His attitude concerning the Senate coalition, it is understood, is that it is the product of an always-present opposition in legislative bodies and that its members are less able to coalesce on constructive than opposition issues, scurrying back to their respective parties around election time.

Looking upon his job as mainly a housekeeping one, so to speak, Mr. Hoover is bent upon strengthening as the year advances the administrative effectiveness of every branch of the government. By doing that, and realizing that the newspaper headlines most often are given to happenings involving strife and conflict, and to extraneous matters, he believes that the estate of the American people will be materially bettered during 1930.

LOWMAN BACKS COAST GUARDS

Killings Unfortunate But Unavoidable, He Says

Declares Rum-Runners Can Blame Only Themselves

Prohibition Row Continues; Brookhart Hits Mellon

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Renewed indication that Federal officers who use stern measures in enforcing the dry laws will be given the support of their superiors was given today by Seymour Lowman, Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, who said that the killing of three rum-runners off Newport, R. I., Sunday, by Coast Guardsmen was "unfortunate but unavoidable."

Lowman's blunt statement followed one equally as blunt by Rear-Admiral Billard, commandant of the Coast Guard, which said the Guard mean business, and added the law could not be enforced by "soft words" and "amiable gestures."

NO COMMENT

Neither Lowman nor Coast Guard headquarters, however, had any comment to make on the report from New London, Ct., that seven members of the Coast Guard had been arrested in connection with the theft of liquor confiscated from a captured rum-runner. It was said that no report on the incident had been received here and that the commandant at New London was handling the matter.

Lowman's statement, which also said that the smugglers who were killed had no one but themselves to blame, temporarily directed attention from ramifications of the present bitter row over prohibition in other official circles, notably the Senate.

WHITE HOUSE SILENT

The White House today maintained the silence it has kept since the deluge of statements began shortly before the Senate recessed for the holiday period. There was much interest, however, in the probable result that a letter Senator Borah of Idaho, has written the President may have. Senator Borah has been severe in his criticism of law enforcement and enforcement personnel, asserting that a change was needed from "top to bottom" and it is known that the communication he sent the Chief Executive was about prohibition.

Mr. Hoover has indicated he will take no action until Congress has named a joint Congressional committee to consider prohibition enforcement. The Senate has passed the resolution for the committee but the House has yet to act.

Senators here have not commented on the killing of the three rum-runners, but two who are at home for the holidays, Walsh of Massachusetts, and Metcalf of Rhode Island, have demanded thorough investigations.

Meanwhile Senator Brookhart of Iowa, another Republican dry, reiterated his demand for the resignation of Secretary Mellon and announced he is going to have much to say when the Senate meets.

DECISION WANTED

With it becoming more and more apparent that prohibition is going to be a subject of discussion if not legislation, after Congress reconvenes, Senator Jones suggested that the Department of Justice press for a decision by the Supreme Court of the question of the culpability of purchasers of liquor.

Without expressing his opinion of the bill of Senator Sheppard, Democrat, Texas, to make buyers of liquor equally guilty with sellers, Senator Jones asked that the court pass on a section of the Volstead Act which mentions purchasers of intoxicants.

LIQUOR STEALING QUIZ COMPLETED

NEW LONDON (Ct.) Dec. 31. (AP) With the investigation into the theft of liquor by Coast Guardsmen from the seized rum runner Flor Del Mar completed, preparations were being made tonight for the disposition of the four rum-running boats captured by the Coast Guard since Saturday night.

In announcing the completion of the investigation into the liquor thefts, Capt. L. T. Chalker, chief of staff of the destroyer force, today said that five men have been confined to brig for court-martial. Several other Guardsmen who were said to have been intoxicated at the base are on report.

Capt. Chalker denied reports that $75,000 worth of liquor had disappeared from the storehouse. Not more than six cases of liquor, he said, were stolen Sunday and nearly all of it has been recovered.

BLACK DUCK SURVIVOR PLEADS NOT GUILTY

PROVIDENCE (R. I.) Dec. 31. (AP) Charles Travers of Fair Haven, Mass, sole survivor of the crew of the rum-runner Black Duck, upon which three men were killed by Coast Guardsmen Sunday morning, pleaded not guilty when arraigned here tonight before United States Commissioner Matteson on a charge of smuggling under the National Prohibition Act.

Travers was brought here under custody of a United States deputy marshal fro mthe Newport Hospital, where he had been kept under guard during treatment for a gunshot wound in the arm. He was released in $10,000 bail for trial January 16.

COAST GUARDS HELD FOR MANSLAUGHTER

BUFFALO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Three Coast Guardsmen involved in the fatal shooting December 25 of Eugene F. Downey, Jr., suspected rum-runner, were being held for the grand jury on charges of manslaughter, second degree, as a result of their arraignment this afternoon in City Court. The Guardsmen, Randolph H. Thompson, Asa Ennes and Orville La Grant, pleaded not guilty. They were ordered held under surety bonds of $5000 each.

Their cases will be among the first presented to the grand jury when it sits on January 6, said Dist.-Atty. Moore, who conducted the inquest leading to the arraignment.

JURIST SPURNS FEDERAL POST

Jones of Tennessee Balks at I.C.C. Position

Senate, However, Still Has Name Before It

W. E. Lee of Idaho Urged for Rail Body Job

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—While one jurist, Robert M. Jones of Tennessee, was seeking to avoid service on the Interstate Commerce Commission today, the friends of another, William E. Lee of Idaho, were urging his appointment to that government agency.

In a statement at his home in Knoxville, Chancellor Jones—whose nomination has been held up in the Senate on objection of Senator Black of Alabama—said he did not wish to serve because he would have to make decisions which would be attacked in some sections of the country.

He has not yet communicated to the President his decision against service on the commission, and consequently, there was no statement at the White House. Should he insist that his name not be considered further by the Senate, his nomination probably will be withdrawn.

With Mr. Jones refusing to serve, the President would have to look elsewhere in the South for a successor to Richard V. Taylor of Mobile, Ala., whose term expires at midnight tonight. Before Jones was selected, Mr. Hoover considered the qualifications of more than a dozen others, among them A. J. Maxwell, State interial revenue collector for North Carolina.

Friends of Chief Justice Lee of the Idaho Supreme Court are hopeful he will be selected from the dozen or more men whose names have been advanced for the post made vacant by the resignation of Johnston B. Campbell, effective the 6th inst. Justice Lee is under serious consideration.

JONES DECLARES HE CANNOT ACCEPT JOB

KNOXVILLE (Tenn.) Dec. 31. (AP) Chancellor Robert M. Jones of the Knoxville Chancery Court, whose nomination for Interstate Commerce Commissioner was sent to the Senate by President Hoover before the holidays, today declined the appointment. He said he cannot accept, "even if confirmed by the Senate."

The nomination of Chancellor Jones, which met opposition from several Senators who contended that his qualifications had not been sufficiently established, was sent to a committee of the Senate for further consideration.

"I do not see how any man could go on the commission," Chancellor Jones said today, "and feel absolutely free and unembarrassed in discharge of his duties under his oath, for he knows that however righteous his decisions may be, the fiery wrath of some sections, class or interests, is sure to fall on his head. I do not want the place under such conditions."

The chancellor is a Republican.

RUMOR COUPLES FORD AND STUTZ

Gorrell Statement Taken as Basis for Report

Hudson-Essex Deal Thrown in for Good Measure

Indiana Auto Maker Flays Creditors for Suits

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—A possible entry of the Ford interests, led by Edsel Ford, into the all-price class automobile-manufacturing business was discussed here tonight as one explanation for possible developments regarding the future of the Stutz Motor Car Company of America.

The two present Stutz products, plus the often-rumored Ford light six, the present Ford and the Lincoln would provide the nucleus for such a program, it is pointed out, and Hudson-Essex might be an added unit.

E. S. Gorrell, Stutz president, returned here today and issued a statement, in which he asserted Stutz is solvent and unless pressed too closely will remain so. Gorrell said he was in Cleveland Monday with three financial leaders, one of whom was Charles M. Schwab, head of Bethlehem Steel, and supposedly principal Stutz stockholder, when announcement arrived of filing here of suits against Stutz asking appointment of a receiver and declaration of bankruptcy.

Merger of Stutz with another unnamed automobile unit to manufacture automobiles "ranging from $1000 to $10,000 in price" was being discussed, Gorrell said. The conference, he asserted, was recessed by filing of the suits. Persons not connected with Stutz scouted Gorrell's attack on filing of these suits, saying they might be regarded as almost friendly in nature and that their proposed filing has been known for some time.

The possibility was advanced that persons controlling Stutz might be seeking to drive its stock price down on the New York Curb so that they might profit on the rebound if Stutz is merged. After the so-called Allan Ryan corner in Stutz stock in 1921 its price leaped to $724 a share. Today it was $1.87, up 25 cents over Monday. Stutz now has $4,000,000 assets, Gorrell said today, with $2,250,000 immediate assets. It owes only one month's bills, he said.

URUGUAY GIVEN AIR-MAIL GIFTS

Rates Reduced and Country Included in Chain

New Schedule Becomes Effective Today

West Coast Line Will Open Within Fortnight

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Reduction of postal rates and the inclusion of Uruguay in the aerial chain are the new year gifts of the United States to the all-American air-mail system.

Lower air-mail rates between the southern republics and the United States go into effect tomorrow, and the Postoffice Department announced today that the air-mail service over the west coast route will leave the United States January 11 for Montevideo.

The new rates reduce the postage on letters carried between the United States and Buenos Aires and Montevideo to 55 cents from 75 cents a half-ounce. The inclusion of Montevideo in the air service establishes a route 12,000 miles long, the longest in the world.

It will extend from San Francisco on the west, and Montreal, Can., in the north, southward through Miami, Fla., Panama, and Santiago De Chile. The total elapsed time from Canada to Uruguay now made possible is eleven days, five hours and fifteen minutes, and less than eleven days from New York.

The mother cannot speak or write English and the services of an interpreter were required for the mother to give her consent to the minor daughter's marriage. The couple appeared at the Courthouse with the bride and her attendants in all-white costumes.

SCIENCE COMES DOWN TO EARTH

More Gold (in Pay Envelop) Sought by Wizards

Should Have Salary Rise, They're Informed

Des Moines Session Then Hears About Heavens

BY WATSON DAVIS

DES MOINES, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—College professors in America's leading university receive less salaries now than they did in 1900, if the actual purchasing power values of the salaries are considered, Dr. W. A. Noyes of the University of Illinois charged in a report to the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"Great leaders in science must be provided our universities," said Dr. Noyes, "and to do that we must pay such men adequate salaries. Young men of promise should be given adequate time and facilities for research and they should be promoted when they have shown their worth."

Taking into consideration the depreciation of money and the increase in America's production, Dr. Noyes declared that a professorship that paid $2000 in 1900 should receive $6000 now. While the income of citizens on the average has increased 200 per cent, that of the professors has increased less than 100 per cent in gold values.

Statistics gathered by a committee headed by Dr. Rodney H. True of University of Pennsylvania showed that professors and research men in science receive much less money for their services to the community than executives or even salesmen of commercial companies. Dr. W. Hardin Hughes pointed out that increases in salaries to scientists would not be a charity to underpaid men and women, but part payment of the debt of society to science for the services that it has rendered.

CAST EYES TO SKIES

The great stellar system which we see in the sky as stars is whirling around a very distant and massive center much in the way that the planets revolve around the sun. This important discovery was announced by Dr. J. S. Plaskett of the Dominion Astrophysical Observatory, Victoria, Canada, in his address to the astronomers. Through lengthy observations of over 800 stars known as the B type, Dr. Plaskett was able to explain apparent rushing away of these stars from the earth and sun at velocities of several miles a second being due to a gigantic rotation of the galactic system itself.

As in the cosmically insignificant solar system the stars near the center revolve faster than those farther out. The center of the great galactic rotation is in the direction of the constellation of Sagittarius. Astronomers hailed this as an important step in the exploration of the universe in which we live.

LIVING IN THE SUN

We earth dwellers and the rest of the solar system really live in the sun itself. This startling suggestion was advanced by Dr. Harlan T. Stetson of Ohio Wesleyan University as a result of the study of the sun's corona, the mysterious pearly light that is seen surrounding the darkened solar disk at a total solar eclipse. He believes that this envelope of extremely fine matter, probably gaseous as in the main body of the sun, extends outward so far that even the most outlying planets are enveloped. The mass of tenuous gas of the corona glows under impact of the streams of electrons that are constantly poured out of the sun.

Cessation of the fight against the Mediterranean fruit fly in Florida was termed "unthinkable" in a resolution adopted by the crop protection institute meeting here. Commending the remarkable accomplishment of the United States Department of Agriculture and the State Plant Board of Florida in fighting the pest, the resolution presented by Dr. E. D. Ball, former Assistant Secretary of Agriculture, called upon Congress and the people to support the project to final and complete eradication. Congress now has under consideration a $15,000,000 appropriation for the fruit-fly war.

Serving with the Governor on this committee will be representative men from all of the fifty-eight counties of California. Announcement of the complete list of committee members will be made shortly.

The general committee will hold its initial organization meeting here the 11th inst., it was announced.

SUGAR LOBBYING SECRETS BARED

Letters Revealing Shortage of Funds Read

Aid Sought from Cuban for Paying Crowder

Ex-Army Officer Declared to be Efficient

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Information that American sugar interests in Cuba had run short of funds to carry on their opposition in Washington to a higher sugar tariff and had sought assistance from Cuban mills in paying for the employment of Enoch H. Crowder, former American Ambassador to the island republic, was disclosed in letters made public today by the Senate Lobby Committee.

Writing June 5, last, to Aurelio Portuendo of the Cuban Trading Company of Havana, H. C. Lakin, president of the Cuba company, said Crowder had been of much help to the Cuba interests in Washington since January 15 and had an "approach to Senators which is not excelled by that of anybody."

Lakin said he understood Crowder's "arrangements" with the Cuban mills for work in Washington on tariff would terminate September 1, and added that he was anxious to learn if the mills had any intention or would be willing to extend the retired army officer's "retainer" for a few months more "until this fight is finished."

PORTUENDO'S REPLY

Replying June 12, Portuendo said he had been endeavoring to see President Machado to lay the matter before him, but had been unable to do so. He agreed that Crowder had been "useful" in Washington and said he would try to see Machado later. Whether this interview ever took place was not disclosed, only these two letters being made public by Chairman Caraway of the committee.

Saying he had been paying Crowder's expenses, but that Crowder had declined to accept any compensation, Lakin informed Portuendo that he expected some difficulty in finding enough money to continue meeting the expenses in view of the postponement of action on the sugar tariff.

If the mills would take care of Crowder's compensation for three months "it would help just that much," Lakin added.

CROWDER NOT QUIZZED

He asked Portuendo to see Machado or whoever was the "proper person," and continued:

"If the mills can do nothing, I shall have to try to get the money somewhere, because I know Crowder could not afford to work three or four months without pay, though he would be patriotic to Cuba's cause to do so."

A decision on the sugar tariff is not expected in the Senate until February. Lakin recently testified before the Lobby Committee that Crowder had prepared a memorandum on a proposed plan of restricting duty-free sugar imports from the Philippines and had learned of an army general staff plan to make no effort to keep traffic lanes open between the United States and Philippines in event of war.

No effort has been made by the Lobby Committee to examine Crowder. The War Department has been looking into the report of disclosures of war plans.

HENRY FORD ASSAILED IN LELAND SUIT

"Theatrical Gesture" Laid to Him in Asserted Oral Pact on Lincoln Deal

PONTIAC (Mich.) Dec. 31. (AP)—The asserted oral agreement made between Henry Ford and Henry M. Leland at the time the former took over the original Lincoln Motor Company was called "a typical Ford theatrical gesture" today by William Henry Gallagher, attorney for the Leland interests, in closing arguments in their $6,000,000 suit against the Fords.

Arguments on the motion of Henry and Edsel Ford to dismiss the amended bill of complaint filed by Henry M. and Wilfred C. Leland in an attempt to obtain sums asserted to be due former stockholders of the Lincoln company were completed today. Judge Covert took the matter under advisement after asking counsel to file briefs.

Today's arguments were broken by spirited tilts between Gallagher and Clifford B. Longley, counsel for the Fords.

"You change the facts as fast as you set them up," Longley commented at one point in Gallagher's argument.

"Almost as bad as Henry Ford does," Gallagher retorted. "Ford promised to pay the stockholders of the Lincoln company just like he promised to pay back to the government the amount of money made on war contracts."

Ford counsel hope to keep the amended bill out of court, thus depriving the Lelands of any future action because of the statute of limitations. Judge Covert threw out the original bill. The State court in an opinion last February said an amended bill might be filed.

RECEIVER ASKED FOR KANSAS AIR COMPANY

WICHITA (Kan.) Dec. 31. (AP)—Appointment of a receiver for the Cessna Aircraft Company, makers of commercial airplanes here, was asked today in a suit filed in District Court by F. M. Munoz, a stockholder, who asserts mismanagement by Clyde V. M. Cessna, president. Munoz asserts there was $100,000 deficiency for 1929 although the company did $750,000 worth of business and sold much stock. The directors failed to agree on a plan for future operations, the petition says, and states there are unpaid obligations upon which creditors threaten litigation.

SHE DECIDES TO LET MEN FOLKS GOVERN

Mrs. Pearl P. Oldfield

WOMAN LAW MAKER WILL DROP ROLE

Mrs. Pearl Oldfield, House of Representatives, Will Not Run Next Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—The ship of state should be guided by the menfolk, in the opinion of Mrs. Pearl Peden Oldfield, one of the eight women in the House of Representatives.

That is one reason Mrs. Oldfield will not seek re-election next year. She plans to return with her aged mother to Batesville, Ark., where she lived with her husband, William A. Oldfield, Democratic whip in the House, before his death in November, 1928.

"There are so many other things a woman can do that a man can't," Mrs. Oldfield said today. "Why not do them and let the men do what they can?"

Shot in Error, Dry Raider Dies

COLUMBUS (Kan.) Dec. 31. (AP)—Wounded during an exchange of shots between two parties of dry raiders, each of whom believed the other to be moonshiners, John Crawford, a deputy constable, died today as officials continued an investigation of the affair.

Ora Folk, a deputy sheriff, wounded in the left lung and head, is recovering.

The shooting occurred Sunday night at the mouth of an abandoned coal mine five miles north of Columbus. Both groups of officers were seeking a still believed operated in the mine.

NEVADA CLEARS FOGS OVER DAM

Colorado River Commission Issues Statement

Payment Not Compelled, But Act's Intent Cited

Board Opposes Low Rate on Los Angeles' Water

RENO (Nev.) Dec. 31. (AP)—Commenting upon the opinion given by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell that the Boulder Canyon project act does not compel the payment of revenues to the States of Arizona and Nevada during the amortization period, Nevada's Colorado River Commission issued a statement today that Nevada has never otherwise construed the act. However, it is said, the act provides that such revenues may be paid by the Interior Department, and, furthermore, it declares, it was the celar intent of Congress that they should be paid.

The Boulder Canyon project act provides, the Nevada commission says, that from the excess earnings of the project the Secretary of the Interior, after the periodical payments are made to the government, "shall pay to the State of Arizona 18 3-4 per centum of such excess revenues, and to the State of Nevada 18 3-4 per centum of such revenues." The excess revenues to which this language of the act refers are thoes which might arise during the amortization period.

INTENT CITED

Furthermore, the Nevada commission says, when the Senate Committee on Irrigation reported the Boulder Canyon project act to the Senate it said, in referring to the amendment relating to the wholesale charge that shall be made for power: "The theory of this amendment is to keep the rates as high as economic conditions will justify in order, first, that the government will receive its money at as early a date as possible; secondly, that there will be excess profits for the States of Arizona and Nevada."

Reaffirming its opposition to the suggestion of Secretary Wilbur that the city of Los Angeles be supplied with domestic water from the Boulder Canyon reservoir at the rate of 25 cents an acre foot, the Nevada commission again declared that the proposed rate is far below actual storage cost, and that it was not the intent of Congress to "give away" the benefits of the project to anyone.

POWER BID EXPLAINED

The Nevada commission also says that Nevada's bid of 1.75 mills per kilowatt hour would not "bankrupt the bidder," as declared by Secretary Wilbur. Its statement concludes:

"Nevada has considered thoroughly every angle of the power production and market requirements, and stands ready to make firm contracts for any amount from one-third to all of the firm power generated at Boulder Dam at its bid price of 1.75 mills per kilowatt hour."

PHOENIX DAM PARLEY SCHEDULED FOR 20TH INST.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Monday, January 20, now appears as the probable date of the final lower basin Boulder Dam conference at Phoenix. Secretary Wilbur said today that this date seems the one that best suits the three States involved—California, Arizona and Nevada—and that it is agreeable to him so long as a report comes to him by February 1.

Dr. Wilbur first suggested January 6 as the date for the conference, but Nevada came back with a request that it be held one week later. This did not suit Arizona, with the result it now is being postponed two weeks to January 20.

BRIBE FUGITIVE GIVES SELF UP

Neal McK. Heath Convicted in Opium Case in 1926

Job in Los Angeles Left to Pay Prison Debt

Sentence of Two Years on McNeil Island Begun

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Neal McKay Heath, one of two convicted principals in the Husar opium bribery case in Shanghai in 1926, surrendered to United States Marshal Esola here today after being a fugitive since last February.

Heath is under sentence to serve eighteen months in the Federal penitentiary at McNeil Island.

He was convicted of being a go-between in the $25,000 bribe case involving Leonard Goodwin Husar, then United States Attorney in Shanghai. Husar was sentenced to two years at McNeil Island. He is serving his sentence.

"I wanted to start the new year right," Heath explained to Esola. "I couldn't stand it any longer, and although I was making good in Los Angeles as secretary and treasurer of a large real-estate firm, I decided to surrender and square my debt with the government.

"I haven't had a moment's peace in months. Thank God it's all over!"

Husar and Heath were implicated by Husar's wife, Mrs. Mary Jo Grubb Husar of Santa Ana, when she sued her husband for divorce in Los Angeles in 1926 after leaving him in Shanghai. She charged Husar had accepted $25,000 for the sale of government evidence against an internationally known narcotics smuggler, later named as A. M. Tracey Woodward, an American resident of Shanghai who was formerly in the American consular service at Bushere, Persia.

Mrs. Husar charged Heath had conveyed the money from Woodward to Husar.

After his conviction Heath obtained release from McNeil Island on a writ of habeas corpus because of a technicality. The writ was granted by Federal Judge Cushman of Tacoma.

CIVIL WAR MAIL JUST DELIVERED

Letter Written in Prison Camp Finally Reaches Kin of Writer

EVANSVILLE (Ind.) Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—A letter written from a Confederate prison camp has been delivered to relatives of the writer, dead for fifty years. The letter, found in a lost bag of mail at Cleveland, was written by Thomas Lilly, Morganfield, Ky., youthful member of Breckenridge's brigade, to James Anderson, Company G, Fifth Kentucky Volunteers.

An uncle, Joe Lilly, Morganfield, read of the finding of the mail. He recognized the name on one of the letters and through the Daughters of the Confederacy forwarded the letter to Mrs. Julia Waller, Evansville, sister of Lilly.

CHINA EXPLAINS JUDICIAL POLICY

Extraterritoriality Decree Discussed at Washington

Abolition Note Described as Statement of Intentions

Not Addressed to Individual Powers, Says Minister

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Minister Wu of China late today discussed with officials of the State Department the decree of the Nanking government declaring the abolition tomorrow of the extraterritorial privileges of foreign nations in China.

While the nature of the discussions was not disclosed it is understood that the Minister informed the American government that the abolition decree was not addressed to a of the interested powers, but was merely a statement of policy by the Chinese government.

Dr. Stanley K. Hornbeck, chief of the far eastern division of the department, was the principal American official at the discussions. He will take up the conversations between Minister Wu and department officials at the point at which they were left by Nelson T. Johnson, former assistant Secretary in charge of far eastern affairs, who leaves next Monday to assume the duties of his new post as Minister to China.

POPE'S SUDDEN EXIT STIRS ROW

Unheralded Departure From Vatican Under Fire

Italy Believes He Ought to Have Given Notice

(Copyright, 1929, Chicago Tribune.)

ROME, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Pope Pius's unheralded departure from Vatican City a few days ago to visit the St. John Lateran Basilica, during which the Pontiff crossed Rome almost unbeknown to anyone, has brought up another question about how the Lateran treaty and concordat is to be interpreted.

In Italian governmental circles it is maintained that the sovereign Pontiff, in view of his rank and position as ruler of an independent state, however small, should give at least twenty-four hours' advance notice of his departures from the Vatican to Italian soil. For this first departure to St. John Lateran Basilica, the Pontiff warned the district police of the Borga quarter, near the Vatican, only an hour in advance.

Diplomatic suggestions to this effect may be made to the Vatican State Department.

BITTER INCIDENTS

It is no secret in Rome that the Pontiff's unannounced exit into Italian territory has not had a pleasant effect in governmental circles. On the other hand, in Vatican circles it is pointed out that the Pope desired to make his first visit outside of the Vatican private and sacred, because he feared that if special honors and ceremonies were arranged for him by the Italian government, it might give an undesirable impression abroad—that is, it might lead to the belief that the Pope is not the universal spiritual ruler, but more identified with Italy than with the other Catholic countries.

For this reason the Pontiff desired to give no opportunity for creating this impression.

Incidents of bitter character frequently are marking the relations between the church and the state in spite of the concordat. Their course is chiefly over the question of the education of Italy's youth. Some explanation was given tonight, for the first time in the public prints, about the reasons for the Pope's bitter Christmas Eve complaints about interference with his press and with the Catholic action movement.

An article in Regima Fascista, the organ of Sig. Roberto Farinacci, former secretary of the Fascist party, indicates there are fears among some of the local Fascist authorities that the local leaders of the Catholic action movement may try to revive the old and defunct Popular party, of which Abbe Don Sturzo once was leader.

REASON OFFERED

Sig. Farinacci asserts that the trouble between the provincial Fascists and Catholic action leaders, is because of improper persons being leaders of the Catholic movement.

"The bad relations existing at present have their origin in conflicts between Fascism and the Catholic action movement in some of the provinces, where the Fascist authorities complain, that the Catholic-action leaders, against the orders of the Pope not to meddle in politics, are making trouble," says the Regima Fascista.

The plea is made that the church should choose only those who will be strictly loyal and faithful to the Lateran Concordat terms to be the leaders of the Catholic action movement.

LIVINGSTON BEQUEST TO U.S.C. LEGAL

Appellate Court Decision Gives $200,000 Fund to Local University

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31. (AP)—The Third District Court of Appeal upheld today the Los Angeles Superior Court's judgment approving a clause in the will of the late Sarah P. Livingston donating $200,000 to the University of Southern California.

The case was appealed from the Superior Court's judgment by Frank Bryson, administrator of the Livingston will. The appellant contended, among other things, that the university can not accept the donation under terms of the will because it is not authorized by charter to "preach the gospel in heathen countres."

The Appellate Court held that the university had opened classes in religion, provided classrooms and courses for the teaching of foreign languages, and for the study of subjects designed to fit students for missionary work, and that, consequently, it is in harmony with the intent of the donor.

"It is unreasonable to hold that the $200,000 is limited to the actual preaching of the gospel in heathen countries," the Appellate Court stated in its opinion. "This work may be furthered through the training of ministers, secretaries, medical missionaries and instruction in foreign languages and customs."

Bandit Killed in Speakeasy

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—Eight men in an establishment in West Fifty-third street described by the police as a speakeasy turned on two hold-up men early today, beating one of them to death and seriously injuring the other. The victim was identified by the police from his fingerprints as William Rogers, 24 years of age, of this city. His record showed an arrest for robbery last month. The other said he is Timothy Shine, 18, of Brooklyn. He denied that a hold-up had been attempted.

CASHIER PICKS BANK ROBBER

Notorious Ohio Bandit Now Linked to New Job

Zwick Also Hunted for Watchman Slaying

Clerk Held Prisoner All Night by Gang

DAYTON (O.) Dec. 31. (AP)—Ralph Davenport, cashier of the Phillipsburg State Bank in that village, ten miles north of here, who was held prisoner by five bandits last night while they unsuccessfully sought to have him open the vault of the depository, tonight was reported to have identified a picture of Robert Zwick, Cincinnati bandit, as one of the quintet that held him captive.

Zwick, in addition to being sought for numerous robberies in and about Cincinnati, also is under indictment by the Hamilton county grand jury in connection with the slaying of Peter Dumele, night marshal of the village of North College Hill, during a hold-up. Four other men convicted of participation in the hold-up now are serving terms in the State penitentiary. Zwick never has been captured.

SON GIVES ALARM

Davenport was slugged at his home last night. While several members of the gang stood as lookouts, two of them bound and held him prisoner. Mrs. Davenport fainted when they brought the cashier inside. They prepared coffee for her and remained until 6 a.m. Davenport had told them, when he recovered, that the bank's time lock would not open until then.

At 5:50 a.m., Floyd Davenport, the cashier's 14-year-old son, returned home after spending the night with friends. He turned a flashlight on a rear door and saw one of the robbers pointing a machine gun at him. The boy fled before the gunman could shoot or capture him.

Floyd gave the alarm at a filling station, but meanwhile two of the robbers had entered the bank with Davenport. The filling station employees set the town's fire siren screaming, and at once bullets commenced to fly thick and fast.

PURSUIT FAILS

Scores of armed citizens quickly collected in the streets, exchanging fusillades with the bandits as the driver of their car endeavored to collect his partners and escape. Once he turned a machine gun on the siren but was unable to silence it.

Three bandits finally got in the car and escaped, though pursued hotly for many miles by citizens and officers in another car. The other two members of the gang fled into woods and fields on the environs of the town where a futile search for them was made.

MOTHER SLAIN AS BURGLAR

She and Husband and Two Sons Get Into Store But Rouse Shopkeeper Who Fires on Them

ROCHESTER (N. Y.) Dec. 31. (AP)—Masquerading as a man and accompanied by her husband and two of her six children on an early morning burglary, Mrs. Winifred Shields, 35 years of age, was shot fatally today as she fled from a store they had entered.

Ernest Stott, storekeeper in the Summerville section, who had been sleeping in the rear of his establishment since a recent burglary, was aroused by the ringing of his cash register bell. He saw two "men" and two boys fleeing from the front entrance. He ran to the street and fired five shots. One of the quartet fell. When he reached the spot Stott recognized Mrs. Shields. She had been shot in the head and died before the arrival of a doctor.

Her husband, James Shields, Sr., 45 years of age, and two of her sons, James, Jr., 17, and John, 16, returned when the woman fell and were arrested by deputy sheriffs.

Mrs. Shields, who had four other children, the youngest 5 months, was dressed in men's clothes and wore soft-soled shoes.

The family lived in a well-furnished home in Washington avenue, Summerville. Stott told police that he had suspected the family of the previous burglary, as on a visit to collect a bill he saw articles from his stock that had not been purchased by the Shields.

A sack, filled with groceries and candies, was left behind by the burglars when they fled.

RAISIN BONDS NOT SOLD TO FARM BOARD

Sun-Maid Securities May be Accepted, However, as Collateral for Loan

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—A formal statement issued by the Federal Farm Board today denied reports published in some eastern papers to the effect that the board has made an offer to buy the bonds of the Sun-Maid Raisin Growers' Association.

"The farm board," the statement set forth, "has not purchased and is not going to purchase the bonds of Sun-Maid or any other co-operative. Neither has it enered into any agreement as to what price shall be paid for the retirement of bonds of Sun-Maid or any other cooperative organization.

"The board has agreed to accept any of its bonds Sun Maid may offer as part of the collateral for a loan of $4,000,000 to the association. The purpose of this loan is to protest the psysical facilities and Sun-Maid trademarks owned by this cooperative organization of California raisin growers. The board has no interest in the acquirement by the association of its funds."

Body of Victim in Texas Motor Crash Identified

COLUMBUS (Tex.) Dec. 31. (AP)—The body of a man killed in an automobile accident here Saturday was identified today by G. D. McDonald, civil engineer for the Southern Pacific lines, as that of John Winthrop Sargent.

McDonald knew Sargent in Peru several years ago and said that a brother of the dead man, Roy Sargent, is in Caracas, Venezuela. The engineer described Sargent as a "chaser of rainbows." The theory that the victim was a noted scientist already had been dissipated by his diary, which told a more romantic story of a crowded life and a tumultuous career brought to an end in an automobile collision near here.

Samoan Islands Must Toe Mark

WELLINGTON (N. Z.) Dec. 31. (AP)—Sir Joseph Ward, Prime Minister of New Zealand, said today the government will continue a firm policy in the administration of those islands of Samoa which are under its mandate from the League of Nations.

Recent disorders in which one policeman and eight natives were killed will have no effect on that policy, he said.

VON HINDENBURG SUES FASCIST PAPER EDITOR

BERLIN, Dec. 31. (AP)—President Von Hindenburg has entered suit for defamation against the editor of the Fascist periodical Angriff conducted by Paul Goebbels, a member of the Reichstag. Sunday this periodical published an article captioned "Is Hindenburg Still Alive?" Asserting that the President did not vote against the Young plan because "he always does what his Jewish and Marxist advisers tell him to do" and that "nobody should be under any delusions concerning him."

VENIZELOS STEPS INTO VACANT CABINET POST

ATHENS (Greece) Dec. 31. (AP)—Premier Venizelos today took over the portfolio of hygiene in his cabinet himself, replacing Dr. Pappas, who resigned Sunday, and M. Sideres was given the post of Minister of Interior, replacing Pericles Argiropoulos, who resigned with Dr. Pappas after their political leader, Gen. George Kondyles, wrote a letter charging the Venizelos ministry with leading the country into political anarchy.

Boy Identified by Officer Who Was Wounded

NEW CASTLE (Pa.) Dec. 31. (AP) The statement attributed by police to a 4-year-old boy that his mother shot Corp. Brady Paul of the Pennsylvania State Highway Patrol spurred anew tonight the search for the woman and two men who killed Corp. Paul and wounded Private Ernest Moore near here last Friday.

Police at Bellaire, O., where the child was located, said he described accurately the attack on the officers. The child is Donnie Schroeder, son of Mrs. Irene Schroeder, who was sought as a suspect in the killing, hours before the boy was found at the home of relatives.

"My mama shot one cop and he laid back of the car groaning," Francis Moran, chief of the Bellaire police, said the child stated. "Uncle Tom shot another one in the head. He shot right through the windshield," the boy added, according to Moran.

Private Moore, who was only slightly wounded in the battle with the bandits near here last Friday afternoon, identified the Schroeder child as the one he said was accompanying the woman and two men in the bandits' automobile.

According to Hans Kurath of Ohio State University, attending the forty-sixth annual convention of the association here today, the chief language characteristics of all districts in the United States and Canada will be placed on monographs and charted on between 2000 and 3000 maps. More than 10,000 phonograph records of the different language characteristics will be made.

It is estimated that the cost will be between $750,000 and $1,000,000. The survey will be carried on by the American Council of Learned Societies, if the plan is carried through, and the council would raise the money by endowment.

The project, Kurath estimated, will take twenty-five to fifty field workers two years for its completion.

Distribution Made Through Mail, Agents Say

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Arrest of three Chinese in this city, another in Denver and a white woman in Kansas City today was declared by Federal officials to have stopped the distribution of opium pills throughout underworld haunts of the Middle West.

The seizures followed a raid on a Chinese herb store here in which postal and narcotic inspectors and agents of the Department of Justice uncovered the asserted source of supply and a cache of approximately 10,000 of the pills valued at $3000.

The officers said the pills were sent through the mails from this city to the Chinese in Denver, forwarded by him to the woman in Kansas City and distributed from there.

MEXICO VISIONS PEACEFUL YEAR

Southern Republic Entering 1930 With Optimism

Transquillity of Nation Laid to Efforts of Gen. Calles

Church War Truce Ascribed to Ambassador Morrow

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 31. (AP)—Three outstanding events in Mexico in 1929 cleared the political atmosphere and present a bright new year outlook such as was not foreseen by the most optimistic a year ago.

Mexico faces a new year of prospective peace, increasing international confidence, commercial development and moderate prosperity. These result from the overthrow of the Escobar revolution last spring, settlement of the religious difficulties and the peaceful Presidential election—the significant events of the closing year.

YEAR CALMS DOWN

The closing months of 1929 have been distinctly different from the beginning of the year, which started with bloodshed, executions, attempted Presidential bombings and revolutionary rumblings which materialized in March, but which were quickly suppressed.

Quiet now is reported by the government throughout the nation. No concern is felt by authorities here at efforts of elements disgruntled by the November election to create trouble. It is believed the overwhelming majority of the people are tired of disorder and bloodshed and desire to get down to the business of working out the country's salvation.

LOYAL ARMY NOW

Disturbances may occur during the new year, but government officials believe they will be isolated, will lack popular support and will be quickly suppressed by an army that today is better equipped, better disciplined and more loyal than at any time in the past twenty years.

As one close student of Mexico expressed it: "Mexico, caught for twenty years in the whirling current of revolution, bloodshed and disorder, has finally drifted into a quiet backwater and lodged on the hope of peace and orderliness."

CALLES STRONG MAN

The central figure in Mexico's whole dramatic change of character is today a private citizen who remains, and is likely to be for years to come, the strongest man in the country—Gen. Plutarco Elias Calles, former President.

Gen. Calles is on record as saying he will step out of retirement to serve his country at any time that disorder threatens. He did this last March when he became Secretary of War, took the field against the Escobar rebels and crushed the revolt within a few weeks after it started.

MORROW'S TRIUMPH

With the development of an era of good feeling and closer understanding between church and state officials, United States Ambassador Morrow was quick to use his good offices to open discussions looking toward settlement of the three-year-old church-state dispute, discussions which led to an agreement and reopening of the churches with return of the priests.

This ended the troublesome old "Cristero" rebellion, which had caused long disorder and cost many lives. With the churches reopened the "Cristeros," an extreme left branch of the Catholic faith, laid down their guns and returned to their fields.

Farm Board Approves Plans for Co-operation

Adoption of Charter Waits Committee Meeting

California Growers Share in $30,000,000 Concern

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—Approval by the national organization committee was all that remained tonight to complete arrangements for the $30,000,000 cotton corporation.

Without a dissenting voice the Federal Farm Board sanctioned the final draft of a charter and by-laws late today. It had been prepared by a subcommittee sent here from the general meeting of cotton co-operatives at Memphis, Tenn., December 10 and 11, and closely followed plans adopted at the Memphis conference.

KEEP BALL ROLLING

S. L. Morley of Oklahoma City, chairman of the subcommittee, said he would call a meeting of the national organization committee to be held at the offices of the Federal Farm Board January 9. If it adopts the charter and by-laws as approved by the Farm Board articles of incorporation immediately will be filed in Delaware.

Simultaneously a stockholders' meeting will be called, officers elected and the corporation made ready to begin its operations. All details are expected to be completed on or before January 15.

CALIFORNIA IN LINE

Morley expressed satisfaction with developments thus far and predicted a general expanding of the co-operative movement in cotton States. The corporation is expected immediately to include as member stockholders the State cotton co-operative associations of North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi (short staple,) Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas, Arizona and California. These represent an immediate marketing volume of approximately 1,000,000 bales of cotton.

Neither the cotton subcommittee nor the Farm Board was ready to predict when actual business operations of the co-operative will begin. An official name and headquarters are to be selected at the meeting of the general committee January 9. Morley's subcommittee has recommended that Dallas, New Orleans, Memphis and Atlanta be considered.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

COUNCIL ASKS PROOF OF FITTS

Official Quizzed on Asserted Long Beach Corruption

Resolution Passed Yesterday Sent to Attorney

Additional Proof or Public Retraction Wanted

LONG BEACH, Dec. 31.—Resolutions adopted by the City Council unanimously this afternoon demand that Dist.-Atty. Buron Fitts either present more evidence against the Long Beach police department in support of declarations to the Council at the conclusion of the recent grand jury probe regarding law enforcement and law violation conditions here or that the District Attorney make a public retraction of his remarks and the published statements which have reflected on this city.

The lengthy resolution as presented by Councilman J. J. Barton and discussed at executive session this morning and adopted this afternoon declares:

MOST CORRUPT CITY

Whereas, Buron Fitts stated to the Council that Long Beach is the most corrupt city, next to Los Angeles, in the State of California; that Long Beach is a rendezvous for crooks and bunko artists, supported by his further statement that "you know these kind of people do not frequent any city without first having the protection of the police department" and that our police department is particulraly rotten and corrupt. He further stated that if the City Council does not clean up the town he will He further stated that he will furnish the City Manager with sufficient evidence in the way of affidavits, pertaining to the police department and other matters to justify his statements; and

Whereas, the three weeks have elapsed since the Council appeared before the grand jury and Buron Fitts; and

AFFIDAVITS PRESENTED

Whereas, the City Manager did on the 30th day of December, 1929, call the City Council in executive session and did present to the Council all the evidence in the way of affidavits, which he had been furnished by Buron Fitts, and at which time all of said affidavits were carefully examined and analyzed by the Council; be it

Resolved, that in the judgment of the Council the evidence as presented by the City Manager was not of sufficient importance to justify official action, except in two cases, which can be handled by the City Manager and the Chief of Police, inasmuch as the affidavits presented were very largely by unreliable parties and along gossiping lines, not properly supported by facts and corroborative evidence.

RETRACTION DEMANDED

Resolved further, that the city demand that Buron Fitts either present additional evidence to this Council in support of his statements pertaining to the conditions in Long Beach or publicly retract such statements.

Resolved further, that a copy of this resolution be sent by registered mail to Buron Fitts.

Santa Ana Man is Prominent in Legion Affairs

SANTA ANA, Dec. 31.—Ed R. Kolbe, adjutant of Santa Ana post, American Legion, and a deputy County Clerk, has received notice of his selection by State Commander Clarence L. Kincaid as one of eleven Legionnaires of the State to compose an emergency welfare committee created under "Resolution Twenty-nine" adopted at the State convention in San Diego. Leland C. Hall of Santa Rosa, is chairman.

The appointment is regarded as a signal honor for Kolbe, as the committee is one of tremendous importance in Legion affairs. Commander Kincaid, in notifying Kolbe of his appointment, referred to the work of the committee as "a touchy subject, one fraught with potential difficulties for the Legion." "Therefore," said the commander, "I have picked out the most dependable and level-headed men available."

Resolution Twenty-nine creates a committee to "consider the advisability and feasibility of a working plan for creation of a fund for the purpose of assisting American Legion members and American Legion families whenever financial assistance is needed for the ordinary wants of life."

TO CONTINUE WORK OF RESTORING ASISTENCIA

REDLANDS, Dec. 31.—The work of restoring the famous old Asistencia De San Bernardino of the San Gabriel Mission, the outpost which was established by the padres about three miles west of where Redlands now stands, will be continued in January.

Juan Cruz Rocha, tilemaker and potter, who is living at the old mission station, will make the adobe bricks for the walls of another room which will be restored at the eastern side of the present structure.

A row of cottonwood trees will be planted parallel with the west wall. Cottonwoods were a distinctive growth near the old mission station and the Zanja in the days when old San Bernardino was the principal settlement of the valley.

R. B. Peters, San Bernardino architect, will make an effort to get posts from some of the trees of cottonwood row, the line of cottonwoods so well known to the pioneers of this section. These posts are expected to sprout roots and grow. At several places in the valley there are rows of trees which once were fence posts.

STUDENT KILLS SELF

San Dimas Boy Tells Parents in Note That He "Hated to Go to School"

SAN DIMAS, Dec. 31.—Suffering from a self-inflicted bullet wound in the head and the effects of illuminating gas, Raymond James Chaves, 15 years of age, a local student, died early yesterday morning at the Pomona Valley Hospital.

Leaving a note of warning pinned to the bathroom door in his home, 113 West Fifth street, to the effect that he had turned on the gas and for no one to enter the room, the boy is asserted to first have turned on the gas and then fired a bullet from a .22-caliber rifle into his head last Monday night.

He was found a few minutes later by his father, J. R. Chaves, who broke into the room and rushed the boy in a dying condition to the hospital, according to a report made to the Sheriff's office.

Deputy sheriffs reported that the dead boy left another note in which he bade his mother, father and VENTURA, Dec. 31.—Erection of to "take good care of his pups and not to feel too bad." Other portions of the note stated that he hated to go to school and that the last few weeks of his life had been a joke to him, according to investigating officers.

Neither the mother nor father could ascribe a reason for their son's act, deputies stated.

Border Open New Year's Eve

CALEXICO, Dec. 31.—Thousands of Americans in Imperial Valley are planning to welcome the arrival of the new year in Mexico tonight as a result of an order from the Treasury Department at Washington granting permission for the international-line gate to remain open until 12:30 a.m.

Request for an extension of the regular line closing from 9 o'clock to midnight was made by the Calexico and Mexicali fire departments for the convenience of guests at their annual ball in Mexicali.

In issuing the permit to the firemen, the department indicated that the gate would remain open to the public. This is the first time this courtesy has been granted by the Federal government for two years.

Extra inspectors are to be kept on duty by the Customs and Immigration departments of the two countries to handle the heavy traffic that is expected to pass through the gateway during the evening.

Murderer Gets Life in Prison

EL CENTRO, Dec. 31.—J. H. Savage, alias "Georgia Kid," and "Alabama Slim," who has been in the County Jail here since November 24 charged with the slaying of John Judd and John Collins near Calipatria, pleaded guilty today and was sentenced by Judge A. C. Finney to a life term in San Quentin. He previously had entered a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity.

Savage was a ranch hand who came to Imperial Valley from Georgia. According to the accusation against him, he left church at Calipatria with Judd and shot the man during a quarrel along the road. Then he held up a motorist, took his car, and drove to the home of his former employer, John Collins, and killed him. Savage abandoned the car on the desert a few hours later and surrendered to officers at Bard.

Drumm May Be Appointed

SANTA ANA, Dec. 31. — Frank C. Drumm, Santa Ana attorney and former judge of the Orange County Superior Court, is being prominently mentioned for appointment as judge of the United States District Court, to succeed Judge Henning, who resigned recently, it was learned here today.

The appointment to the Federal bench is expected to be made within the next few days. A number of lawyers and judges of Southern California have been mentioned in connection with the post and the name of Judge Drumm is understood to hold a leading place in discussions of prospective apponitees. The judge today admitted that he had been mentioned in the matter, but declined to comment.

Judge Drumm served several years on the Superior bench, starting in 1923 when Department Three of the court was established.

Barbers Demand Repeal of Tax

VENTURA, Dec. 31.—Saying that the city chair tax is unjust, sixteen local barbers appeared before the City Council last night and asked for its removal.

The tax is $3 a year for the first chair and $1 for each additional chair. The barbers assert it is unjust because it is a tax on common labor.

Unless it is removed, they threatened to refuse payment, force the matter into court for a legal test, and use their political influence against the present administration.

Mayor Randall asked City Attorney Walter Fourt to investigate the levy and report at the next Council meeting.

CAPTAIN OF POLICE FORCED TO RESIGN

GLENDALE—Dec. 31.—Capt. W. A. Loving, who resigned his post as captain-inspector of the Glendale Police Department today at the request of Chief of Police J. D. Fraser, acting on instructions from the City Council, was appointed traffic inspector to supervise matters dealing with traffic, parking, safety zones and other details.

Lieut. J. H. Lauritzen has been promoted to the rank of captain, succeeding Loving, and Sergt. J. H. Henderson of the detective bureau will fill Lauritzen's place as lieutenant. Detective W. E. Hegi has been promoted to the rank of sergeant to succeed Henderson.

PLANT GETS READY TO HATCH MORE TURKEYS

LANCASTER, Dec. 31.—The Wargren Hatchery here, devoted to the hatching of turkey eggs, already is formulating plans for the hatching out of what next fall will be a part of the huge turkey crop of Antelope Valley. The plant has a capacity of 2000 eggs at one time. Before the spring season is over 6000 young turks will be hatched and sold to the turkey-brooding trade. Antelope Valley is an ideal place for the growing of turkeys as the recent large flocks proved.

PAIR TO APPEAR IN SUPERIOR COURT

HUNTINGTON PARK, Dec. 31.—Basil Corn, alias Billy Pierson, and Theodore Shufflebotham, each charged with intent to commit larceny, are held to answer to Superior Court, each being placed under bail of $500.

During the preliminary hearing before Judge Edward H. Miller, two pairs of tennis shoes, said to have been worn by the young men at the time of their arrest, were introduced as evidence. The imprints of the soles of the shoes worn by the two men committing the theft are said to have compared favorably with the imprints of the shoe soles worn by Corn, alias Pierson, and Shufflebotham, when they were arrested.

The designs were the same, according to the evidence introduced.

The young men were charged with having stolen eggs and bananas from the porch at the home of Mrs. Gertrude Fleck of East Eighty-second street, on Christmas Day.

VETERAN'S IDENTITY STILL A MYSTERY

REDLANDS, Dec. 31.—Arthur W. Peacock, whose memory seems to have been shattered by World War service with the American Army, is still in the Patton State Hospital, while Redlands ex-service men and Red Cross officials are attempting to locate his relatives. Letters to San Francisco and Vancouver have brought no results and no reply has come yet from London, where Peacock once had relatives, it was stated yesterday by Edward M. Cope, Red Cross executive.

Peacock's condition was brought to the attention of Redlands police several months ago and it was through the police department and Sheriff's office that his identity was learned through the United States War Department. The veteran does not recall anything concerning his earlier life.

NEW LAW CURBS MEXICAN EXPORTS

CALEXICO, Dec. 31.—Exports from this port of entry into Mexico during December amounted to $341,367, which is $75,282 below the same month last year, according to Deputy Customs Collector Harvey Shepherd. Local business men attribute the decrease this year to the more restrictive immigration inspection which prevents large numbers of Mexican shoppers from crossing to the American side of the line for trading purposes.

Exports for the year amounted to $4,848,143, while imports from Lower California were $7,730,316, of which $7,190,905 were free and the balance dutiable.

TWO SUSPECTS HELD

Oceanside Officers Report Prisoners Confess to Mexican Murder

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 31.—Informed by Sheriff Ed Cooper of the arrest at Oceanside today of two suspects in connection with the "50-cent" murder of Francisco Guzman, rancher near Tia Juana, Mexican authorities provided the local officers with a warrant to hold the two men.

At the same time, steps were taken to notify the State Departments of both countries and obtain extradition of the suspects.

The two arrested by Deputy Sheriff Charles Goss at Oceanside gave their names as Pacifico Garcia, a Filipino, and Arthur Halliday. Sheriff Cooper declared a full confession had been obtained from both, implicating the Filipino as having fired the fatal shots, and that the Los Angeles police have been asked to arrest Lorena Burton, somewhere in Hollywood.

Guzman was slain when he asked two men and a woman, who had stopped early Saturday at his picnic ground four miles south of Tia Juana, to pay 50 cents for the privilege, according to Tia Juana police. The police heard this account of the shooting from Mrs. Guzman, who herself was shot in the leg. Mrs. Guzman dragged herself and her tiny babe to the border port to tell of the murder. The babe, which apparently had been struck a blow as the desperadoes fled, was treated at the hospital to save its life.

The woman gave Tia Juana police a description and the number of the car in which the suspects had fled and this led to the Oceanside arrest. Deputy Sheriff Goss reported to Sheriff Cooper that the two men were alone in a green coupe with wire wheels answering the description and that a Solana Beach service station had made a gas-theft complaint against the same automobile crew.

Undersheriff Oliver Sexson took the two suspects to San Diego County Jail.

VALLEY AWAITS EXPANSION

Palo Verde Promised Great Things for the Coming Year

BLYTHE, Dec. 31.—The Palo Verde Valley is to receive its share of construction work in the Hoover expansion program for 1930.

The Southern Sierras Power Company has just announced that it will begin work within ninety days on a power transmission line from Calipatria, in Imperial Valley, to Blythe. The line will cost $328,000, according to the company's budget. The extension will be a line about sixty-five miles in length, and will open up considerable desert country, where water can be pumped at a short lift.

Blythe now receives its electricity from a local Deisel engine plant, and there are no lights after midnight.

The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company already has begun work on a long-distance line from San Bernardino, via Mecca, to Blythe. The long-distance toll line will continue from Blythe to Phoenix. This city does not now have long-distance service.

This telephone line will cross a desert expanse of ninety miles without a connection, to reach Blythe. The line will be completed early in April.

The county of Riverside has already spent $10,000 on new roads in the Palo Verde Valley.

The Santa Fe Railway Company is completing the laying of ninety-pound steel rails from Blythe Junction to Ripley, a distance of forty-five miles. This work has taken two months.

It is anticipated that in the near future the State Highway Department will let contracts to pave four miles from Blythe to the Colorado River, and twenty miles from the end of the paving on the Sunkist Trail, to a point past Desert Center.

Many to Attend Last Rites of Popular Pastor

RIVERSIDE, Dec. 31.—Arrangements were being completed here today for conducting the obsequies of Dr. B. S. Haywood, former pastor of the First Methodist Church, who expired in Los Angeles the 29th inst. He was pastor of the Anaheim Methodist Church, but was on a year's leave of absence.

When Dr. Haywood left Riverside in 1921 to become pastor of Wilshire Methodist Church in Los Angeles, he purchased a lot in Evergreen Cemetery with the request that he be buried here. Dr. Haywood took an extremely active part in community life, and the funeral is expected to be one of the largest in the history of Riverside.

He was president of the Present Day Club while here, a member of the Kiwanis Club, a member of the Riverside county exemption board all during the war, and maintained membership in numerous other organizations. His church here has more than 2000 members.

It is expected that he will be given military honors because of his war work. Methodist clergy as well as prominent laymen from every section of Southern California are to attend the services. Dr. Haywood's widow is critically ill, and final details of the funeral are awaiting word from a daughter who resides in Ohio.

Antelope Valley to Plant Trees

LANCASTER, Dec. 31. — The planting of trees on Antelope Valley farms will be continued during 1930, it is annonuced here today by assistant county farm advisers. Last year 7000 trees were procured from the State nursery at Sacramento and sold to the ranchers at 1 cent a piece. Numbers of the trees died, for it later was found that the young saplings would have thrived better had they been planted for a year in an improvised nursery, before being set out. This year 10,000 new trees will be obtained, and all will be put in the nursery for a year before selling them to the farmers.

The farm bureau also is behind the forestry program which calls for the planting of trees along the highways. More than 6500 of these trees will be set out by ranchers during 1930. Most of the trees will be planted alongside improper property where they will be watered and cared for.

GOOD PROSPECTS FOR CALIFORNIA FRUIT

EAST HIGHLANDS, Dec. 31.—J. S. Edwards, manager of the Big Gold Bucket Fruit Association here, has returned from a trip to eastern cities for conference with commission merchants regarding the citrus crop for this year.

Mr. Edwards says that he experienced intense cold weather throughout the East and caught a cold which made it necessary for him to go to a hospital in Denver. Mrs. Edwards went to Denver to be with him while he was ill.

He says that eastern fruit men are expecting that all the oranges California has this year, the crop being light, will have a good market.

WILL RAISE FOXES IN ANTELOPE VALLEY

LANCASTER, Dec. 31.—J. T. Hepner of Montebello is a newcomer in Antelope Valley for the purpose of establishing a silver fox and muskrat farm as a commercial project. The new farm is to be located near the west end of Rosamond Dry Lake, and Hepner already is on the ground starting his preliminary building operations. Hepner asserts that Antelope Valley is an ideal section for his project and that his investment will pay well.

Legion Post Plans Building in Inglewood

INGLEWOOD, Dec. 31.—Inglewood Post, American Legion, is planning a number of major objectives for the coming year, the chief one being the building of a fine new home in Centinela Park on the site donated by the city. This project will be sought in earnest as soon as the membership campaign now in progress is out of the way.

It is planned also during the year to conduct a series of educational meetings. Commander James C. Cortner announces that he intends to have a representative of the State, district or county department, for a brief address, to outline the functions of their department or committee.

The post's community betterment committee is now considering a suitable objective for 1930. This committee already has a monument to its credit in the playgrounds in Centinela Park, and plans to decide upon some equally meritorious project for the new year.

Tonight the post's annual New Year's party is in progress, a combination of "whoopee" and other enjoyment. Post and auxiliary members joined in decorating the present quarters in the Chamber of Commerce in cabaret style, and a splendid cabaret program, interspersed with dancing, was enjoyed, together with a bountiful banquet.

The local post's service committee provided all the vegetables for the 152 baskets provided by other civic organizations for Christmas cheer to needy families, it was reported by Chairman Sam Hill.

An Architect in Spare Time

SAN DIEGO, Dec. 31.—Jack Donovan, young Irish architect, athlete, film star and yachtsman, whose meteoric career is the talk of Los Angeles, "blew" into town today driving his $18,000 Mercedes roadster. He and Pauline Wagner, daughter of George and Mrs. Wagner of this city, will be guests of Ralph and Mrs. Knapp at the New Year's frolic at the Plata Real, U. S. Grant Hotel, tonight.

Unusually successful as an architect of unusual homes which he has designed for many members of the Hollywood movie colony, Donovan is noted also for his development of a life-saving annunciator system, which was installed at Santa Monica on his recommendation. He holds the Carnegie medal and the Red Cross medal of honor for his feat in rescuing a man and woman from the ocean in 1922.

In his spare time Jack raises Great Danes, plays the 'cello and converses on intellectual subjects with his South American parrot.

SURPRISE FOR TELEPHONE CHIEF

INGLEWOOD, Dec. 31.—Carl N. Elgan, retiring manager of the Southern California Edison district here, was agreeably surprised at his home, 604 East Kelso street, last night, when employees of the district gathered there to wish him success in his new post, the Santa Monica district of the company.

As a token of esteem and friendship, Elgan was presented with a handsome imported set of golf sticks. Among those present was H. V. Busby, who succeeds Elgan here, taking over the office tomorrow, and who, by coincidence, also succeeded the latter at his previous post in the San Joaquin Valley.

GOULD HOME PRESENTED COMMUNITY

Property Valued at Half Million Gift of Woman to City of Santa Barbara

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 31.—The beautiful Gould home and estate in Montecito, known as San Leandro Rancho and valued at nearly $500,000, have been given by Mrs. Clara Hinton Gould to the Santa Barbara foundation, it was announced here today. A trust found of $250,000 was created by Mrs. Gould to care for the upkeep of the estate. Mrs. Gould retains a life interest under the agreement and deed.

More than 100 acres of land comprise the estate, which is one of the show places in Montecito. Mrs. Gould tendered it to the foundation to be used for the benefit of the community. In making the gift she expressed a desire that the property could be kept intact but provided no restrictions whatever in the deed. With this contribution the foundation has approximately $1,000,000 in gifts for the artistic development of the community.

The Gould estate adjoins the property of the recently opened Valley Club of Montecito. The polo fields is located on the west. The garden is often included in garden tours. Officers Must Give Assistance to Physicians

SANTA ANA, Dec. 31.—"Whenever and wherever it is found that officers are interfering with physicians in attending the injured on public highways, either for personal gain or for other reasons, the District Attorney's office most certainly will take action."

This statement Saturday by Chief Deputy District-Attorney L. W. Blodget followed reports that Harry Comber, San Clemente police officer, had sought to prevent Dr. Paul Esslinger of San Juan Capistrano from administering first-aid treatment to victims of an automobile accident at Galivan on Christmas day, where one person was killed and several were injured.

According to statements said to have been made by Dr. Esslinger to Blodget, the physician was called to the scene to attend Mrs. Charles Moore of Fullerton, whose husband was killed in the wreck, and who was herself critically injured. Officer Comber, he said, insisted in loading Mrs. Moore and her son-in-law, George Forster, into an ambulance and rushing them to the San Clemente Hospital, and threatened to arrest the physician if he tried to attend the injured.

Blodget, while declining to refer specifically to the Comber case, explained that whenever punitive action was found justified in "any such case" it probably would take the form of an custer from office.

His Auto Plate Numerals Show Where He Works

NORTH LOS ANGELES, Dec. 31. George Williams, manager of the Heinz Pickle Works here, ordered his new auto license plates ten days ago. They arrived today. The number is 5S-57-57.

"One 57 in a pickle man's license plate would be coincidence enough," Williams said today, "but two of them at one and the same time makes me take a new slant at the law of averages."

Friends say Williams asked for the number. He asserts, however, he simply ordered a plate and it came forward as it did.

Fine Piece of Detective Work

EL MONTE, Dec. 31.—Sherlock Holmes himself couldn't have done any quicker or more efficient detective work in clearing up two cases than did Chief of Police L. C. Burdick and Officers Jake O. Bannon and R. E. Foell Monday night. While seeking John Rodriquez and Frank Aguirre of Pico Park, charged with stealing $25 and a pair of glasses from James Berry, deaf mute, they obtained a clew to a car which had been stolen a few hours before from J. R. Payne, 613 Washington street.

Following up the clew they found Frank Aguirre changing tires on the stolen sedan at Girado Road and Whittier Boulevard and arrested him on a grand-theft charge as well as the charge of robbing the deaf mute. Cosme Garahoe, who was with him, was also arrested and held for questioning.

After returning the car to the owner, they lodged their prisoners in jail and then went to the home of Rodriquez and arrested him for the alleged petty theft.

They are now seeking a man who they say was an accomplice of Aguirre in the auto theft.

OIL NEWS

BY HOWARD KEGLEY

A number of oil operators at Santa Fe Springs are planning today to bring in new wells from the lower Clarke sand and perhaps swell the daily output there by many thousands of barrels of oil and raise the daily production far beyond the [illegible] barrels which the field is allowed under the curtailment agreement.

During the December proration period considerable difficulty was experienced by the umpire in holding production down. At no time was it within the quota. The nearest approach to that figure was about a week ago, but several completions soon changed the figures and yesterday the daily production was above 160,000 barrels and still growing.

The General Petroleum Corporation's completions yesterday included Santa Fe No. 237, at 8000 feet, flowing out 1500 barrels of oil per day, and the Santa Fe Community No. 177-E, for 2300 barrels of oil from a depth of 8060 feet. The Gilliway No. 104 started to come in, and its output may be gauged today. The Associated Oil Company's Dalton No. 9, the Bandini Petroleum Corporation's No. 17, York & Lockhart No. 1 and the Universal Consolidated's Blanchard No. 12 are other wells nearing completion.

Schedule Out Today

The fourth semimonthly schedule for Santa Fe Springs field will be ready for distribution today, according to Umpire Paul Grimm, who worked overtime with his entire staff in its preparation.

The new report covers the period from January 1 to 15, inclusive, and will show the potential production in number of barrels, the allotted production, the excess production for the preceding period, the allowable production, total excess production and total allowable production.

Besides the Santa Fe Springs report, a similar report was prepared for the Elwood and Ventura-avenue fields. Every operator in each of the fields will be provided with a copy.

Another Test

The Plymouth Oil Company is constructing derrick for Plymouth No. 10, near the corner of Twentieth and Ohio streets in the extreme southeasterly portion of the Signal Hill field, in the area now undergoing intensive search for deep production.

Plymouth's No. 9 is drilling below [illegible] feet, and is one of a series of wells being drilled by that company. The No. 10 is a short distance from the company's initial well there, and may spud in within the next ten days.

Continues to Swab

The California Well Drilling Company's Del Amo No. 1 wildcat, drilling for deep production between Signal Hill and Dominguez, is continuing to swab with bottom of the hole at 8500 feet. This project has been cleaned to bottom and two and one-half-inch packer set at 7630 feet. At present it is one of the deepest wildcats in the state.

Shuts Off Gas

The General Petroleum Corporation has killed most of the gas pressure in its More No. 2, three miles southeast of Elwood, and is now drilling ahead below 4000 feet in search of deep production. This undertaking is near More No. 1; suspended with bottom at 4533 feet.

Shell Progress

The Shell Oil Company is making good progress in several tests in search of extensions of proven fields. At Seal Beach the company's Alamitos No. 1 is drilling below 4100 feet. It is not far from the Consolidated Oil Company's Bryant No. 1, drilling below 6050 feet, for a southwesterly extension of the Signal Hill field.

Shell's Fithian No. 1 wildcat, four miles north of Carpinteria, is drilling below 1400 feet, but has not encountered oil sand. Northwest of that test the Standard Oil Company is rigging up Shepard No. 1, located on a 253-acre lease in Carpinteria, and which will spud in within a few days.

On the Bastanchury ranch northeast of Fullerton Shell is drilling below 6600 feet in Bastanchury No. 1. It was originally drilled to 6000 feet, but mechanical difficulties forced the company to go back and start redrilling. Standard is searching for an extension of the Coyote Hills-Murphy district by drilling Bastanchury No. 1, which now is below [illegible] feet in sandy shale.

Two Big Ones

The Union Oil Company's Alexander No. 19 and Bell No. 46, near the center of the Santa Fe Springs field, came in yesterday from the Clarke sand for 8400 and 7200 barrels per day, respectively. The Alexander No. 19 was completed at a depth of 8000 feet and Bell No. 46 came in from a depth of 7985 feet. Both projects will be allowed to flow for several days and then gradually beaned down.

TWO NEW PLANTS TO BE PUT UP

Carbonic Corporation and Dry Ice Concern Planning Outlay of $600,000

The Liquid Carbonic Corporation of Chicago yesterday purchased a two and a half acre site in the Hostetter Industrial Tract and early in the year will erect a branch plant on the site. The Dry Ice Corporation of New York, a subsidiary of the Chicago company, also will erect a branch plant on the same acreage, the investment in land, buildings and equipment for the two concerns being expected to total $600,000.

The two concerns will manufacture carbonated soda water, fountains and dry ice.

The site adjoins the Sears-Roebuck plant on Soto and Ninth streets and will be served by Union Pacific spur tracks.

Charles R. Bull, an official of both corporations, who has been in Los Angeles for several days, closed the deal with the Austin Securities Corporation, owners of the Hostetter Tract, at a price of approximately $100,000.

Austin Company of California is working out preliminary engineering data for both plants pending the signing of a contract for the erection of the buildings.

Film Director Brings Savages From Africa

The final day of the year saw the return home of the last of the "Trader Horn" expedition into Africa, when W. S. Van Dyke, director of the picture that took a motion-picture troupe 24,000 miles on a safari into the African jungles, arrived on the Santa Fe yesterday.

The film director brought with him two savages from Central Africa in the persons of Mutia, who plays Benchero in the picture, and Riano, who plays the chief gunbearer. These two native actors are necessary to complete interior scenes to be made at the studios.

The natives, with their fezzes and strange ear rings, attracted curious crowds throughout their journey from New York. Mutia wears a padlock in one ear and a block of wood in the other, denoting his rank in the Swahili tribe, and Riano other decorations. The blacks are wearing white men's clothes for the first time in their lives.

The director was held up in New York several days arranging to bring the natives into this country under bond. Both are Mohammedans and neither speaks English. A Swahili interpreter accompanies them. They will make their home on the Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer studio lot in a camp constructed for them.

Harry Carey, who plays Trader Horn; Edwina Booth and Duncan Renaldo, the principals, and "Red" Golden, assistant director, arrived home in time for Christmas.

Blue Bloods of Poultrydom to "Strut Stuff"

Aristocrats of the barnyard yesterday were given their final primping in preparation for their appearance in competition for honors at the Los Angeles County Midwinter Poultry Show, which opens today and continues until the 5th inst. Roosters and hens of practically every known breed received careful grooming at the hands of their owners and last night were reported confidently anxious to take their places in the judging ring.

One of the promising entries is Chanticleer, a glossy and very cocky member of the Rhode Island Red family, who will wear the colors, so to speak, of Miss Jean Lyans, Glendale high school girl. Yesterday passers by observed Miss Lyans treating her prospective prize-winner to a manicure.

"That bird's dressed fit to kill," said one.

MUSICAL COMPOSITION DEDICATED TO U.S.C.

COURT ROBE LAID AWAY BY HENNING

Federal Judge Steps Off Bench and Joins Ranks of Private Citizens

Ending a public career of nearly ten years, United States District Judge Henning at midnight last night became a private citizen again. His retirement brought to a close a period of five years spent on the Federal bench of the Southern California district, and preceded by four years as assistant Secretary of Labor.

Judge Henning returned late in the day from San Diego, where he had been sitting in the disposition of Federal cases there, and after winding up some minor matters in his office in the Federal Building, hurried away to rejoin his family at 1961 North Normandie avenue.

The retiring jurist declined to state definitely what his future plans are but admitted he shortly will go to New York and establish an office there. Rumors were current about the Federal Building, however, to the effect Judge Henning is to become identified in a legal capacity with one of the major motion-picture producing companies.

Judge Henning entered private practice as an attorney in San Diego in 1913. In 1921 he was appointed assistant Secretary of Labor, which post he held until 1925, when he was named to succeed United States District Judge Bledsoe.

SHIPPING NEWS AND ACTIVITIES AT LOS ANGELES HARBOR

HUGE TASK FOR SUN OIL FLEET

Plans for Gasoline Traffic to East Coast Told

Will Carry 5,500,000 Barrels from Port in Year

Movement Starts Today With Total of 312,000

BY WALDO DRAKE

Sun Oil Company tankers will carry approximately 5,500,000 barrels of California gasoline out of Los Angeles Harbor during 1930 for Atlantic Coast distribution, it was announced yesterday by a company official. The big program will be put in full swing today, with three Sun tankers sailing with a total of 312,000 barrels of gasoline.

It was also announced that the new motortanker Pacific Sun, first of eight 9000-gross-ton sister ships being built at the Chester (Pa.) yards of the Sun Shipbuilding and Drydock Company for operation from Los Angeles, will arrive here on her maiden voyage on the 18th inst. Three others of the eight are building at Chester for the Sun Oil Company; two for the Tidewater-Associated Transportation Company, and two for the Standard Transportation Company.

The three Sun tankers in last night loading at the Standard and Union Oil terminals include the Atlantic Sun, loading 116,000 barrels of gasoline for Florida ports; the Sun Oil, loading a similar load for Philadelphia, and the Sun, loading 80,000 barrels of gasoline for Philadelphia. The present Sun Oil Company gasoline fleet includes the three above vessels, plus the Delaware Sun, the Pacific Sun and the Sunbeam. It is planned to place all four of the new motortankers, each with a capacity of 116,000 barrels, in the intercoastal trade as they go into commission.

NOVEMBER HARBOR REVENUES INCREASE

Harbor Department revenues reached a new high in November, with a total of $189,470.62, against $168,772.93, for November, 1928, it was announced yesterday by Port Manager Burt Edwards.

Wharfage formed the big item, with $90,068.53. Land rentals were next in order, totaling $24,810.50, followed by pilotage fees, with $22,728.88. The Harbor Belt Line also increased its earnings, last months' receipts being $10,950.58. Franchise fees totaled $3680.

H. J. (Bert) Anderson, secretary and manager of the Pacific Dry Dock Association, with headquarters at San Francisco, was a visitor at the port yesterday. The association, of which Bert is the guiding light, includes in its membership the Todd, Bethlehem, Moore, General and Los Angeles shipyards.

The Wilmington Boat Works are hard at work on three new racing sailinf yachts, all designed by Nicholas S. Potter. They include China Bay, Tommy Lee's new six-meter sloop, to be commissioned on the 15th inst.; the California Yacht Club Syndicate's eight-meter sloop being built to defend the King of Spain Trophy in the March regata, to be launched February 8, and an eighty-foot staysail schooner, being built by Donald Douglas for the Honolulu ocean race, to be launched May 1.

The local Navy Hydrographic Office yesterday received an interesting report from Capt. H. A. Berndsen of the Danish steamer Bretagne relative to a submarine volcano eruption on December 4 to 6 off the Japanese island of Aogo Shima. Capt. Berndsen says:

"All of a sudden I found myself in very broken water. The surface was most of all like a big boiling pot for several miles. It is my first time through there and it shall be the last. I think the ground is volcanic."

In addition, the Bretagne experienced severe currents on the above dates, increasing from eight-tenths of a knot per hour on December 4 to two knots on the December 6.

Propriety of the Harbor Department paying Union Pacific taxes was questioned by President Allen at the San Pedro meeting of the Harbor Commission yesterday, after the taxes had been paid for nine years and maybe for thrity more years. It all goes back to an agreement in 1921, when the Harbor Department traded land near Fish Harbor to the railway for a tract where Berths 228 to 232 are now located. The question is whether the agreement also specified the city should remit to the line taxes on the Fish Harbor tract, as long as it is unimproved. On that assumption the city has paid the tax each year. Legal opinions will be perused again before a stand is taken.

Commissioners also authorized tests at Berths 144-146 where terminals costing $1,250,000 are projected; referred to the general manager the application of California Yacht Club for a forty-acre lease in the outer harbor, and approved a $9000 office building for Standard Oil Company at the entrance to West Basin. Commissioner F. M. Andreani attended his first meeting in months, being incapacitated by a traffic accident.

Holding of aquatic events during the Olympics in 1932 on Cerritos channel were indicated when the commission was asked for the channel's future use by the Olympian Games Committee. It was referred to the general manager.

Hamburg-American Line motor liner Portland is due the 7th inst., from North Europe with continental freight, bananas from Panama and thirty-eight travelers, of whom seventeen will disembark here.

News of Ships and Sailings at Pacific Ports

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (P)—The liner California, which arrived here yesterday from New York, will go on dry dock at Hunter's Point tomorrow, and be ready to sail on schedule next Saturday. All three of the liners of the Panama Pacific fleet will be dry-docked in San Francisco this winter, with the Virginia and Pennsylvania following the California as soon as they arrive in port. Leo E. Archer, Pacific Coast manager for the line, stated today that the company's vessels are drydocked in San Francisco because of better weather conditions here than at the company's eastern terminals.

Bound for the Orient with 250 passengers and a full cargo of California merchandise and commodities, the liner Shinyo Maru sailed from here today. Among the passengers on the vessel was William D. Lunt of Baltimore, formerly general agent for Struthers & Barry at Shanghai.

SEATTLE, Dec. 31.—During the next three months seventy-three ships will sail from Puget Sound for ports of the United Kingdom, continent, Baltic and Mediterranean. Forty-four of the vessels will be refrigerator carriers. This is one of the largest number of ships to sail from Puget Sound in a like period.

The harbor department announced today that Seattle waterborne commerce for the year of 1929 showed a gain in tonnage of 250,321 tons and in value of $6,543,039 over 1928. The figures were based on complete returns for the first eleven months of this year with December estimated. Total tonnage for 1929 was 9,166,321 tons, as compared with 8,915,956 in 1928. Value of this year's commerce reported a total of $780,287,572, as compared with $773,744,533 last year.

The new $200,000 motorship Penguin, being constructed here for the United States Bureau of Fisheries, will be launched January 7. The vessel is 130 feet long, with a twenty-six-foot beam and 17.10 foot moulded depth. The ship will be operated between Unalaska and the Pribiloff Islands of Bering Sea, carrying supplies and government employees.

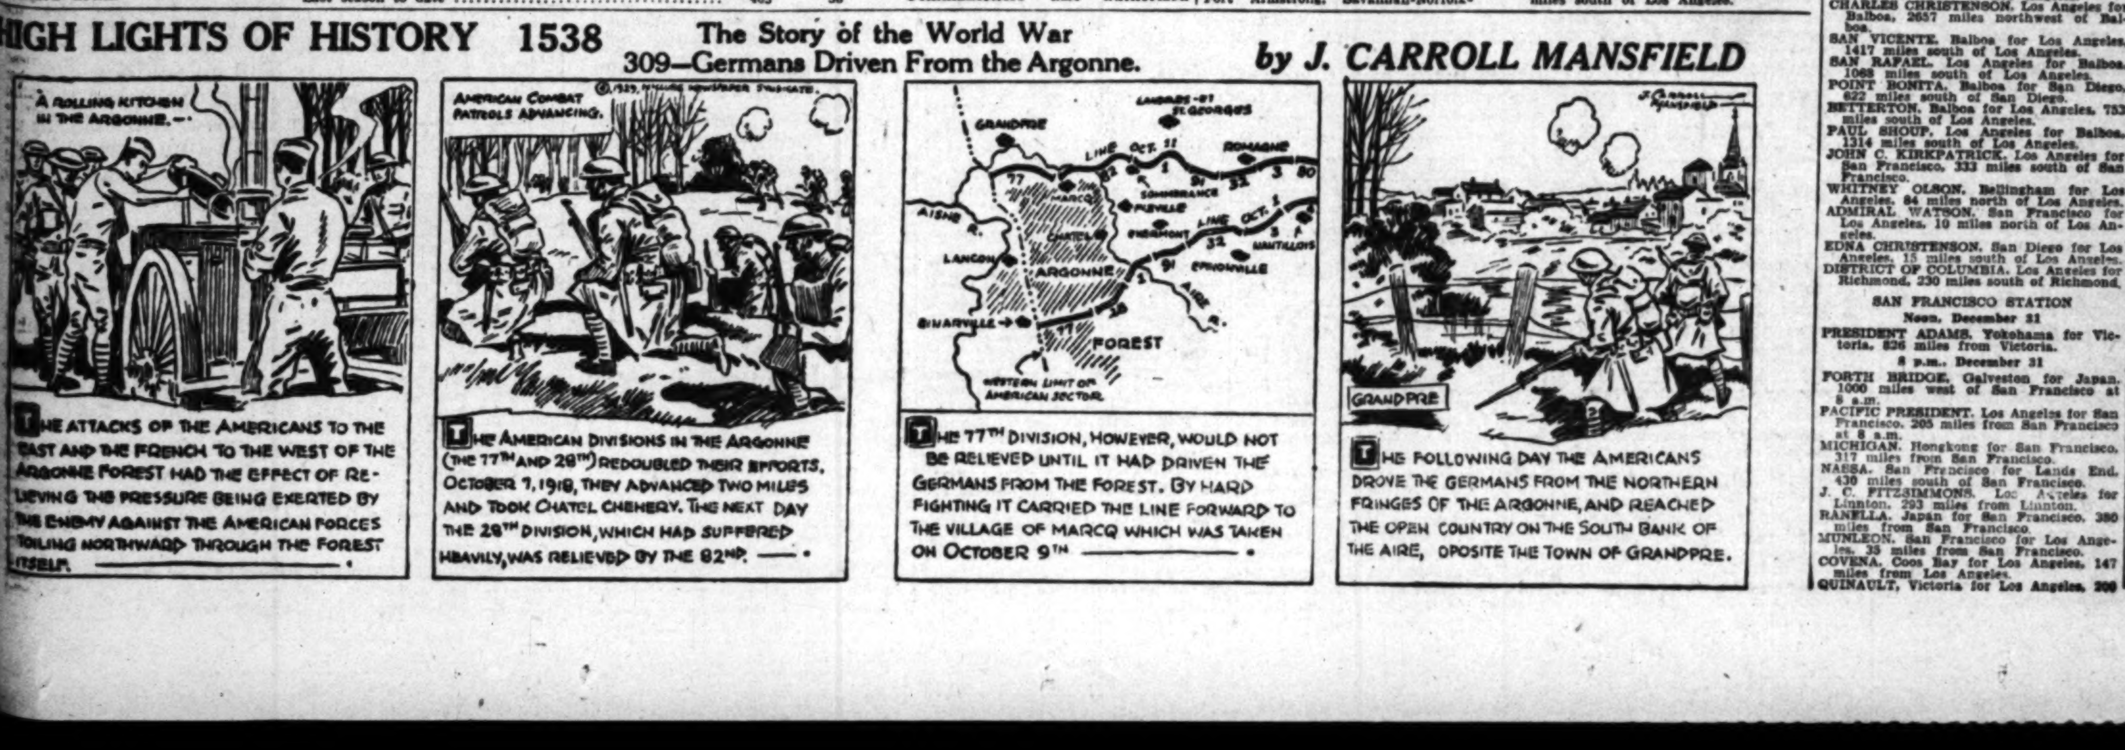
HIGH LIGHTS OF HISTORY 1538

The Story of the World War
309—Germans Driven From the Argonne.

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD



THE ATTACKS OF THE AMERICANS TO THE EAST AND THE FRENCH TO THE WEST OF THE ARGONNE FOREST HAD THE EFFECT OF RELIEVING THE PRESSURE BEING EXERTED BY THE ENEMY AGAINST THE AMERICAN FORCES TOILING NORTHWARD THROUGH THE FOREST ITSELF.

THE AMERICAN DIVISIONS IN THE ARGONNE (THE 77TH AND 28TH) REDOUBLED THEIR EFFORTS. OCTOBER 7, 1918, THEY ADVANCED TWO MILES AND TOOK CHATEL CHEHERY. THE NEXT DAY THE 28TH DIVISION, WHICH HAD SUFFERED HEAVILY, WAS RELIEVED BY THE 82ND.

THE 77TH DIVISION, HOWEVER, WOULD NOT BE RELIEVED UNTIL IT HAD DRIVEN THE GERMANS FROM THE FOREST. BY HARD FIGHTING IT CARRIED THE LINE FORWARD TO THE VILLAGE OF MARCQ WHICH WAS TAKEN ON OCTOBER 9TH

THE FOLLOWING DAY THE AMERICANS DROVE THE GERMANS FROM THE NORTHERN FRINGES OF THE ARGONNE, AND REACHED THE OPEN COUNTRY ON THE SOUTH BANK OF THE AIRE, OPOSITE THE TOWN OF GRANDPRE.

BANK CLEARINGS AT RECORD HIGH

Los Angeles Institution Sets Mark in History

Total for 1929 Reported as $11,066,700,907

Figures Exceed Those of Any Other City in State

Overshadowing the volume for any similar period in the history of the city, bank clearings in Los Angeles for the year just closed crossed the $11,000,000,000 mark for the first time, exceeded the total for any other California city and exceeded last year's figure by more than 2 per cent.

Los Angeles bank clearings in 1929, compiled yesterday by the Los Angeles Clearing House Association, reached an aggregate of $11,066,700,907.89. This compares with $10,825,705,030.06 reported for the full year 1928 and represents a gain of $240,995,877.83, or 2.2 per cent.

MERGERS INFLUENCE

Executives of the clearinghouse pointed out that the number of bank mergers that have taken place since the latter part of 1928 has had a tendency to reduce the volume of clearings compared with previous periods.

Bank clearings in San Francisco for the year just ended were reported yesterday at $10,938,052,000, as against $11,491,219,000 for 1928, a decrease of $553,167,000, or more than 4 per cent.

For the first quarter of 1929 the clearings exceeded the same quarter of 1928 by more than 20 per cent, but since that time have been irregularly up and down. Increases over the corresponding period of 1928 were registered in April, July and August and decreases were recorded in May and June, and in each of the last four months.

DECEMBER TOTAL SAGS

Clearings for January, 1929, were the largest for any month on record, exceeding $1,000,000,000 and representing an increase over the same month of 1928 by 30 per cent. The highest total for any day on record was $59,528,895.54 on February 14, last.

December clearings amounted to $863,346,409.85, the second lowest monthly total for the year and a decrease of $122,764,927.57, or 12.4 per cent from the total for December, 1928. September clearings were the lowest for any month this year at $837,817,483.

NOVEMBER SURVEY OF TRADE OUT

Twelfth District Bank Says Volume Compares Favorably With 1928

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—As contrasted with levels established in recent months, Twelfth District trade declined during November but in general compared favorably with that of the same month last year, according to a summary released today by Isaac B. Newton, chairman of the board and Federal Reserve agent of the Federal Reserve Bank of San Francisco.

Department-store sales were substantially larger than in November, 1928, an increase which may be partly discounted, however, because sales of these stores were relatively small during November last year and because the month this year had five Saturdays.

For the district as a whole, retail sales showed about the usual increase during November as compared with October, although there were rather wide fluctuations in individual cities. The gain in retail sales over November last year was 6.1 per cent for the entire district while the gain for the first eleven months of this year was 2.7 per cent. Department-store stocks increased during November by more than the usual amount and their value at the end of the month was about 3 per cent greater than a year earlier.

Sales at wholesale during the month as reported by 245 houses in ten lines of trade declined more than seasonally but were only slightly smaller in value than in November, 1928. The value of stocks carried by wholesalers was 4.6 per cent larger at the end of November this year than at the close of the same month last year.

Intercoastal traffic through the Panama Canal was in smaller volume than in the previous month but was greater in volume than a year ago.

Motors Lists Sharp Gain in Stockholders

General Motors common and preferred stockholders numbered 198,600 during the fourth quarter of 1929, the largest total on record in the history of the company, more than double the number for the same period of 1928 and an increase over the preceding quarter of 58,487 or 40 per cent, a compilation issued by the company revealed yesterday.

There were 176,693 holders of common stock and the balance of 21,907 represents holders of preferred and debenture stocks. The number of holders of the senior securities were taken from the stock books of record October 7 and the common stockholders were those of record November 23, last.

The total for the last quarter compares with 117,767 common and 22,346 preferred for the third quarter; 102,306 common and 22,839 preferred for the second quarter; and 82,415 common and 22,948 preferred for the first quarter.

SYDNEY OVERTURES FOR LOAN REJECTED

LONDON, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—The Financial Times carries a Sydney dispatch today stating that the Sydney Water Board is understood to have approached financial houses in New York with a view to a loan, but did not receive the slightest encouragement. The Commonwealth underwent a similar experience recently. The issue of loans by four Australian public bodies has been postponed in order to leave the way clear for a Federal conversion loan in February or March.

HAIGHT APPOINTED COAST MANAGER

Hector C. Haight, associated for the past several years with Ross Beason & Co. in Salt Lake City, has been appointed Pacific Coast manager for that company, with headquarters in the local office. Ross Beason & Co. are distributors of corporate trust shares and basic industry shares through a national organization.

DISCOUNT RATE CUT BY SWEDISH BANKS

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 31. (AP)—The Swedish Riksbank reduced its discount rate by ½ per cent, to 4½ per cent, at the same time reducing its interest rate. The private banks and the government-owned Postal Savings Bank have taken similar action.

MORE SELLING EXPECTED

Coast Bond Dealer Found on Eastern Trip That Banks Now Calling Ninety-Day Stock Loans

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Having just completed a swing through the Eastern States and through the Pacific Coast territory in which his company merchandises securities, Eugene B. Palmer of E. B. Palmer Company, with headquarters in San Francisco, brought to Los Angeles yesterday some interesting first-hand impressions on the investment outlook. Unlike a good many prophets, Mr. Palmer is not backward in discussing the unfavorable along with the favorable.

Conversations with bankers in eastern and Pacific Coast cities have convinced this investment dealer that the stock market has not yet run the course of liquidation. More distress selling of stocks is certain to come, he contends, and it will come indirectly through the banks. Technically this type of selling is known as secondary liquidation, a phase that many observers believe has already been passed.

STOCK LOANS CALLED

Mr. Palmer explained yesterday, in forecasting a renewal of pressure on the market, that the bankers in all important cities are now calling loans made on securities during the height of the break. These were sixty and ninety-day loans, unsecured as a rule, made to good customers to tide them over the crisis. But now the bankers are asking for repayment, or at least partial liquidation of these loans, and most customers are compelled or will be compelled to take actual losses.

Loans of this character have a definite relationship to the status of the bond market, as Mr. Palmer pointed out. Right now the major buyers in the bond markets are the insurance companies. Neither the banks nor the private investors are factors, the banks because they are well loaned up on stocks, for one reason. Some time during the year this authority expects the banks to enter the bond market, but in the meantime the tendency is to maintain an aloof attitude.

STOCKS STILL FAVORITES

As for the private investor, Mr. Palmer is one investment dealer who is not sanguine of the return of the days when bonds were the ruling security. He expects an appreciable number of investors, however, to realign themselves behind the standard of fixed income-bearing securities, but the majority will re-enter the stock market, in his opinion.

Perhaps, he said, the inclination toward stocks will encourage a renewal of interest in investment trusts, especially those coming under the strict definition of the term. The trusts limited by wise restrictions have performed creditably, he said, and are worthy of attention of discerning investors.

Any number of investment trust shares as well as the stocks of trading companies are available in the market at prices under the liquidating value. The present indifference to these stocks is likened by Mr. Palmer to the attitude of British investors at times during the early history of the British trusts and their troubles. Confidence was soon restored among investors friendly to the principle of diversification.

Employee's Act Leads Brokers to Bankruptcy

CINCINNATI, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Due to stock speculations by an employee who was buying and selling stock for himself under an assumed name, together with other heavy losses suffered in the recent stock break, and the inability of customers to settle legitimate accounts, Roberts & Hall, prominent brokerage house, today applied to the Common Pleas Court for the appointment of a receiver and Graham P. Hunt, attorney, was named to take charge of the company's affairs.

The partners believe that all creditors are fully protected and that with the receiver in charge all accounts will be settled in full.

The New York Stock Exchange, the Cincinnati Stock Exchange and the Chicago Board of Trade, in which the brokerage house held memberships, all announced the suspension today of the concern.

Savings Bank Shows Growth During Year

Healthy growth in deposits, surplus and undivided profits of the German American Savings Bank of Los Angeles was reported yesterday by Carl L. Schloessmann, president, in a letter to stockholders outlining the year's progress. The directors have recommended, he states in the letter, that the inauguration of dividends be postponed for another six months in order to still further strengthen the undivided-profits account.

Deposits at the close of the year, according to Mr. Schloessmann's statement, were more than $2,500,000. This compares with $700,468.15, the total at the close of business on March 18, 1927, the day the bank was opened. Deposits on October 4, last, were $2,464,573.06.

Compared with surplus and undivided profits on October 4, last, of $101,279.59, the total for the year was approximately $133,000, Mr. Schloessmann informs the stockholders.

The German American Savings Bank is the only bank in Los Angeles exclusively doing a savings business.

CANADA NEWSPRINT LEAD

United States Loses First Place as Producer to Dominion Since Close of War

BY JOHN F. SINCLAIR

(Copyright, 1929, by the North American Newspaper Alliance.)

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 31.—Canada's leadership in the field of newsprint has come about since the war. In 1919 Canada's output was 808,000 tons, against 1,375,000 tons produced in the United States.

Ten years later, the figures are almost reversed. Canada has moved into first place in the world with an output of 2,380,000 tons, while the United States turned out but 1,415,000 tons. So Canada, with 59 per cent of the world's newsprint production, is in a strategic position.

Put it this way: While the United States increased its production in the last ten years by about 3 per cent, Canada increased hers by 200 per cent. And why?

At the beginning of this period, 1919, the demand for newsprint was so great it sold for the highest price in its history. And Canada had abundant forests, plenty of water power, much idle labor. So, backed by American money and very favorable free timber rights, the Dominion erected new mills and expanded production rapidly. Price continued to soar. Then, in due time, the inevitable happened. The supply became greater than the demand and prices began dropping until they hit $50 a ton.

Last year the price moved up from $50 to $55 a ton, for in the first eleven months of this year Canadian and American paper mills operated at 83.5 per cent of capacity. In the month of October at 87.5 per cent.

Then the big three—Abitibi, Price Brothers and the St. Maurice Valley—announced that their contract rates, beginning January 1, 1930, would be $60 a ton, and the fur began to fly. They announced that those customers willing to sign for three years would be favored with a rebate of $5 a ton for the first six months of the contract. Since that time there have been many conferences between newsprint purchasers and manufacturers in an attempt to adjust their differences.

The general consensus seems to be that with the mills working at only 85 per cent of their capacity the present time is not psychologically the one to increase the newsprint price. It is expected that the matter will be amicably adjusted very shortly.

The well-educated business man of Europe usually speaks two or three languages fluently. It was more true even before the great war than now. The languages most usually speaken by them are English, German and French. But what of the future?

Today there are more than 3000 languages spoken on the earth. As civilization advances and communication brings the whole world into closer proximity the question of a universal language is given more attention.

Will there be a universal language?

The talking movie—and the silent one, too—have done more to spread the English language in the last fifteen years than all the missionaries and business salesmen in the preceding five hundred years.

Undoubtedly great inroads are being made by this language in all parts of the world, especially in South America. Even in countries like Japan it is hard to find a schoolboy or girl who does not understand a little English.

The motion picture has become almost a world-wide American industry. Many European countries have sensed this danger, from their standpoint, and are preparing to subsidize their own motion-picture talkies.

But, like every other business, it cannot be developed with only government subsidy.

The talkies of Hollywood and New York are likely to dominate the world field for a long time to come.

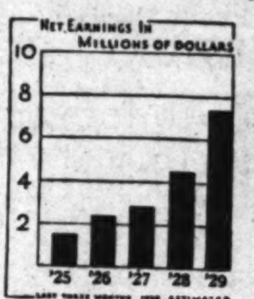
WITH THE
UTILITIES POWER & LIGHT SYSTEM

During 1930 Utilities Power & Light Corporation will spend $60,000,000 for new development. The year closes with the System serving nearly 750,000 customers in nineteen states, in England and Canada. The territory served has a population of more than five million. During the year the System announced the acquisition of the Greater London and Counties Trust Limited, the subsidiaries of which furnish electric energy to a territory where the field for expansion is very great.

Earnings of the System have shown remarkable increases, particularly the net income after all charges have been deducted. The earnings statements for the past five years show annual increases from 23 to 70 per cent in net income available for dividends. Stockholders increased during the past year from approximately 40,000 to about 55,000.



Several major projects of new construction stand out as very impressive in the System's 1930 program. A 160,000 kilowatt superpower plant is being built on the White River near Indianapolis. Another of similar size is under construction on the Raritan River near Sayreville, New Jersey. A 10,000,000 cubic feet gas holder—one of the largest in the world—is being built in St. Louis. Lines, operating equipment and service will be extended and improved throughout all properties.

Stronger Tone Rules Trading on Wheat Mart

CHICAGO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Optimism regarding the 1930 outlook for higher prices dominated the wheat market today. United States wheat at the Gulf of Mexico, ready for shipments overseas, was regarded as commanding the best basis of this season, equalizing the price of Argentine delivery. Besides, a leading Chicago authority announced that for the first time since July, 1926, commercial wheat stocks of the world now show a smaller total than for the corresponding stage of the preceding year.

After scoring advances throughout the day, wheat closed unsettled, ⅝@1⅜c a bushel higher than yesterday's finish. Corn closed at 1⅜c net decline to ⅛c gain, oats ⅛ off to ⅛c up and provisions unchanged to a setback of 10c.

Generally accepted statements current here today said world's commercial wheat stocks reached a maximum in November, 1929, after a steady accumulation for four consecutive years, but that the trend is now changed, and is definitely downward. Meanwhile from another source figures were at hand indicating world shipments of wheat so far this season are 100,000,000 bushels less than a year ago. Leading further encouragement to buyers of wheat for future deliveries in Chicago were advices of liberal chartering of vessels for wheat shipments from Galveston and Houston, totaling sufficient to clean up by January 3 the present stocks of wheat at those ports. Liverpool dispatches said improved demand there for United States wheat was due to price advances asked in Argentina, where offerings were light. North American wheat export business was estimated at 700,000 bushels.

Considerable nervousness in the corn, oats and rye markets attended completion of trading in December delivery. Holders proved to be willing sellers, though to shorts, who were short of grain to fill December contracts, and the month expired with nothing in the nature of fireworks. Better demand for corn was evidenced by industries and shippers.

In the provision market, the effect of downturns of hog values was fairly well counterbalanced by grain strength.

LOS ANGELES EXCHANGE

Last-Minute Buying Sweeps Stock Prices Upward as Closing Bell Rings Out 1929

Pivotal issues, leading the general trend of prices, surged upward in the abbreviated session of the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday, closing the year of 1929 with every indication that traders are confident the turn of the new year will be the signal for a revival of constructive operations.

While it was reported that there was still some last-minute selling for income-tax purposes, which was done on a cash basis, evidence of a strong demand was manifested throughout the entire list. An index of thirty common stocks on the board prepared by the exchange reached the lowest level for the year in the preceding session.

Rio Grande Oil led the day's turnover, followed closely by Richfield, and advances of a full point or more were chalked up for Union, Richfield, Pacific Western, Pacific Finance, Southern California Edison, Byron Jackson and International Re-Insurance. The sharpest gain was scored by Byron Jackson, which spurted 2 3-8 points to 17½.

Although Rio Grande was the most active issue on the board, it registered the smallest advance of any of the petroleum shares by closing at 19 1-8, up 1-8. Richfield recently under selling pressure, rallied 1 3-8 points to 25 1-4. Union Associates gained 1 1-8 to 44 7-8 and Union Oil 7-8 to 45 1-4. Standard of California firmed up 5-8 to 60 7-8 and Pacific Western, 1 point to 13.

Southern California Edison swung up 1 3-4 points to 56 7-8; Pacific Finance, 1 1-4 points to 40½ and International Re-Insurance, 1 point to 41. Transamerica on a turnover of 1700 shares closed steady at 42 1-4.

Bank stocks were practically unchanged with the exception of California Bank, which recovered 1-4 to end at 114. Douglas Aircraft rallied 7-8 to finish the year at 13.

Sales totaled 21,585 shares, valued at $568,663; previous day, 33,850 shares, valued at $927,511.

LOS ANGELES CURB

Following the trend on the parent board, security prices turned generally upward on the year's closing session yesterday on the Los Angeles Curb Exchange. While the trading continued at a relatively slow pace most operations appeared to be on the long side.

Claude Neon Electrical Products of Delaware featured the session with an advance of 1⅛ points to 30⅝, and Electrical Products of Washington gained a full point to 12. Fractional improvement was shown in Cities Service, Consolidated Steel preferred, Fokker Aircraft, Gladding McBean, Hancock Oil and Intercoast Trading.

Operations were mixed among the lower-priced issues. Samson Tire continued its downward course, sinking .95 to 3.05, another new low. Bolsa Chica gained .15 to 1.20 and Universal Consolidated Oil, 5 cents to 1.35. Other changes were of little consequence.

Sales totaled 45,065 shares valued at $85,787; previous day, 47,363 shares valued at $179,977.

SAN FRANCISCO

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (AP)—Whirling prices upward as if to drown memory of the dying year's disaster, and to greet the new year with a bright countenance, western investors bid spiritedly for stocks in the closing hour of trading on the San Francisco Stock Exchange today.

The early part of the day had seen jerkey movements in sales trends. Reinvestment demand for funds made available at the year-end was evident from the start, but sudden inroads by last-day tax selling for cash cut down the advancing issues. The tax sales had to be for cash to figure in 1929 returns. Cash buyers held out for concessions of ⅛ to ½-point, thus checking the upturn. When the cash sales petered out there was a rush to buy, investors trying to get into the market ahead of the expected early January demand.

Buying orders sent a number of coast favorites skipping on the liveliest jumps they have taken for many weeks. West Coast Bancorporation gained 5 points, Pacific Lighting 4½, Caterpillar 4⅜, and advances of 1 to 2 points were common, including most of the leading oils and industrials, many of them selling ex-dividend.

Outside of the gain by Pacific Lighting, small gains, or steady prices were shown by the utilities. No news was available concerning the group, but year-end reviews pointed out that practically all coast utilities have launched far-reaching programs of development.

The oil group made steady progress, Standard of California and Union Oil leading with gains of 1⅛. Shell and Tidewater were the only ones in the group that failed to advance. Favorable investment advices gave the block some strength. Announcement of national and State reduction of output of crude oil, despite the completion of numerous new wells, created a wave of optimism for the 1930 outlook.

Transamerica yielded its usual place of leadership to Magnavox and Caterpillar. The Giannini holding corporation closed even after selling fractionally higher and showing only narrow variations. Magnavox came suddenly to life, moving up quickly to 2½ for a gain of ⅜. The holders of the stock have been counting on favorable court adjustment of claims against companies alleged to have infringed Magnavox patents. Decision is looked for in January.

Industrials showing gains of 1 to 2 points to greet the new year included Marchant, selling ex-dividend, Golden State Milk, Byron Jackson, Home Fire and Marine, and Oliver Filters A and B. Langendorf Bakeries A and B sold down 2 or more points, and Illinois Pacific Glass lost 1.

Trading totaled 41,387 shares for the shortened session which ended at 1 p.m. Money turnover was $1,065,816. Bond sales were $15,000. The Exchange will remain closed tomorrow.

NEW YORK BOND PRICES

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—The close of an exceptionally dull year found the average of bond prices about midway between the high and low for 1929. The former level was reached last January, the latter in September, when interest rates were at their peak.

Between these months bonds slumped almost steadily as the country's credit structure was burdened with the load of stock speculation and interest rates soared. After the October crash there was a brief revival in fixed income securities as money cheapened, but the improvement came just before the seasonal tightening in funds and was short lived. From late November until today prices tended lower in a thin market, although bonds of the highest grade maintained a firmness that suggested a much stronger market when unfavorable temporary conditions had disappeared.

In some respects, today's session was typical of the year. Convertibles were strong, and it was the share feature group that gave the list its life during the dreary months of the long decline. Also, the market's turnover was very small, reminiscent of the midsummer apathy.

On the other hand, the hardening process which has been at work in investment loans the past six weeks was continued and net gains exceeded losses by a comfortable margin. The larger declines were traceable to special conditions, while the smaller recessions resulted from final tax selling which was for cash.

Time money was full at 4¾ to 5 per cent.

The advances in the convertibles ranged from 1 to more than 4 points with American Telephone 4½s, exchangeable for stock beginning Thursday, moving up 4½ points and maintaining their customary leadership in volume. International Telephone 4½s advanced 2½; Allegheny 5s, American I. G. Chemical 5½s and Missouri Pacific 5½s, 1 point each; and Atchison 4½s 1½.

The rails were slightly less active than in recent sessions. Foreign bonds were much stronger and French 7½s made a record 1929 price at 113½.

New York State Railways issues suffered from the announcement of a receivership for the traction company. The 4½s dropped 3½ points and the 6½s tumbled 5⅛, but the latter loss was on the sale of a single $1000 bond. Cuba Cane Sugar 7s and 8s were undisturbed by word that neither principal nor interest on the former, due tomorrow, would be paid. The company is in a receivership.

The quotations represent sales of bonds (in thousands of dollars) and the high, low and closing prices in order given. To expedite transmission, the close is omitted when the same as the low, and both low and close when same as high.

NEW YORK CURB STOCKS

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—The curb market ended the most trying year since it came in from outdoors today with a brisk bullish demonstration. Scores of leading shares mounted 1 to 8 points, while a few of the more mercurial issues made wider gains, running to a maximum of 50 points in Deere. Trading, however, was in comparatively light volume, sales running but little above 800,000 shares.

The upturn appeared to be accelerated by covering by shorts, who have been waiting until today to take their profits, so they would not be taxed on them until 1931, as the day's trades will not be cleared until January 2. Operators for the rise took advantage of the covering to enliven the proceedings.

The buying movement was broad, including practically all sections of the list, but was most conspicuous in the utilities and oil. Investment trusts also made marked progress. Northern States Power closed nearly 19 points higher, and American Gas and Electric, Electric Bond and Share, Central States Electric, Allied Power, American Superpower and American and Foreign Power warrants were among issues rising 2 to 6 points.

Chesebrough Manufacturing, usually classed with the oils, rose 26½ points. Ohio Oil mounted 8 and Gulf nearly 5. Goldman Sachs was a strong spot in the investment trusts, rising 3 points. Interstate Equities, Shenandoah, and Selected Industries rose 1 to 2 points, and National Investors 3.

Among the specialties, Ulen & Co. rose a couple of points on announcement of the signing of a contract to build a dam in Chile. Mines were strong, Newmont rising about 8 and Mayflower Associates more than 3 points.

American Cigar, Curtis Light, Landis Machine and United Chemical broke to new lows. A particularly weak spot was Wiebolt Stores, which dropped 14 points to 28. U. S. and International Securities, which had previously traded at 4⅝, changed hands at 1.

The closing price is omitted when same as the low, and both low and close when same as the high.

and industrial reports day were in keeping with trend. The weekly steel reviews indicated that re- for railway and struc- materials are holding up well, that automotive demand is gaining. Mill operations, have recently fallen close per cent of capacity, compared to above 80 per cent a year ago, are expected to be reported at 60 per cent of capacity at the close of the week. A tabulation of net operating income of the first seventy-five railroads to report for November shows a reduction of 22 per cent from the previous November.

RANGE WIDE

At the close of the year, the Standard Statistics Company-Associated Press composite index of ninety leading stocks at 170.3, compared to 180.5 on December 7, the peak of the rally from the minimum level of 140.3 on November 13, the bottom of the crash. The high record of 253.5 was reached September 7. The year's final level of 170.3 compares with 193.4 at the close of 1928, which was the peak of that year, and approximates the levels of early October, 1928.

Utilities and leading industrials were prominent in today's rally. Shares selling up about 4 to 10 points, included such issues as American Telephone, American and Foreign Power, American Can, American Tobacco B, American Water Works, A. M. Byers, J. I. Case, Eastman Kodak, General Electric, Macy, Missouri Kansas Texas, Republic Steel, Simmons, Southern Railway, Standard Gas, Underwood Elliott, United States Steel, and Westinghouse Electric. High flyers were International Business Machines, up 12; Webster Union, up 23½; and Midland Steel preferred, up 19⅛.

The commodity markets were steady to firm. Wheat futures gained about 1 cent a bushel, reflecting firm foreign markets and good export demand. Corn futures were firm on unfavorable weather reports and smaller receipts at markets. The cotton market continued quiet with prices moving in a narrow range.

Foreign exchanges reflected preholiday dullness. Sterling cables sagged 1-16 to 4.88 1-8, while French francs cables rallied 1-16 to 3.94 cents, at which level further takings of New York gold would be profitable.

Church Holds Anniversary Celebration

GLENDALE, Dec. 31.—The congregation of the Central Christian Church tonight celebrated the thirteenth anniversary of the pastorate of Rev. Clifford A. Cole, under whose ministry the church has grown from a membership of 140 to its present strength of 1100, with 800 enrolled in the church school.

As indicating the growth of the church, its property was valued at $7500 when Rev. Cole assumed the pastorate thirteen years ago, during his ministry the present edifice has been erected at a cost of $100,000 to provide room for the various departments of the church work.

The policy of the church calls for specialization in work among the younger members and a staff of fifty teachers make up the educational force of the congregation. The celebration of Rev. Cole's anniversary in the pulpit was followed by a brief but impressive watch night service.

NEW VENICE OIL WELL TO BE DRILLED

Ohio Company's Second Venture to Be in Direct Line with Discovery Hole

The Ohio Oil Company has staked location for its Recreation Gun Club No. 2 well to be drilled 550 feet south of the company's discovery well, southeast of Venice, and is making preparations to construct the foundation for a derrick.

Ohio's second venture will go down in search of the same producing formation discovered in Recreation Gun Club No. 1, which is flowing out 2000 barrels of oil a day from a depth of 6199 feet. Indications are that work on the second project will be pushed rapidly. It is in a direct line with the discovery well.

There is some talk of constructing an absorption plant to handle the gas output of Ohio's producer. An independent operator has been consulted in the matter by a big company, and it is believed that an agreement will be worked out whereby the company will furnish gas for general drilling, providing the gas obtained in its completed wells is turned over to the other company to be treated for casing-head gasoline.

According to reliable checks on Ohio's well the gas now being produced has a very high gasoline content. The sulphur content is less than 2 per cent.

Officials of the Western Oil and Refining Company yesterday announced that a deal was recently made for handling Ohio's crude oil output at Venice, and that its future production also will be taken. Ohio has constructed six 2000-barrel tanks and one 1000-barrel tank, and it is believed to be adequate at present to handle the flow. Some of the oil is being taken out by tank trucks.

Stunt air performances of any kind have been forbidden over English towns, regattas, race meetings and any other events in England where crowds collect.

Oil Storage Figures Drop in November

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—Total stocks of crude and refined oils in the United States on November 30, last, totaled 677,819,000 barrels against 680,790,000 on October 31, the peak, and 615,183,000 barrels on November 30, 1928, the Bureau of Mines announced here today.

Crude-oil production during November was 78,161,000 barrels or 2,605,400 daily against 88,104,000 or 2,842,000 daily in October and 76,128,000 or 2,573,000 daily in November, 1928.

Gasoline stocks totaled 37,780,000 barrels on November 30, against 35,042,000 on October 31 and 29,185,000 on November 30, 1928. This represents thirty-two days' supply against twenty-eight in October and twenty-nine in November, 1928.

Domestic consumption of gasoline in November was 31,502,000 barrels or 1,050,000 daily against 32,816,000 or 1,059,000 daily in October and 25,841,000 or 1,005,000 daily in November, 1928.

Tax Society to Keep up Fight

Pointing out that the New Year holds forth further opportunity for tax-reduction programs of Statewide scope, mainly through strict budgetary control along economical and efficient lines, Dr. George C. Sabichi, president of California Taxation Improvement Association, yesterday stated that the association will continue its fight upon capital levies and multiple taxation, directing particular attention to overlapping special assessment districts for localized public improvements.

In Los Angeles county the new requirement of 67 per cent petitions on the part of property owners for improvement proceedings instead of 51 per cent as in the past, indicates how a general curb can be placed on those burdens which are of questionable necessity without impeding essential progress, Dr. Sabichi said.

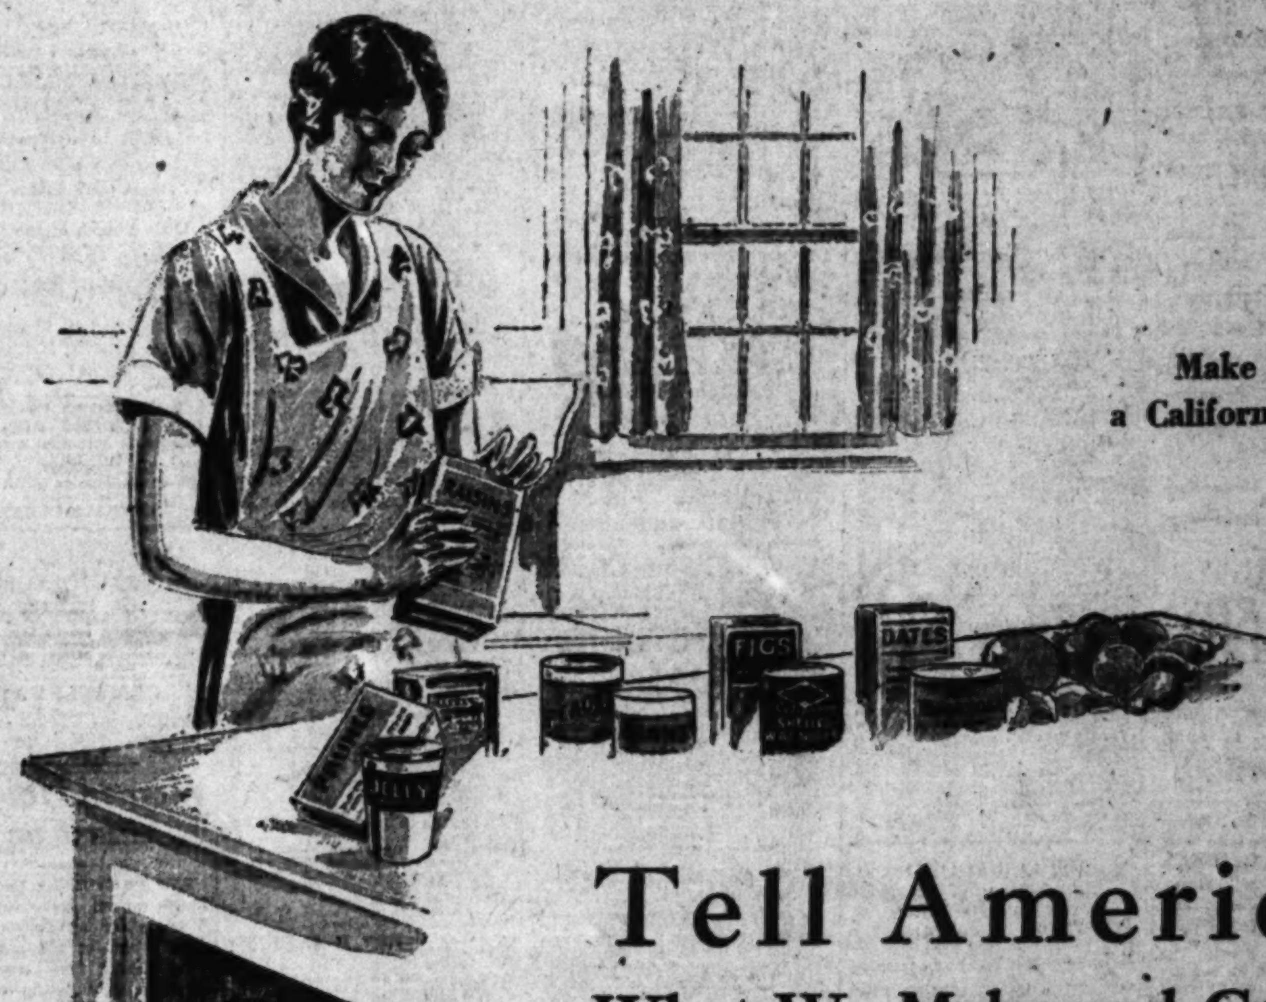
Leib, Keyston Plan Expansion

Leib, Keyton & Co. yesterday announced plans to open a Hollywood office in the Roosevelt Hotel shortly after the first of the year. The new branch will be equipped for complete brokerage service with New York, Los Angeles and San Francisco stock quotations, supplemented by the news ticker service.

The decision to open the new offices was prompted by the need for convenient facilities for handling the company's Hollywood business, it was announced.

RECEIPTS RENEWED

Owing to the fact that there is no longer any Maddux Air Lines depository receipts outstanding, this stock will be removed from trading on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange immediately, the exchange announced yesterday. Right to deposit Maddux Air Lines Company stock for Transcontinental Air Transport, in the ratio of one for two, expires the 15th inst.



Make 1930 a California Year!

Tell America
What We Make and Grow

What would it mean to YOU if America could be made to eat two oranges—two walnuts—two boxes of sardines—where it now eats only one? — If it went twice as often to see California motion pictures?—If its 120,000,000 inhabitants doubled their consumption of Los Angeles-made frocks, furniture, glassware, leather, woolen and metal products?

Popularizing the things Southern California makes and grows—creating new contacts with dealers—opening up new markets—is one of the dozen big jobs the ANNUAL MIDWINTER NUMBER successfully performs.

In performing this service it is working for YOU. It is working for you because the money brought to Southern California translates itself into increased demand for YOUR goods and YOUR services.

FARMERS' CUPBOARDS GOING BARE

No 1929 Carry-over, and Bumper Harvests in 1930 Predicted, by Hecke!

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—California farmers can look upon the new year of 1930 with marked optimism, George H. Hecke, State Director of Agriculture, predicted today in his final statement of 1929.

Curtailed production due to the frost of last spring and its accompanying $42,500,000 boost in fruit prices, said Hecke, will result in no important carry-overs of canned and dried fruits.

"Indications point to bare shelves in the State's export cupboard," said Hecke, "by the time we are ready to sell our 1930 output of canned and dried fruits. With prospects for an adequate rainfall and absence of probability of recurrence of freeze, growers logically may expect more equitable returns next year."

Cordial support by agricultural industries in standardization during the past year undoubtedly will aid in solving marketing problems which will be undertaken in the next twelve months, said Hecke.

Bad Weather Again Delays Eielson Search

FAIRBANKS (Alaska) Dec. 31. (AP)—Extreme low temperatures, combined with poor visibility throughout the Northland, postponed the scheduled take-off for Nome of the Canadian expedition which will search the Siberian wastes for Pilot Carl Ben Eielson and Mechanic Earl Borland, missing somewhere between Teller, Alaska, and North Cape, Siberia, since early in November.

Two of the planes will take off tomorrow, however, provided the predicted warmer weather materializes, those in charge of the expedition said, to be followed Thursday by a third plane.

ANGLER GETS HALIBUT FISHING FOR SMALL FRY

SAN FERNANDO, Dec. 31.—Using smelt tackle Fred Nemback of this city, hooked a twenty-six-pound halibut off Hueneme Beach and landed it after a twenty-minute struggle. The fish, with the inch-long hook which caught it, is being exhibited here today by Mr. Nemback. He had just hooked a smelt on his line when the halibut took the smelt and hook both.

En Méjico se Espera que el 1930 Sea Pacífico

CIUDAD DE MEJICO, Diciembre 31.—Tres sucesos de gran relieve acaecidos en Méjico en 1929 han despejado la atmósfera política, y se augura un año nuevo próspero y tranquilo, tal como ni los más optimistas se lo esperaban hace doce meses.

Ante Méjico se presenta una era de paz casi asegurada, de creciente confianza internacional, de desarrollo comercial y de moderada prosperidad. Todo esto viene como consecuencia del fracaso de la revolución de Escobar, de la solución de las dificultades religiosas, y de la pacífica elección presidencial. Esos son los tres acontecimientos de gran significación del año que fina hoy.

Los últimos meses de 1929 forman contraste con los de principio de año, salpicados de sangre, ejecuciones, tentativas de bombardeos al presidente, y sordos rumores de revolución, que culminaron en la sofocada revuelta del mes de Marzo.

Los Yanquis le Echarán Mano al Tesoro de los Guelfos

HANOVER (Alemania), Diciembre 31.—Parece ser que ha fracasado una última tentativa de conservar en Alemania el famoso tesoro de los guelfos, consistente en joyas forjadas a mano y en muebles, todo de antiquísimo estilo, y que el exduque de Brunswick está tratando de vender. El concejo municipal ha resuelto no comprarlo.

Tenía la municipalidad una opción, y ha quedado libre el duque para cerrar trato con un sindicato que obra, según se dice, en representación de capitalistas yanquis.

Mejora la Señora Presidenta

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 31.—La señora Herbert Hoover, esposa del presidente, que lleva dos días de estar recluida con resfriado en sus habitaciones de la Casa Blanca, se hallaba hoy casi enteramente restablecida.

El "doctor Joel Boone, médico de la casa Blanca, dijo que había sido ligera la indisposición de la señora Hoover; pero que había sido preciso tomar precauciones para que no fuera a agravársele el resfrío.

La Prohibición es el Asunto del Día en Washington

WASHINGTON, Diciembre 31.—Hoy se han renovado las indicaciones de que los funcionarios federales que empleen medidas de gran severidad para hacer observar las leyes "secas" recibirán el apoyo de sus superiores. En efecto, Seymour Lowman, subsecretario de Hacienda, ha dicho que la muerte de tres matuteros de aguardiente frente a Newport por los hombres del servicio guardacostas ha sido "lamentable, pero inevitable".

Esta declaración terminante de Lowman vino tras otra igualmente rotunda del contraalmirante Billard, jefe del servicio guardacostas, quien dijo que sus hombres no están bromeando, y añadió que la ley no puede hacerse observar mediante "palabras dulces" y "ademanes remirados".

Diputada que no Volverá a Luchar por su Escaño

WASHINGTON, Dciembre 31.—La nave del Estado debe ser gobernada por los hombres, en opinión de la señora Pearl Peden Oldfield, una de las ocho mujeres que ocupaban curules en la cámara de diputados. Por tal razón, entre otras, la señora Oldfield no tratará de ser reelegida el año venidero. Tiene el propósito de volver con su anciana madre a Batesville (Arkansas), donde residía la diputada con su marido, William A. Oldfield, líder democrático de la cámara, antes de la muerte de éste, en 1928.

"Hay tantas otras cosas que puede hacer una mujer, y que son imposibles para el hombre", manifestó hoy la señora Oldfield, "¿Por qué no hacerlas, y dejar que los hombres hagan aquello para lo que tienen aptitudes?"

Duck Hunter's Kills to Shrink Next Season

WASHINGTON, Dec. 31. (AP)—The bag limit for ducks next year will be fifteen and after a man kills four geese he will be through for the day.

Secretary Hyde announced today that the changes in Federal regulations will go into effect after the present hunting season. At present the bag limit under Federal law for ducks is twenty-five and for geese eight.

An extensive investigation by the Department of Agriculture, which showed that water fowl were not holding their own, was a factor in the decision to reduce the limit as per representations made by conservation agencies and sportsmen's organizations.

Everybody Happy When 1930 Arrived

Mirth and merriment mingled with unrestrained outbursts of enthusiasm and glee ran rampant last night as all Southern California made glad welcome to 1930.

From the seashore to the mountain tops the thousands of celebrants heralded the arrival of the new year and offered a farewell to [illegible]

"Let joy be unconfined" seemed to be the watchword as the populace of the Southland paid the annual tribute to the departing year and sang and shouted praises for the new arrival.

At midnight the siren of The Times joined in the celebration telling of the birth of another year.

Guests at the principal hotels, where many private parties were in progress, joined in the merriment of the New Year and continued their celebration until early morning hours.

THOUSANDS DOWNTOWN

The center of the great welcome to the new year was found in the business section of the metropolitan area, where the streets were barred to all traffic and the teeming thousands surged and swirled in impromptu parades.

Fourteen blocks on Broadway and Hill streets were jammed from wall to wall with a seething mass of humanity as the celebrants gathered for the toll of twelve that marked the official passing of the old year.

Blares and blasts from the horns, whistles, bells and noise makers of the armies of happy and joyous merry makers began shortly after dusk, when the police cordon closed the revelry area.

CROWDS ORDERLY

As the shadows of the old year began to grow long and the ever-ticking hand of time moved slowly toward the first second of the New Year crowds grew more dense. Vendors of confetti, paper hats and caps and sound mechanism of a hundred descriptions supplied the eager hands of the merrymakers, who kept up their continual din.

Special arranged lights in the windows of the City Hall tower flashed out the numerals of the new year, with the 1 showing in the north side, the 9 on the west, the 3 on the south and the 0 in the east.

A large number of extra uniformed and plain-clothes police were detailed for the special area. At the intersections four policemen kept the crowds moving, while the sidewalks in each block were under the observation of the patrolmen.

No reports of serious disturbances in the crowded district were made and except for noise and merriment celebrants were unusually orderly, according to the police.

Reservations at the hotels and cabarets, where gay diners and dancers awaited the stroke of midnight, were at a premium and the large dining and ball rooms were crowded. Capacity crowds moved through the corridors of the hostelries as the celebrating throngs arrived to claim gayly decorated tables.

LIQUOR CURBED

The detailed program of prohibition enforcement officials, arranged to cut the violations of the dry law to the minimum, was declared to be a success early in the evening. Numerous officers were scattered throughout the throngs on the streets, and in the different cafés, to warn violators and to make immediate arrests if use of intoxicants became too apparent.

Many homes were the scenes of private gatherings, where the old-fashioned "watch party" held sway, while all private clubs were scenes of gayety and cheer as members and friends paid tribute to the end of another year and the start of a new one.

Midnight services at many of the churches were conducted, and the more serious aspect of the dawn of another year and the departure of the old were discussed by clergymen.

The celebration in Venice, Santa Monica and Ocean Park drew a crowd of between 50,000 and 75,000 to the beaches, according to the police estimate. The crowd was exceptionally quiet and orderly, and only ten arrests for intoxication were reported at midnight. This figure, police said, is considerably less than last year. All the beach clubs were the scenes of special

BOY DIES FROM BURNS AT PLAY

Wire Tossed on High-Tension Power Line Fatal for Alhambra Lad

ALHAMBRA, Dec. 31. (Exclusive)—The New Year never came for Robert Armstrong, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Armstrong, 1214 South San Gabriel Boulevard.

The boy died tonight from burns suffered late this afternoon when he is thought to have thrown playfully a small wire over a high-tension line near Edmund Drive and Walnut Grove avenue in Rosemead. All his clothing was burned from his body. He was taken to the Alhambra Hospital, where he later died.

The loud report and flash of fire when the connection was made caused a rumor that an airplane had crashed.

BOND VOTE FOR WATER LAND ASKED

April Election Proposed to Finance Purchase of Owens Valley Towns

The Board of Water and Power Commissioners yesterday adopted a resolution asking the Mayor and the City Council to call a special election April 8, next, to vote bonds for the purchase of property and water rights in the five Owens River Valley towns of Independence, Bishop, Lone Pine, Big Pine and Laws.

The resolution does not state the purchase price, but Commissioner Palmer, who sponsored the move, estimates the cost at $5,700,000 for the five towns. Aside from the towns, Commissioner Palmer said, the remaining lands in the valley are valued at about $4,000,000. The resolution does not refer to these lands nor to the project of acquiring additional water rights in the Mono Basin.

Yesterday's resolution is a step in the long series of negotiations and conflicts with the valley people.

It sets forth that after a series of conferences and appraisements a plan has been worked out which the board believes to be acceptable to both the city and the valley residents.

The plan is that the city buy the property at the priced fixed by the survey and, on payment of one-quarter of the cost, gain the water rights, and that pending a five-year period the city, by paying the remaining three-quarters, can acquire the full title to the property.

Four conditions upon which the consummation of the plan depend are set up. They are: (1) that the Los Angeles voters approve the bonds, (2) that title be made available to at least 98 per cent of the property in each of the towns, (3) that the valley residents co-operate with the board even to the extent of annexing the valley to the city or the establishment and development of public parks and playgrounds in the valley, and (4) that the courts declare the scheme to be legal.

As to the subject of annexation, at the last session of the Legislature a bill was introduced on behalf of the Water and Power Commission that annexation may be effected to a city of territory not contiguous, but within the basin where the city derives its water supply. The bill never was reported out of committee. Under the present statutes the territory annexed must be contiguous.

Air Line Cuts Rates in Half

A 50 per cent reduction of passenger rates, effective today, over the midwestern division of the southern transcontinental air route was announced yesterday by Jack Frye, president of Standard Airlines, Inc., which forms the western link of the route.

The reduction, put in force between Sweetwater and St. Louis, makes the fare approximately 5 cents per mile over this 750-mile division, and establishes the total transcontinental fare over the southern route at $181.37.

MAYOR DEFINES POLICE POLICY

Porter Tells Commissioners and Steckel of Plans

Strict Observance of Laws Expected of Officers

Full Co-operation Promised to Department's Chief

A New Year's message, in which he publicly expressed his views for the first time on the elevation of Roy E. Steckel to Chief of Police by emergency appointment Monday, was delivered to the Police Commission yesterday by Mayor Porter. He predicted a new era of law-enforcement in the city and law-observance by the members of the police department, in response to a statement from President Thorpe that the commission would like to hear from him.

"Members of the Police Commission, Chief Steckel and others," said the Mayor, "we are entering upon a new year with a new Chief, new policies and new procedure and, therefore, it is apropos to say a few words.

OBSERVANCE EXPECTED

"I hope this coming year will be a prosperous and profitable one for all. I feel the commission will receive from the new Chief full co-operation and will not bring forward any new policies until conferences are held with the new Chief, as should be the case with the general manager of the department.

"I look forward to strict law-enforcement and law-observance by the police department. I do not believe the law should be enforced unless the police personnel acts strictly by law observance. I promise full co-operation by the Mayor's office if the commission and the Chief enforce the laws."

Thorpe answered by stating that the commission has many problems and there are bound to be difficult problems the Mayor will be required to solve. He said Los Angeles is fortunate in having as an executive a man who believes that in enforcing the law those who enforce it should themselves observe it. He declared the commission will back the new Chief to the fullest extent.

NEW CHIEF RESPONDS

Chief Steckel, in response, said: "I want to assure you of my appreciation for the confidence you have placed in me as Chief of Police. I am going to give Los Angeles the best police administration that it is in my power to do. It is my desire to follow the policies of the Mayor and the Police Commission, and I am going to demand observance as well as enforcement of the law."

On motion of Commissioner Drake the remarks of the Mayor and Thorpe, which were received with applause from the audience, were ordered published in the Police Bulletin of today's issue.

Questioned after the meeting on any changes he contemplated in the department Chief Steckel said that such matters, particularly where more important officers are concerned, first will be taken up by him with the Police Commission. He said he had received no instructions regarding the allocation of Deputy Chief Davis, former Chief who was demoted Monday, but is of the opinion that he may be placed in charge of traffic, where he is at present.

Deputy Chief Homer B. Cross, he said, probably will be detailed as contact man to confer with the heads of the various police divisions scattered throughout the city.

Questioned about his new offices in Rooms 102 and 103 in the Mayor's suite in the City Hall, Steckel said that they will not be ready for occupancy until tomorrow or Friday. He does not propose to make his headquarters there, he said, but the quarters are to be used whenever conferences are necessary with the Police Commission and the Mayor in regard to police department activities.

GETS MORE SALARY

Under the emergency appointment Chief Steckel will receive the regular $500-a-month salary of the Chief of Police. As an acting captain, he said, his salary would have been $400, that of a deputy Chief. Former Chief Davis suffered a salary cut of $100 a month because of the demotion to deputy Chief.

Judging from the attitude of the Mayor and the commission yesterday, the appointment of Steckel, who will have served nineteen years on the department today, is a permanent proposition as far as permanency relates to chiefs of police. The commission does not contemplate asking the Civil Service Commission that an examination

TRIO OF HIKERS FOUND BY FLASHLIGHT

WHERE a cigarette lighter failed in the pinch, an electric flashlight made good and saved the lives of Celia Caplan, Jack Schwartz and Lawrence Kotkin, youthful hikers, who were brought down from Mt. Wilson yesterday by a rescue party after being lost in the mountain wilderness for three days and nights without food or shelter.

The three had not suffered any injury or harm, and save for the hardship of the cold mountain nights, physical exhaustion and nervous fatigue, were in fair shape. The girl, the officers stated, was in much better condition than the two boys—particularly Schwartz, who was so weak that he begged to be excused from telling anything of what had happened.

"The pluckiest girl, around," was the way one of the officers put it, adding, "if she had been out on her own I think she would have got out without help."

GREAT SEARCH

The finding of the lost trio, who disappeared Saturday morning from a party of hikers who were on their way down from Mt. Wilson, brought to an end one of the greatest searches for lost persons in local history. It was a search in which Federal, State, county and city officials participated, even being conducted from the air by National Guard airplanes.

And when it was all over and the rescued hikers were clasped in the arms of haggard parents nearly hysterical with happiness, it developed that the rescue might have been missed by the width of a flashlight beam in the hands of the two rescuers.

S. Ray Dearholt and Girard Green, volunteer searchers of Pasadena, are the two men who found the lost hikers in the bottom of Winter Creek Canyon about three miles southwest of the Mt. Wilson Hotel. It was from the hotel that the trio started last Saturday morning with a party of friends on their way to the bottom of the toll road. The three left the road to make a short cut and became lost.

FINDING DESCRIBED

Green and Dearholt left Sierra Madre Monday afternoon about 3 o'clock, going up the well-known trail to the ridge back of Mt. Wilson and then began working down into Winter Creek Canyon, where some of the officers figured the party might be lost.

"It was about 10 o'clock Monday night, and we were creeping along a sort of ledge near the bottom of the canyon," said Dearholt in telling of finding the trio. "The going was rough and pretty steep, I'll tell you. Suddenly our flashlight fell on something dark in a big cleft in the rock below.

"Just at that instant something

City Employee at Milestone

J. J. Backus, city superintendent of building, tomorrow will celebrate his twenty-fifth year in office. He was appointed to this post in 1904 by Mayor Owen McAleer and has continued in office since that time.

Mr. Backus is an architect, and before entering the employ of the city practiced that profession, as well as building contracting. He has lived in Los Angeles forty-two years, thirty of those years at his present home at 131 South Avenue 60.

REVISED MAP SUBMITTED

The revised assessment district map for the widening of Argyle avenue and Yucca street at their intersections was submitted to the City Council yesterday by City Engineer Shaw. It was referred to the Public Works Committee.

Porter Vows Progressive Year for City

Mayor Porter yesterday issued the following New Year's resolution:

"May God's choicest blessings rest upon Los Angeles during 1930. May His guiding hand be plainly seen in the conduct of our civic affairs and may goodness and mercy predominate in every undertaking for the common good of our citizens.

"My resolution as chief executive is to make the new year the greatest in the history of Los Angeles. May we as Mayor and people co-operate in such perfect accord that great good will be accomplished. It is also my purpose to work with all constituted authorities to suppress crime, thwart political intrigue and promote the public welfare in such a way that the coming year may be known for its mighty achievements in civic government to the end that good may accrue to rich and poor alike.

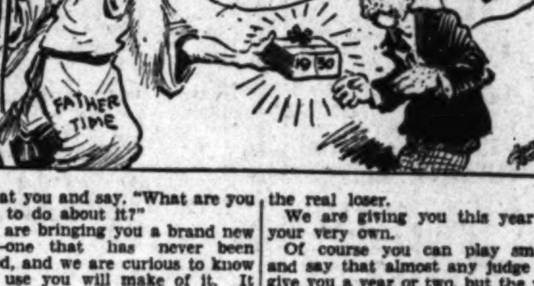
HERE'S YOUR NEW YEAR; GOING TO USE IT RIGHT?

BY EUGENE BROWN

Father Time broadcasting from the police station.

Possibly you will yawn and ask what of it, but we can come right back at you and say, "What are you going to do about it?"



We are bringing you a brand new year—one that has never been opened, and we are curious to know what use you will make of it. It isn't like a used car; it is all new stuff.

Will you let it roll away like an empty barrel down the slope of Bunker Hill, or will you fill it full of good things and set it deep in the cellar, where it can be drawn upon as need or memory suggests?

Remember, a year is a year. There are 365 fat and juicy days. They are all yours. If you neglect to make profitable use of them you are the real loser.

We are giving you this year for your very own.

Of course you can play smarty and say that almost any judge will give you a year or two, but the year the judge gives you is not so good. He may be a fine judge and if he fines you you may not get your year. But fine judge or not, he is

HARBOR GOAL REALIZED

Sea-Borne Commerce for 1929 at Los Angeles Port Attains Grand Total of $1,070,683,931

A billion-dollar port for Los Angeles is no longer a mere vision for the future. The harbor's sea-borne commerce in 1929 put that goal far astern; 8356 ships handling 26,212,759 tons of freight, valued at $1,070,683,931. The annual report of the Marine Exchange, released last night, shows material increases in all trades, with particularly strong advances in foreign and intercoastal business.

The year's business indicates a growth in the port's trade of more than 1200 per cent since 1919, when the harbor handled 2,380,622 tons of commerce, valued at $86,481,470. The steady increase of each year for the past decade was evidenced by the 1928 totals, when 7645 vessels arrived or departed with 23,708,404 tons of freight, worth $946,289,210. The 8356 arrivals last year totaled 22,499,337 net tons, against 21,085,481 net tons for the 7645 ships in 1928.

American-flag vessels were noted in increasing ratio last year, numbering 6799, against 594 British ships, 283 Norwegian, 235 Japanese, with other foreign vessels as follows: Holland, 72; German, 91; French, 69; Swedish, 67; Danish, 53; Mexican, 37; Italian, 32; Panaman, 18; Belgian, 3; Danzig, 2; Nicaraguan, 1.

Petroleum shipments made their expected big increase. The gain was 15,220,654 barrels over 1928. In 1929, 1981 tankers carried out 128,763,445 barrels of California petroleum, against 113,542,791 barrels in 1928. These figures are exclusive of the huge case oil trade and bunkering

Girls and Flowers Will Depict Holidays

San Francisco Reported to Have Rare Entry

Thousands Labor Far Into Night on Floats

Continued fair weather is predicted for today and for several days following. At 2:30 o'clock yesterday afternoon the temperature had risen to 71 deg. and a promise of summer weather is held out for the Rose Tournament and the football game today.

A region of high pressure again has taken its place out on the ocean about 150 miles off Los Angeles and as long as it remains in this position there is the possibility of shunting off any rain that might be coming down the coast from Alaska, the Weather Bureau officials say.

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, Dec. 31.—Natural beauty, a beauty which only sun and sky may reflect on the petals of flowers and faces of lovely girls, is the lofty shrine at which 750,000 persons will worship here tomorrow when bugle notes will signal the opening of the 1930 Tournament of Roses parade.

Promptly at 10 a.m., the mile-long procession of blossom-bedecked floats, which will vie with each other in best expressing the tournament theme, "Festival Days in Flowers," will move east along Colorado street from the Memorial flag pole at Orange Grove avenue. The route will extend east on Colorado street past Pasadena Junior College, to Meredith avenue, north on Meredith to Walnut street, and west on Walnut to the disbanding point at Lake avenue. The floats will then proceed to the City Hall, where they will be displayed for twenty-four hours in a roped-off section in the city plaza.

FLOAT SUBJECTS SECRET

The display of all major entries in front of the City Hall is an innovation. New Year's night, the floats will be illuminated by a battery of brilliant flood lights.

With its Mayor, James Rolph, Jr., serving in the post of highest honor in the parade as grand marshal, and with the entry of a spectacular float depicting Portola gazing across the Pacific from the Golden Gate, San Francisco is playing a more important role in the pageant than ever before.

Glendale and Beverly Hills, which have won a majority of the sweepstakes awards in recent years, are also reported to have entered elaborate and costly floats, but they are guarding the designs of their entries with the utmost secrecy. Of the other thirty-three cities and communities which will be represented in the pageant, San Bernardino, San Jose, Fresno and Los Angeles are reported to have outstanding representations.

MASSED BANDS IN LINE

Twenty-five bands, featured by the colorful University of Southern California Band, led by Harold Roberts, and a massed band of 200 American Legion drummers and buglers, will make the Forty-first Tournament parade unrivaled so far as patriotism and music are concerned, according to Hal C. Reynolds, Tournament of Roses Association president.

For the first time in many years, a Tournament of Roses Queen has been selected in the person of Miss Holly Halsted. "Queen Holly," a vivacious brunette, will be enthroned on the tournament association float.

Eight-year-old Helen Clair MacAllister, who won the title of "Miss America, Jr.," at the National Beauty Show in Baltimore, Md., will enact the role of "Miss Pittsburgh, Jr.," in honor of the University of Pittsburgh football heroes who will compete with U.S.C. in the Rose Bowl following the parade.

GOVERNOR WILL RIDE

Gov. Young will arrive at Glendale tomorrow morning in time to ride in the procession. Tomorrow noon, he and sixty other public officials will attend a luncheon at the municipal golf clubhouse in the Arroyo Seco, north of the Rose Bowl. In honor of the Governor and other visiting mayors and city officials, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Nickerson will give a dinner at the Hotel Maryland tomorrow night.

The Lancer

by Harry Carr

THERE is one point that seems to have been lost in the accounts of the West Point-Stanford football game.

It was an interesting case of "Pop" Warner, a civilian, outfiguring trained military strategists on a pure-and-simple problem of military strategy.

BATTLE TACTICS

American football is modeled exactly on the battle tactics of Napoleon. Even the functions of the different players approximate the different arms of the service. As for instance, the ends represent the cavalry.

Napoleon's battle tactics consisted of using heavy reserves and suddenly massing an overwhelming force on a weak place in the enemy line. In other words, crashing through the tackles. He might have fewer troops on the field of battle; but he was usually able to mass a superior number at any stated place. He said that the Austrians lost at Austerlitz because they did not know the value of five minutes.

It seems very interesting that "Pop" stood West Point on its head by his superior instinct for and his better knowledge of military strategy than the officers who have been intensively studying that art and science.

SEEING THE MISSIONS

Some one writes to me, asking how to get to the different interesting missions.

San Diego is in Mission Valley, a few miles back of the city. Turn off to the left just after crossing the bridge as you come to San Diego.

San Juan Capistrano, San Luis Obispo, San Buenaventura, San Juan Bautista, Santa Barbara are right on the coast highway.

To get to Santa Ynez, turn off at Santa Barbara and go over the San Marcos Pass to the town of Solvang. San Fernando is just back of the town of that name.

There are beautiful mission ruins at Lompoc (Purisima Mission) and at Soledad (about four miles south of the town of the same name on the coast highway.)

Services are regularly held at both San Juans, San Buenaventura, Santa Barbara, San Luis Obispo and Santa Ynez.

TOO MUCH EGO

It would be a blessing to humanity at large if Il Duce were to be afflicted with soft corns or something else that would give him something safe to think about. He has too much ego in his cosmos.

His attempt to restore Crown Prince Carol to the throne of Rumania is just pouring in the mixture for another war in the Balkans. And a war in the Balkans is as safe for the rest of Europe as a bonfire in a powder magazine.

JUST HIS JOKE

Among the New Year's resolutions, let it be hoped that Will Rogers turns Republican. I suppose that every brilliant mind has one weak spot; but after all, there must be a cure. At that, I would like to see one of his ballots after he emerges from a voting booth. I'll bet the Democratic column is as clean as the driven snow.

RATE CUTS IN EFFECT TODAY

Users of Gas, Electricity and Telephones Will be Saved $4,460,000 on 1930 Bills

A $4,460,000 Happy New Year breaks today for Los Angeles telephone and electricity users and for Santa Monica Bay district patrons of Southern Counties Gas Company. Rate-reduction orders by the State Railroad Commission amounting to $2,310,000 for Los Angeles telephone exchange subscribers, $1,200,000 for users of municipal electric light and power, $750,000 for electric patrons of Los Angeles Gas and Electric Corporation, and $200,000 for gas consumers in the bay district and other communities served by that gas company go into effect this morning.

Business telephones for which Southern California Telephone Company now receives $5.75 a month with 3 cents for each call of more than seventy-five now will cost $5.50 a month and the seventy-five "free" call limit increased to eighty-five. Residence telephones cost 25 cents a month less. Extensions cost from 25 to 50 cents a month less. "Fringe" areas such as the western part of Hollywood, Huntington Park and South Gate come into the Los Angeles exchange area and are served at new rates. Hotel and large business - house rates also enjoy reductions.

All classes of electric consumers enjoy rate reductions. The average domestic consumer will get the equivalent of about one month's free service compared with 1929 rates. One now may cook electrically for about 1 cent a meal a person, it is announced.

The domestic maximum of 5 cents per kilowatt hour drops to 4.8 cents. The drop to 2½ cents a kilowatt hour goes into effect now after thirty-five kilowatt hours instead of seventy-five kilowatt hours as formerly. After 175 kilowatt hours the rate drops to 2 cents a kilowatt

POLICE PENSION PUZZLE SOLVED

City Attorney Gives Ruling on Moot Question

Twenty-Year Service Makes Annuity Guarantee

Decision Likewise Effects Fire Department Men

Members of the police and fire departments who have served twenty years on either department are not jeopardizing their pension rights by remaining on the job, according to an opinion given to the Police Commission yesterday by City Attorney Werner, in response to a request.

Werner held that under the charter twenty years of service on either department is regarded as the necessary qualification to obtain the pension and therefore should an employee be dismissed for any cause after he is entitled to a pension he will not lose his pension rights.

REGARDED IMPORTANT

The commission regarded the opinion as important and ordered it published in the police bulletin and also directed that copies be sent to the Municipal League and to the City Club, which had presented the question to the commission several weeks ago.

Many members of both the police and fire departments who had contemplated retiring immediately upon the expiration of their twenty-year terms of service are expected to remain in service much longer, as the result of the opinion.

PROTESTS RAISED

A number of police officers, including former Deputy Chiefs Lyns and Spellman, and Chief of Detectives Cline, retired several months ago on the ground that under the new administration they had no way of safeguarding their pension rights, which they were under the impression they would lose if they remained on duty and were removed for cause or politics.

The Municipal League raised a protest against the loss of officers still in their prime who retired after twenty years of service and pointed out the cost to the city through the necessity of employing men to take their places while at the same time being compelled to give pensions to the retiring officers.

Under Werner's opinion the two departments no longer need to lose the services of valuable and experienced officers through any change in the city administration.

NURSES TO MEET

A special meeting of private duty section, District No. 5, California Nurses' Association, will be held at [illegible] p.m. tomorrow evening in the Nurses' Club, 211 South Lucas street, it is announced by Clara Louise Jones, program chairman. Father O'Malley will be the speaker of the evening, his subject being "The Nurse's Smiling Eye." Others announced to appear are Enrico Cucinelli, tenor, and Virginia Cheap, violinist.

SECRETARY RESIGNS, SCORES POLICE BOARD

The resignation of Alida C. Bowler as secretary to the Chief of Police was presented to Mayor Porter and Chief of Police Steckel yesterday afternoon.

The resignation was conveyed in two letters, which made plain that the action was brought about through the demotion of former Chief Davis by Mayor Porter and the Police Commission.

In her letter to Chief Steckel, after noting that she had served as secretary to the Chief since 1927, she says: "It is impossible for me to continue to serve under an administration whose chief executive so blandly makes and breaks pledges—and whose Police Commission so basely betrays the spirit of civil service and the best interests of Los Angeles."

The letter to Mayor Porter says, among other things: "It is quite impossible for me to express my disappointment at your failure to keep the promise you so freely made. You promised Chief Davis and the Los Angeles public that you would give him every chance to make good under your administration. Instead of giving him that chance, your Police Commission continuously has hampered him privately and discredited him publicly."

shal, arrived here late today after motoring from San Francisco.

The Huntington, Vista Del Arroyo, Raymond and Maryland hotels are reported to be filled to capacity with business leaders and wealthy guests who have arrived by airplane, special trains and boats.

Hours before the floats are scheduled to fall into line along the streets intersecting South Orange Grove avenue, from California to Colorado street, and before the sun is up, thousands of persons are already seeking vantage points along curbings and parkways. Those who can afford it are trying to purchase seats in the fifty-two temporary grand stands erected along the parade route. Others are lugging camp stools and lunch baskets.

Chief of Police Charles H. Kelley has issued an order against the sale of boxes that tend to clutter the streets and cause accidents. All persons planning to attend the football game are urged to park their cars north of Colorado street.

"The best place to view the parade without crowding," said Chief Kelley, "will be on Colorado street between Los Robles and Lake avenues."

The local police force will be augmented by more than 300 officers from Los Angeles and other cities.

In an effort to extend every courtesy to the throngs, four trucks equipped with loud speakers will move ahead of the parade and announcers will request the spectators to "Please step back." In past years, it has been necessary for motorcycles to roar along the curbs to frighten the people back.

JUDGING BEFORE PARADE

This city's new ambulance will be on duty for the first time and five first-aid stations have been organized under Chief Surgeon C. C. Troensegaard. The entire parade route has been strung with portable telephone lines and communication with the division marshals and aides may be established at any time in the event of an emergency with short-wave radio sets.

Five thousand persons labored through the night to weave the millions of blooms into the 132 floats, some of which require 100,000 flowers to decorate. The flowers have been kept fresh in cold-storage plants and tons of choice blossoms have been dipped in water containing sufficient aspirin to cure the headaches of a metropolis.

A single artificial flower discovered on a float will disqualify it for a major prize.

The judges will begin their work at 8:30 a.m. and Harlan Hall, Tournament of Roses Association manager, will hand out the banners at the Hotel Maryland in time to place them on the floats before the parade starts.

Graham McNamee, chief announcer for the National Broadcasting Company, is a guest at the Hotel Vista del Arroyo. In broadcasting a description of the parade and football game he will be assisted by Lloyd Yoder of San Francisco and Carl Havelin of Los Angeles.

SPECIAL TRAINS

Special trains will be operated by the Union Pacific Railway to handle the crowds. The first train will leave East San Pedro at 8 a.m. through Long Beach to arrive before parade time. Two trains will be run for the return trip. The first will leave here at 1 p.m. and the second at 6 p.m.

In the line of march the Union Pacific band from the East Los Angeles shops will head the sixth division, and the railway system has entered a float in the parade which depicts a scene near Caliente, Nev., known as Cathedral Canyon. On the float will be displayed practically every type of desert flower and cactus.

BLIMP TO BE ENTERED

The first aerial float ever entered in the parade will be shown by the Goodyear Company in presenting the blimp Volunteer, which will be decorated to represent a yacht in honor of the famous international regatta races defender. Photographs of the pageant will be taken from the airship, and in the afternoon it will be over the Rose Bowl for the purpose of photographing traffic conditions in that area.

CHEST FACING HOPEFUL YEAR

Campaign Leader Sums Up Success of Work

More Than $3,000,000 Fund Declared Assured

Wealthy Givers Praised on Liberality

With $3,042,000 assured, and with $2,683,614 actually subscribed during the year just ended, the Los Angeles Community Chest fund faces the New Year today from the highest peak it has attained in six years of Chest campaigns. At least $75,000 more is coming from subscriptions promised but not yet paid in.

These facts were made public yesterday in a report summarizing the Community Chest's progress in 1929, made to the board of directors of the Community Welfare Federation, which procures and administers the Chest fund, by J. A. H. Kerr, campaign chairman.

KERR'S STATEMENT

In a preamble to his report Mr. Kerr said, among other things:

"In the last analysis, our 17,000 unpaid volunteer workers who solicited the fund made the campaign a success; it is their victory, and the expense alone is all that deters me from writing a personal letter of thanks to every lieutenant in the geographic district and every establishment keyman, all of whom have done such splendid work. I am taking this occasion to express our gratitude for their loyal, unselfish service, against many obstacles, that it may be conveyed to them through the metropolitan newspapers of Los Angeles upon our making the gist of our report public."

Stating that $2,683,614 of the grand total to date has been subscribed during the campaign period, Mr. Kerr's report explained that the balance of the funds, representing an aggregate of $365,000 was procured from forty-eight contributors immediately prior to the campaign period proper by a committee headed by Ben R. Meyer as chairman, assisted by Lee A. Phillips, James R. Page, Harry J. Bauer and others. This same committee, Mr. Kerr said, then headed the flying squadron during the campaign proper.

HOW WEALTHY GAVE

However, the amount of $2,683,614, the report states, marks the largest ever obtained in a Community Chest campaign period in Los Angeles, and with the addition of $75,000 promised, will mount to $2,758,614, an increase of nearly $145,000 over 1928.

An interesting commentary on the campaign is contained in the report in its revelation that the wealthier givers, approximating but 2 per cent of the population, subscribed 65 per cent of the fund, whereas this class had contributed only about 45 per cent in the first few years of the Chest in this city. "It can never be said again that the wealthier people as a whole have not done their share," Mr. Kerr's report concludes.

DETECTIVE ARRAIGNED FOR THEFT

C. W. Burke, Accused of Fraud in Suit Settlement, to Plead on 6th Inst.

Charles W. Burke, a private detective, yesterday was arraigned before Superior Judge Aggeler on a charge of grand theft preferred by the county grand jury in an indictment returned Monday afternoon. Judge Aggeler fixed the 6th inst. at 2 p.m. as the time for Burke to enter his plea.

According to Percy Hammon, deputy District Attorney in charge of grand-jury matters, Burke is accused of defrauding Kenneth M. Whitham of $2000 in June, 1927.

Testimony given before the grand jury charged Burke with stealing the $2000 from $3500 given him by Whitham to use in effecting settlement of a damage action contemplated by Helen Schuyler.

Mrs. Schuyler avers, according to Hammon, that she accepted a settlement of $1500 and signed a receipt for that amount. Although Burke gave Whitham a receipt for $3500, Mrs. Schuyler charges that it was altered.

Burke was released under $2500 bond.

CLUB MEETING DELAYED

Meeting tomorrow morning instead of today, the Breakfast Club will open its 1930 meetings with a stag party, a feature of which will be the welcoming of new members. Bob Murphy, of vaudeville and talkies, Helen Virgil, dance exponent, and Teresa Trucano, soprano, will offer the entertainment program, which will open with Glenn Edmunds's orchestra. Hosts will be R. C. H. Rupp and Dr. T. Carlyle De Mille.

ously; four war tanks were in action; several hundred infantrymen were firing so fast their rifles got too hot to hold; and a squadron of war airplanes were dropping bombs. Yet the total casualties of both sides were about one-third of the death list of automobile victims for one month in Los Angeles.

No doubt—instead of finding a real solution—the judges will again begin sending people to jail for not stopping at boulevards and the police will put on another "campaign."

AMERICA MODEL OF ZIONISTS

Jewish Official Tells of Adopting Our Methods in Palestine Farm Work

The success of the Zionist campaign to colonize Palestine will depend in a large degree, according to Gedaliah Budlick, president of the Orthodox Zionists of America, and a member of the Greater Jewish Agency, on the adoption of American agricultural methods. Mr Budlick said that large areas of land in Palestine have been planted to orange groves, vineyards and tobacco and are following the methods of planting and irrigation used in California.

Mr. Budlick, who is in Los Angeles visiting the chapter of his organization, said that farming conditions in Palestine are similar to those in California, and that a number of horticultural experts had been drafted from this State to give advice to the Jewish colonists.

In spite of the antagonism of the native Arabs and the adverse conditions met by the pioneers in the colonization movement, the Jewish settlements are prospering, Mr. Budlick said. There are approximately 100 settlements of immigrants in Palestine, he said, mainly drawn from Eastern Europe with a few from the United States.

"The Jews in Palestine are greatly outnumbered by the Arabs," Mr. Budlick declared, and said that he was there last August during the time of the Arab uprising.

Mr. Budlick said that in addition to training the Jewish immigrants in modern agricultural methods, the work there includes the maintenance of schools for approximately 20,000 children.

PANTS BURGLAR AT IT AGAIN

Four Persons Victimized in Pico Region When Thief Gets Back to His Old Tricks

Following a respite of about ten days, the "pants burglar" resumed his activities early yesterday morning to the discomfiture of four victims in the vicinity of Pico and West Whittier, according to a Sheriff's office report.

"Thus far the man and his younger partner have outsmarted us, but we have the one consolation that they aren't trying to kid us by leaving us a note now and then to rub it in," said Capt. Stensland, head of the Sheriff's burglary detail, yesterday, recalling a somewhat similar case of several years ago.

TURKEY TAKEN, TOO

Entering the house of William Gebhardt, 130 Durfee Road, Pico, through a kitchen window, the burglar and a supposed partner made away with $9, stopping long enough before leaving the premises to take with them a tom turkey valued at $4.

It was not until he reached the home of Mrs. Nettie G. Allen, 11 Guirado Road, West Whittier, that he got in his customary work of rifling trousers, according to the report. Here he is asserted to have gone through the trousers of Mrs. Allen's father, finding nothing but an empty billfold. Before he left, however, he is asserted to have gathered up a watch valued at $[illegible] and an undetermined amount of money and stamps from an occupied bedroom of the house.

FOUR SHOTS FIRED

Mrs. Visly Thomas, 141 North Lindsey street, Pico, reported she lost between $3 and $4 from a purse on the dining-room table.

Four revolver shots in the air are believed to have hastened the intruder on his way from the apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Andrews in the Thomas house. He is reported to have taken with him $6 from a purse, a key to the Bank of Pico and a billfold containing, among several things, a $10 bill obtained from Mr. Andrews's pants. To make sure he had everything he is reported to have gone through an extra pair of trousers hanging in a closet. Andrews reported he woke up and fired his revolver in the air when he was unable to see anyone.

W. B. JOYCE UNDERGOES OPERATION

Eastern Financier Said to be on Road to Recovery Following Ordeal

William B. Joyce of New York, chairman of the National Surety Company, director of many other organizations and nationally known financial figure, was operated on at the Good Samaritan Hospital here yesterday morning. He was reported last night on the road to recovery. To correct a kidney ailment, the operation was performed at 9:30 a.m. by Dr. A. B. Cecil.

"William B. Joyce, chairman of the National Surety Company of New York, was successfully operated upon by Dr. Cecil of Los Angeles for a painful, but not serious ailment," read a cryptic statement issued by Allard McCall, Joyce's secretary, shortly after the operation was performed. From the hospital came word that the operation was of a most delicate nature.

The financier is 63 years of age. He came to Los Angeles recently to spend the winter, making his winter home at 1004 Elden Way, Beverly Hills. He is accompanied by one son, Morton Joyce. Another son, William B. Joyce, Jr., makes his home here. Joyce's head office is at 115 Broadway, New York, and his residence there at 1020 Fifth avenue. In addition to his connection with the National Surety Company, he is a director in the following organizations: Tennessee Copper Company, Kerr Lake Mining Company, Chatham Phenix National Bank and Trust Company, Consolidated Cigar Company, Tennessee Copper & Chemical Company, and the San Joaquin Light and Power Company.

OUTDOOR CHRISTMAS TREE PROPONENT HERE

Clarence F. Pratt, president of the Outdoor Christmas Tree Association of California, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday in search of ideas for use in Northern California during 1930. He was accompanied by Mrs. Pratt. Headquarters of the association are in San Francisco.

One out of every nine airplanes in the country is registered in California, according to the Annual Midwinter Number, out January 2.

Today's Bible Text

For yourselves know perfectly that the days of the Lord so cometh as a thief in the night. Thessalonians, v:2.

CLAIMED BY NORWAY

Capt. Riser Larsen, the Norwegian polar flyer, claims to have discovered a new bit of terra firma off of Weddell Sea on the opposite side of the pole from where Admiral Byrd's camp is located. Anyhow, he set up a Norwegian flag and claimed the chill setting in the name of King Haakon VII. Any time the King wants to go down there and start a croquet game it will be all right with us.

AMBASSADOR RETIRES

Ambassador Jacob Gould Schurman, who has been in his country's diplomatic service for nearly ten years, now resigns his post in Germany and will find rest and retirement in his own land. He has passed his seventy-fifth year and his life has been full of mental and physical activities of wide range. Incidentally he was held in the highest respect by the German government and the German people.

SOCIETY AT THE RINGSIDE

At a recent prize fight in London the Prince of Wales sat between two duchesses and it is figured that almost one-third of the audience was made up of smartly dressed women. Some of these ring embroilments are becoming society affairs and the battlers will presently be expected to come into the ring in dress suits and top hats. It is also noted that in the regular mix-ups in our own Hollywood arena an increasing number of women may be noted in the choice seats.

THE CROSS OF VALOR

The Victoria Cross as an award for British valor had its inception back in 1856 and since that time has been awarded to 1157 heroes. It is primarily a war decoration as it can only be given for great valor in the presence of the enemy. More than half of the total output of crosses were distributed since 1910 and are naturally associated with actions of exceptional courage in the World War. The cross is of iron and is made from captured cannon. It has little more value in a monetary way than the Iron Cross of Germany, but when one of them turns up in a pawnshop—as it does occasionally—there are collectors ready to pay a good price. At a recent dinner of Victoria Cross survivors more than 300 were present and the Prince of Wales presided. If Britannia is never to get mixed up in another fight the future output of Victoria Crosses will be small—unless arrangements can be made to award them for the triumphs of peace.

SEATTLE'S CITY RAILS

The Seattle City Council is now considering an offer from the Puget Sound Light and Power Company to forego for two years the annual installment due on the purchase price of the city-operated street railway system, so that needed new equipment can be purchased. To soften the bad news that the city cannot make ends meet on its transportation business, the nonpayment is to be called "moratorium." It is being explained that the city could pay the bill, as it has paid similar bills in the past, by borrowing from the light and water department, but if so could not buy any new cars.

New cars, which will run faster at less expense, will, it is hoped, bring in more net revenue and possibly get the system on something resembling a paying basis. The deferring of payment is to be on principal only, two installments of $833,000 each, the interest being met as usual. This transaction amounts to borrowing $1,666,000 from the Puget Sound company. An equipment loan could not be floated elsewhere, it is believed, without a ruinous rate of interest, since the Puget Sound company is the first-mortgage holder and subsidiary bonds would not be salable.

Seattle, like San Francisco, embarked in the street railway business a few years ago on the theory that there were millions in it. Like San Francisco, it is discovering that the millions may be there, but are uncommonly difficult to extract. The transportation business is one which experts have trouble enough in making pay. Politicians get nowhere with it.

THE DEMOTION OF DAVIS

Honesty and efficiency in public service has suffered a serious blow in the undeserved demotion of Chief of Police Davis, who, after seventeen years of faithful and able work in the protection of life and property in Los Angeles, has been publicly humiliated by a handful of politicians more concerned with their own interests than with the welfare of the city. As a result politics is again in charge of the police department and the public safety is subordinated to political expediency.

Facing a hostile Police Commission, fully cognizant of the alternative determination to throw him out of office on any pretext whatsoever, however flimsy, and driven by the necessity of providing for his family of small children, Chief Davis has perforce sacrificed his pride and accepted demotion and reduction of $100 a month in salary.

The demotion itself is striking refutation of the so-called "charges" against Davis. If the Police Commission had honestly felt that Davis is unfit to head the department, the same honesty of conviction would have dictated a course of action in which the sufficiency of these "charges" would have been fully tested. If Davis is "inefficient and neglectful of duty" he has no business being deputy chief. If he is not there was no reason for demoting him.

The new Chief of Police, Roy E. Steckel, is an unknown quantity in such a post. As a subordinate he has made a good record. He is not to be criticised because politicians are making a temporary convenience of him. He faces a task which more experienced men would undertake with foreboding and reluctance. He has no assurance that he will not himself fall an early victim to the execrable brand of politics that has lifted him up.

The police mess, however, is not one primarily revolving around the personal affairs either of Davis or Steckel. Davis is a man of moral stamina and unusual physical courage. Whatever task he is given to do it is a certainty, judged on the basis of his more than seventeen years of substantial and faithful work in the police department, that he will do it effectively, honestly and with personal credit to himself.

Steckel's work, with all due regard to the clacking praises of his new political patrons, will be much more difficult than that of Davis. Such sympathy as is inspired by the situation should be reserved for Steckel. From the larger standpoint of securing and retaining ability in public office, and particularly in an office where exceptional qualities of personal integrity are required, the outlook does not hold much encouragement for the honest, efficient type of public servant.

The Times has witnessed with regret the part which the Mayor has been forced to play in the sorry affair. It is no reflection upon Mayor Porter that he is inexperienced in municipal government. He has, however, surrounded himself with low-grade political self-seekers and in his efforts to serve the people he has placed in important public offices men who are incompetent and worse. The Mayor's intentions, in the main, appear to be good, but, due to his own lack of knowledge and to the character of advice he accepts, his personal honesty and sincerity do not work to the city's advantage as they should.

The procedure adopted by the chief's enemies on the Police Commission to get rid of Davis was pitiable. The original "charges" were brought in the name of a one-man political organization, the so-called "Developers Association," operated for his own purposes by the nonresident, nonproperty-owning, nontaxpaying, jobless alien, John A. Quinn. These charges, concocted with the aid of some of the city's most notorious underworld characters, were of such a character that even Davis's enemies on the Police Commission dared not bring them out in public.

Hounded on by R. P. Shuler and Police Commissioner Drake, the union laborite eager to remove Chief Davis to clear the way for the new program to unionize Los Angeles, the campaign against the chief took a dozen twists and turns in a third that many weeks. Plan after plan was advanced and discarded by the hostile Police Commissioners in secret session. The letter and spirit of civil service, intended to protect the chief's important post from just such shabby politics-playing, were openly flouted.

After months of backing and filling and of every devious machination known to men of small caliber and limited intelligence, the objective finally was attained. Davis is out as Chief of Police.

Drake has fulfilled the expectations of the radical element of organized labor here—Davis, the foe of the red, the rioter and the racketeer, has been displaced. The way is now open for the "Chicago program" for unionizing Los Angeles. Those participating in the demotion of Chief Davis have heartened and given encouragement to the lawless elements of the community. These groups may not look upon Steckel as a dupe or as a weakling, but they did have a wholesome respect and fear of Chief Davis.

However, there is no occasion to regard the situation as hopeless. Bad conditions have been brought about by politicians heretofore and will occur again. It is deplorable that the excellent progress made under the new city charter's provision for taking the police chieftainship out of politics has been frustrated, but the people themselves through vigilance and intelligent action in time can mend the matter.

The Times makes no dolorous predictions, hoping that a way may be found to bring future good out of present chaos. Such constructive help as can be rendered to Chief Steckel and the Mayor should be extended.

THE POLAR QUEST

Admiral Byrd comes upon the trail left by Amundsen in his journey to the South Pole eighteen years ago. The Viking explorer not only left footprints in the sands of time but a marked trail in the ice of the ages. The stores he buried in the glacier years ago were found as he left them.

NOT SO EASY

Even if the Philippines were classed as a liability it is not possible for Uncle Sam or anybody else to ease off all liabilities by a shrug of the shoulder.

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.
BY Lee Shippey

The LEE SIDE o' L.A.

BY Lee Shippey

NEW YEAR'S customs vary widely in different parts of the country. New Englanders or North Dakotans, for example, would not enjoy one of the time-honored customs of Southern California—the New Year's Day swim in the ocean.

YAH!
TRY TO SMILE, DEAR!

Many thousands of Southlanders make a rite of it. They go down to the sea in flivvers New Year's Day, swim out beyond the breakers, then come out, dripping, on the sunshiny beach and pose, smiling, before the camera of some accomplice, desiring to send the snapshots to friends in the East.

They all look, in the pictures, as if they were enjoying it immensely. But, confidentially, we have tried this pastime and can testify that it's not so hot.

Voice of the Tempter

It was Bill Boettiger who inspired us to try the New Year's swim. Bill was a recent convert to Californianism, having escaped from Chicago only a short while before. He heard that the New Year's swim was an institution here and determined that every New Year's Day he was going to take one, with accompaniment by the camera. He talked so cheerily of the impression those snapshots would make on the folks back in Chicago that we were carried off our mental feet. The sun was shining brightly at the moment and the air was warm—and Bill said the water generally was warmer than the air. So we gave our promise to accompany him and joined him in suggesting the same thing to others.

That was two weeks before New Year's. And when we found that many newcomers blinked at us in awe we grew the more enthusiastic. We felt somewhat of a hero—like a soldier soon to go to the front and eager for it. When we saw people pointing to us and whispering we swaggered a little. We assumed they were saying: "He's going to swim in the ocean New Year's Day. Isn't he brave?"

ONLY NINE MILES MORE, BILL!
BLUG

Now we have tried it we suspect they were saying something less complimentary. That was why they were whispering.

Mr. Wrigley's Demonstration

The famous swimming race across the channel from Catalina Island which Mr. Wrigley fostered in January, 1927, gave ample proof to the world that the waters of the Pacific where they caress the shores of Southern California are not too cold for midwinter swimmers. George Young, who won the race, was in the water 15 hours 44 minutes 28 seconds, and some other contestants were in the water longer. Several other men and two or three women have plunged blithely into the Pacific in midwinter and swum for two or more full union working days without stopping, and there are several thousand persons, we estimate, living in beach towns between Santa Barbara and San Diego, who take a plunge in the ocean practically every day in the year and think no more of it than most of us do of our morning cold plunges in the family bathtub. Indeed, they boast about it less.

But we are no George Young, we must confess, and though $25,000 for fifteen hours' work is more than we ever made, we prefer to stick to our present method of saving 15 cents a year out of our regular income.

Goosefiesh Knew Its Own

Friends who go surf bathing all through the winter assure us it is fun, and possibly they are not lying—much. But when we went down to the sea with Bill Boettiger on New Year's Day, we had not been in sea water for three months and had grown soft. If it hadn't been for the gallery which went along to see the fun we suspect that we would have suggested to Bill that we postpone the match to the beginning of the fiscal rather than the calendar year—say, July 1. Then we could boast that "on the first day of the year" we had swum glorying through the crested waves. But the gallery was along, so we flung off our bathrobe and let the air get full sweep at our untanned skin.

Immediately goosefiesh began to rise all over us—and it didn't seem out of place, either.

Snappy Chatter

Feeling that our teeth were about to begin telegraphing, we turned hastily and sprinted for the surf. But when we got into it, up to the ankles, we stopped abruptly. Boy, how cold that warm water seemed!

"Isn't it f-f-f-f-f-f-fine?" demanded Bill, bravely.

"B-b-b-b-bully!" we agreed.

"Well, then, whynell don't you c-c-c-come on?"

So we rushed ahead and dived into a wave.

For an instant, we thought we had struck a knife which had sliced us through. But it was only the shock of chill. After that it wasn't so bad. We swam boldly ahead for (we judged) about an hour. Then we felt our toes getting numb and started out. We were going to be generous about it and let Bill have the honor of swimming longest.

But as we turned we discovered that Bill was just as generous as we were. The real race developed in getting back to shore.

When we got there, our friends said we'd been in three minutes.

Too Much Movement

We skipped out and started to dash for the car, where the bathrobes were. But somebody shouted, "Camera!" and we had to stop and smirk in the full sweep of the wind. We could feel the enamel splintering off our teeth as they merrily clicked together. But we thought it would be worth it to have snapshots like that.

When the snapshots were developed next day, however, they were too blurred to be recognizable. "Guess you must have been shivering too hard," suggested the photographer.

So from now on there is one Southern California New Year's custom which is off our list. For people who have worked up to it by degrees, the New Year's plunge in the sea may be really delightful. But it is a few degrees too cool for us. We'd rather—why, we'd rather even make New Year's calls!

NEW YEAR REJOICING

Those who think deeply, with a seriousness not devoid of humor, cannot help viewing with raised eyebrows and curled lips the frantic joy, the desperate delight, the crazy antics, the obviously manufactured enthusiasm with which the human race welcomes the close of one and the opening of another year. There must be a sane reason for this apparent insanity. For the custom has persisted since the dawn of civilization. And the more civilized we become, to greater lengths we carry the absurdity.

Astronomically, the planet we call earth has completed another of its swift and silent revolutions around the center sun of our little universe. In the same period our sidereally insignificant globe has revolved on its own axis 365 times. Of these motions we, mere specks crawling over the surface of a ball, have no perception, though we have made a journey through space at the incredible speed of more than a million miles a day. At the same time our axis-spinning has developed sufficient centrifugal force to save us from being dragged into the vortex of the burning, fiery sun.

All this is very wonderful and, except to the astronomer and the mathematician, very mysterious. But since the dates, December 31 and January 1, are purely arbitrary human inventions, there seems to be no astronomical reasons for blowing tin horns, scattering confetti, shooting guns or imbibing horrible hooch to show our appreciation for the perfect running of our sidereal machinery, at what we please to call the end of the year. Old man world goes rolling along utterly unaffected by our man-made dates and our hanging up of new calendars.

Obviously we are not rejoicing because our special planet is the younger member of a family of stars more numerous than the grains of sand on the shores of our terrestrial seas. The celebration of New Year's Day must then be entirely an affair of our human emotions. At first blush, however, there would seem to be less reason for us to rejoice humanly than to be glad astronomically. Because we know the world will go on indefinitely, and we know we won't.

From this viewpoint our ebullitions over the start of another year appear to be somewhat desperate. They seem to partake too much of the sentiment attributed by Scripture to scofflaws, "Let us eat, drink and be merry, for tomorrow we die." For of a certainty the salient thought at the close of another year should be that we are so much nearer the carrying out of the sentence passed upon us at the moment we entered the world.

We cannot suppose that the mother rejoices in her heart at the reminder that babyhood lasts but a little longer than the close of the year the people are welcoming with angelic-demon demonstrations? Or that parents are brimming over with excessive high spirits to herald the approach of the time when their little ones must leave the home nest and they themselves finish the journey of life by a vacant fireside? Or that the majority believes that their failures of the last twelvemonth presage extraordinary success for the shorter time on earth that remains to them; or that their accomplishments in the year just completed are so outstanding that the next one cannot harm them?

Why then blow up the trumpet in the new moon and fling all restraint to the four winds of heaven because we have passed another milestone on the all-too short road at whose undetermined end lies only the "bourne from which no traveler returns"? Why hail with scatter-brained antics and knock-kneed resolutions another patch sewn on the crazy quilt of experience or plaster with gayly colored stickers the cradle of another year, bearing the ominous slogan, "Sic transit gloria mundi"?

Yet there is something heartsome and invigorating in the paradox that makes the human race rejoice once a year at the swift passage of time. Under the artificial garment of rainbow colors lie three priceless treasures which our humanity must preserve or perish—the cardinal virtues of Faith, Hope and Love. And to each one of these we have dedicated one special day of remembrance.

Thus on Christmas we celebrate colorfully the feast of Love; on Easter Day, reverently, pay a tribute to Faith; and at the dawn of the New Year, boisterously acclaim the immortality of Hope. And the glory of the New Year shines brightly because the quality of hope at its best is its power to survive innumerable disappointments and defy the law of averages.

SOME REFLECTIONS

BY J. A. GRAVES

The year 1929 is a thing of the past. We are now embarked on the year 1930, which, all too soon, will also pass out. While full of disasters and disappointments, 1929 left us but little to complain of.

Locally, things have prospered with us. There has been much building, especially high-class as well as moderate-cost dwellings. We have overbuilt business properities. It is authoritatively stated that, at the present time, there are 10,750,000 square feet of available office space in the city of Los Angeles. There is sufficient unoccupied office space in the city, including the buildings now actually under construction, to supply our normal demands for at least three or four years. If our people will suspend building business blocks it will not take us long to absorb present vacancies.

Los Angeles and its surrounding territory are daily receiving large increases in population by emigration from our sister States. Many of our newcomers are either retired business men or persons of wealth and leisure who will not engage in business. They add to the wealth of the country and annually spend very considerable sums of money.

No better evidence of the power wielded by labor union organizations could be had than the announcement by our politicians that the present wage scale must be maintained on all work undertaken to prevent unemployment and to keep the wheels of industry moving. Union labor has forced the wages of bricklayers in New York City to the unprecedented figure of $15 per day and five-day week. The same labor draws $14 a day in Los Angeles. William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, condescendingly says: "Labor will assist in the present catastrophe, but will not submit to a reduction of wages." He generously announces that labor will, for the present, refrain from seeking any increase in wages.

Mr. John J. Raskob, who is undoubtedly a money-maker, but who proved a failure as a politician, last June widely disseminated the information that the stocks dealt in on the New York Stock Exchange, although he knew them to be in a highly inflated condition, were safe and sound investments for people with money. He is still in the propaganda business. In the November issue of the North American Review he has an article in which he advocates constantly increasing wages for the wage earners so as to increase their buying power. He also advocates a five-day week and suggests that all holidays, no matter on what day of the week they fall, be celebrated on Monday, so as to give the workingman three full days in which to spend his earnings. He naively suggests that if the worker, after having a good time, has anything left, he invest it in common stocks of corporations. He probably had in mind the huge investment trust which he is reported to be about to organize on a stock-selling basis.

Local manufacturing industries have, during the past year, increased in number and importance. Our citrus and walnut growers did well, as also did those who are now raising fresh vegetables of every variety for shipment. I am not informed as to how our grape growers disposed of their productions. Of course there was quite a heavy seasonal shipment of table grapes, but the larger portion of the grapes grown in Southern California cannot be classed as table grapes.

Real estate has been uniformly dull and slow of sale as a result of inflated prices which reached a climax some three years ago. Our people indulged quite freely in stock gambling during the craze in that industry and, of course, many lost. One not in the banking business would be literally astounded if he knew the amount of money sent from Los Angeles for Wall street operations.

There are two principal lines of business in the United States. One embraces manufacturing; transportation, both by land and water; our agricultural and kindred pursuits; various lines of entertainment; all of which embraces the supplying of our millions of people with everything needed for their physical comfort, education and amusement. Transportation covers the movement of all commodities classified as freight and the carrying of people for either business or pleasure. Those engaged in this line of business support the charities of the nation. The other line of business is speculation in securities, as carried on principally in Wall street. New York City, which is an ugly excrescence on our business relations, but which, through ramifications, reaches into every city, town and hamlet in the nation. The first business above mentioned comprises the backbone of the nation. It makes the wheels go 'round, employs our population in legitimate industries and builds up and constantly adds to the wealth of the nation. From it people accumulate funds which they waste on the second line of business, which, like all gambling games, demoralizes even when it does not financially ruin its devotees. He who makes a killing, large or small, in the stock market, is ruined forever. The gambling fever is implanted in his blood, he cannot get rid of it. In the end, he suffers financial punishment.

The banks of the United States are also in part to blame for the immense losses which speculators have recently incurred. Urged on by severe banking competition and a desire to keep all available funds at work, they recklessly loaned money, not only to brokers, but to individual speculators, on stocks which were constantly advancing and which they must have known had gotten to a figure that could not be supported. Stimulated by the unfortunate and unpardonable error of the Federal Reserve Board in flooding the country in 1927 with cheap credit, and the unwarranted loans by banks on speculative securities, speculation got out of bounds. Inflation of stocks followed to figures which appall all sober-minded persons. Money rolled in to us from foreign lands, to take advantage of advancing interest rates. This additional money added fuel to the flames.

At last we reached a condition where inflation had to cease and deflation begin. Prices of stocks, during October and November, declined under panic conditions. The gain in the price of all stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange, made in six months prior to November 1, has been wiped out and values are still shrinking. Unfortunately, the stocks of good, sound industries were inflated with the wildcat issues and, of course, had to recede in price. Billions have been lost and many of the holders of good investment stocks have been compelled to sell the same at reduced rates in order to take care of their losses on purely speculative issues. This stock depression, while the general business of the country during 1929 has proceeded in an orderly manner, must affect business conditions, inasmuch as, notwithstanding the assertions of government officials to the contrary, the buying power of millions of people has been curtailed by their losses in stock speculation. Dealers in luxuries as contrasted with necessities will suffer severely.

While the government can borrow money as cheaply as it can today it should sell additional bonds and redeem our Liberty Loan bonds now outstanding. The saving in interest would be very considerable. Our war debt should not be paid off as rapidly as it is being paid. This generation financed the war. It should not be called upon to discharge the debt now hanging over us. In time, we will receive vast sums from our European debtors which can be applied to the extinction of our war debt. If we discharge this debt by burdening our people with payments which should be spread over longer periods, then, when we receive from foreign nations what they owe us, the money will probably be dissipated without benefit to our taxpayers.

WHERE CAN I LEARN

Landscape Gardening?

BY LOUISE L. TEMPLE

[Prepared in co-operation with the Los Angeles evening high schools. Questions concerning free evening classes will be answered if stamped addressed envelope is inclosed. Address Louise L. Temple, care of The Times.]

C. A. Stebbins, author of "The Principles of Agriculture Through the Home and School Garden" and "Junior Science," just out this year, gives a free course in landscape gardening at the North Hollywood Evening High School, Brand Boulevard and Second street, North Hollywood. The class meets on Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 7 to 9. There is no expense of any kind for students and people of all ages are welcome.

The class work will give full directions for choosing, planting and caring for fruit trees, especially with an eye to having a continuous production of fruit stuffs in the back yard. There is a lighted lathe-house for evening study and students may bring all of their problems to class for discussion and advice.

The school is about a fifteen-minute drive from the corner of Santa Monica Boulevard and Highland avenue. The Van Nuys Pacific Electric car can also be caught along these streets.

Bombay Likes American Bar

American soft drinks have made a hit in Bombay, India, where a soda fountain from the United States was opened recently. Both European and Indian residents are patronizing the popular adjunct of a motion-picture theater. An Indian newspaper describes the American milk-shake as "milk cocktails," declaring them to be "delicious concoctions." Sundaes are also finding favor under such alluring names as "Soul Kiss" and others.

RIPPLING RHYMES

by Walt Mason

THE DAILY TEST

Day after day Dame Kickshaw makes her celebrated pies and cakes, and sells them in the public mart, where they inspire the eater's heart. The pies that bear the Kickshaw brand we know are always truly grand, indorsed by pulpit and by press, they cause consumers no distress. We know that Monday's pies will be like Tuesday's from all blemish free. Dame Kickshaw's wedded to her art, and when you take her pies apart you find them free from every flaw, the finest pies you ever saw. She's set her standard pretty high, and she would rather wilt and die than have a patron come and say, "Your pies are rather punk today." A worthy woman sometimes cries, "No dame can beat me making pies; this Mrs. Kickshaw gathers praise from legions of admiring jays, and so she thinks that she alone can occupy the pie queen's throne. Today I'll bake a batch of pies, and then I'll ask you locoed guys if they are not as good as those that Mrs. Kickshaw daily shows." She goes to work and we admit that she has surely made a hit. Her pies are truly very fine, they soothe this savage breast of mine; but much I wonder while I chew, what this aspiring dame would do if she were making pies for sale, year after year, to earn some kale. Would she in time grow tired and slack, and see her tinhorn pies come back? Could she keep up her pep and zeal when ill and all run down at heel? It is not hard to pull a trick when feeling fine and fit and slick; but can you do it every day until you're tired and sad and gray?

ALIEN LAWYER BAN DEFEATED

High Court Reverses State Bar Ruling

Noncitizens May Practice in California

Decision Applies to Those Seeking Papers

Persons of foreign birth, otherwise properly qualified, but not citizens of the United States, are not barred from the practice of law in California, according to a decision handed down yesterday by the State Supreme Court. The court's order, directing that John L. Telegdi of Long Beach and Norman C. Howden of 1435 Glendale avenue, Los Angeles, be admitted to practice in all California courts, again upset the State Bar Examiners' interpretation of the State laws governing eligibility of attorneys.

"An applicant for admission to the practice of law in California who has declared his bona fide intention to become a citizen of the United States and is a resident of the State may, with perfect propriety, take the oath of office prescribed by the statute. Consequently, the motion of the petitioner must prevail. It is ordered, therefore, that the petitioner be and hereby is admitted to practice as an attorney and counselor at law and is authorized to practice in all the courts of this State," the order and opinion, signed by Justice Preston, declared.

APPLICATIONS REGULAR

It was set forth in the petitions filed by Telegdi and Howden, seeking a review of the decision of the committee of examiners of the State Bar, that they had filed applications in the regular way, had appeared before the examiners, had been subsequently notified that their credentials and standings were acceptable and that they would be recommended to the Supreme Court for admission to practice.

The applicants, their petitions state, appeared at the appointed time and were notified by John E. Biby, chairman of the examining committee, that they would not be recommended for admission because they were not citizens of the United States. The committee, Biby explained, based its action on an amendment to the State law, effective August 14, last, which, it was interpreted by the examiners, barred noncitizens.

THIRD REVERSE GIVEN

Holding that their applications had been filed and their examinations had been held prior to the date on which the amendment became effective, and holding further that the amendment did not expressly or by inference bar noncitizens, the applicants appealed to the Supreme Court and won favorable decisions.

The reverse given the State Bar Examiners is the third by the Supreme Court in as many months, the court holding the same attitude in the case of A. C. Brydonjack, a native of Canada, several weeks ago. Telegdi was born in Europe and Howden is a native of Canada. Both have declared their intention of becoming citizens of the United States, their petitions show.

YEAR'S TOLL BRINGS PLEA TO AUTOISTS

William May Garland in Appeal to Motor Drivers Urges More Caution

William May Garland, president of the California State Chamber of Commerce, issued the following statement last night after the final compilation of statistics on traffic fatalities gathered by the safety conference of the organization:

"Another plea added to the constant urgings issued by public-spirited organizations for more care in traffic operation is not amiss at the beginning of 1930, when the appalling total of fatalities is brought vividly to mind by local and State-wide statistical bureaus.

"The effort of the safety conference of the California State Chamber of Commerce, together with the efforts of other safety committees, has made its mark on the percentage of deaths, but still the toll mounts annually.

"If statisticians are right we can expect 2000 deaths in 1930 in California. The estimate is based on a percentage drawn from the total number of automobiles, 2,000,000.

"Coroner's figures show that 469 persons were killed in Los Angeles county during the year. The total speaks for itself.

"I would like to urge an increased safety program among all organizations during 1930. Deaths caused by human carelessness cannot be prevented by police action alone. The public must help."

Local Group to Depart Monday on Mexico Trip

Leaving here next Monday, a group of Angelenos start on an eighteen-day tour of Mexico under the leadership of O. M. Patison of Hollywood. Headquarters will be maintained for ten days in Mexico City, from which city motor side trips will be made to all outstanding points of interest in the Federal District and adjacent States.

The itinerary includes the State capitals, Puebla, Pachuca, Toluca and Cuernavaca, the pyramids of the sun and moon, and many points of archeological interest. The Los Angeles party will visit Guadalajara, Mazatlan and Guaymas. This is the eleventh Mexican tour organized by Patison.

FLASHERS RECOMMENDED

The Board of Building and Safety Commissioners yesterday recommended to the City Council that [illegible] be appropriated for the erection of flashers at Franklin and Vermont streets. The request was referred to the Traffic and Lighting Committee.

BABY DESERTED IN HOTEL ROOM

But Mother Leaves Note Explaining

She Missed No Meals.
Girl baby maid found with note in room of Main-street hostelry.

"TO THE management: Please keep track of where this child is placed, as I will come back for her in a few weeks—and, incidentally, pay the hotel bill."

This note, written on the cover of a telephone book and found pinned to the clothes of a 2-weeks-old girl baby in a downtown hotel yesterday wrote indelibly in the hearts of Juvenile Bureau authorities the story of a mother-love that intends to surmount poverty.

It was the anonymous message alone that directed official attention to the abandoned infant and perhaps prevented the little mite from lying unattended and unfed for another twenty-four hours. A maid in the hotel, located at Fourth and Main streets, noticed the pitiful request when she entered the room to make up the bed. Unaware of its plight, the little stranger cooed and gurgled as Policewoman Proffitt took her to the Home-Finding Society's haven pending the promised return of the mother.

The manager of the hotel was unable to shed much light on the baby's identity. He said an attractive young woman had the child in her arms Monday night when she registered for a room under the name of Mrs. Sherwood Parmer. Early yesterday morning, he said, the woman left without the baby, although she did not state she was checking out. A few minutes later, the maid found the written plea.

The child was dressed in hand-sewn garments of good quality which, together with the neat hand writing and correct punctuation of the note, led police to believe the mother is a woman of refinement and undoubtedly a victim of sudden reverses.

GOIN' TO USE YEAR RIGHT?

a bum picker of your years. Judge for yourself.

Take the year we are giving you and make intelligent use of it. Don't put it away in moth balls. Take it out and give it exercise. Work it to the bone if you wish to. You'd be surprised to see how much it can stand. It may look delicate, but it has the stamina of Jack Johnson. But a year without action may easily become a pale and sickly one.

Give it a run.

There have been a lot of years since we first learned to count. Some of them were awful punk and a lot of 'em were painful, but remember that the one that really matters is the one you have with you. Yesterday was the world's. Tomorrow is God's. Today is yours.

IT'S UP TO YOU

Last year may have been as doddering as a sore thumb but you can take the one we are now bringing you and convert it into a private park. Or it can be an arena of hectic contest.

It is as full of possibilities as a trick vest.

Make resolutions if you want to—in fact, it is a plausible mental habit.

Everybody is doing it.

Wherever two or three are gathered together—no matter to what end or purpose, the first item of business is the appointment of a committee on resolutions. The Americans are a race of immense resolutions. They have to be. They are primed and corked with resolutions.

Some of these resolutions are boosts. Some are knocks. Some are promises. Some are mere pronouncements. But there they are—a heroic pile, indeed. It is estimated by the professor of mathematics at Oxide Dental College that if all the resolutions adopted by American groups within a single year were placed end to end they would reach from Mars to Venus and back again.

They touch upon every subject from birth control to grave robbing.

So go to it if you must.

SENATOR'S NOSE KNOWS

In its time Congress has passed thousands of resolutions, but what a thrill of satisfaction it would give the American people if Congress would now resolve itself into patriotic action rather than partisan palaver. You take an average Senator and what do you find? He will have a nose to smell with. He will have a mouth to talk with, but there is large neglect of the further circumstance that there are eyes to see with and hands to work with. So he moons around the Capitol talking himself into a blue funk and sniffing Gehenna, but not getting much of gehenna, but not getting much of anywhere of accomplishing much of anything.

Sometimes it looks like a total loss.

Why can't he make his resolution stick?

Wouldn't it be lovely if the boys at Washington would stop trying to pick the machinery to pieces and celebrate the year by snapping into coherent action—by doing things instead of talking about them. More business and less quizziness. Construction rather than destruction.

Thanks awfully.

NO MORE BICKERING

Also wouldn't it be grand if the folks who fear that our stately City Hall had become merely a parking place for puny politicians should suddenly find it bustling like a beehive with cogent activities? To find that bickering, backbiting and scandal-mongering had subsided. To find that slander no longer had noisy possession of the air. To realize that the forces who honestly desire an orderly and well-kept house had suddenly enlisted under a single banner and were keeping the dirt under foot instead of stirring it up.

Happy days.

Wouldn't it be sweet if the resolution to tote fair and use the golden rule should be thoroughly applied—that its path should be extended into the realms of politics and business alike until it should enable all men and women to be more thoughtful and considerate of the whims and well-being of others.

Let the Democrats be more patient with one another and not be forever pushing each other off such pasturage as remains in their possession. They still have feelings.

Let housewives resolve no more to slay their husbands over the bridge table. Let it be remembered that although when Horatius gave his bridge party it was quite a bloody affair; the game has been vastly softened since. It is now possible to have a round of auction without the firing of a single shot.

DO PARENTS HAVE RIGHTS?

Let the rising generation resolve to accept the dictum that even parents have certain rights in the home. Of course it may not be safe to entrust father with a latchkey but he at least may be permitted to buy the gasoline. Of course mother should not be suffered to indulge the luxury of a private flask but she may be allowed the run of the front porch without tether or anchorage. Home life can be broadened without the use of dynamite.

Let the pursuit of happiness be carried on in a wholesome and law-abiding fashion and let the ladies remember that a long skirt covers a multitude of shins.

Let justice and mercy ride side by side through the land and may peace sit in the driver's seat.

Then, instead of being just another year this may turn out to be the big year.

The same to you and many of them.

Here endeth the first lesson.

Bishop Walsh to Visit City on Way to China

Bishop James Edward Walsh, Maryknoll of Kongoon, South China, is scheduled to arrive in Los Angeles this week, to remain as the guest of the Maryknoll Fathers, 426 South Boyle avenue, until his departure for China on the 8th inst. Accompanying him are Auxiliary Bishop John J. Dunn of New York, and Mgr. Francis X. Ford of Maryknoll, recently appointed by Pope Pius XI as prefect apostolic of Kaying, South China.

Bishop Walsh and Mgr. Ford are returning to China after attending the first general chapter of the Catholic Foreign Mission Society of America, at Maryknoll, N. Y. While in Southern California, Bishop Walsh and Mgr. Ford will visit the Mission San Juan Bautista and the Maryknoll Junior Seminary at Los Altos.

CAR INSURANCE PLOT CHARGED

Complaints Accuse Trio of Bilking Scheme

Automobile Crash Basis of Asserted Project

Attempt to Bribe Witness One of Accusations

Details of an asserted plot to bilk Los Angeles insurance companies of thousands of dollars were made public yesterday by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman with the issuance of a complaint charging three defendants with four counts of attempting to bribe a witness and one count of conspiracy.

The defendants named in the complaint are M. B. Martin, president of the Equitable Adjustment Company; Berwig Martin, his son, and Roland Barnett, Sr., of 4152 Third avenue.

SCHEME CHARGED

According to Dep. Dist.-Atty. Stahlman, the three men conspired to obtain money from the American Auto Insurance Company in settlement for damages said to have been suffered by Barnett in an automobile accident October 25, last.

The investigation originally was started by the insurance concern, which later called for aid from the District Attorney's office. It is charged that M. B. Martin offered $100 to Richard Machado to make an affidavit accepting full blame for the automobile assident involving his and Barnett's automobiles.

DETECTIVES HIDE

The complaint was issued after Detectives James Maxfield and Harry Owens hid in Machado's home and witnessed the asserted payment of $10 to Machado by the younger Martin.

Stahlman said the investigation was precipitated by Machado, who informed the insurance company of the asserted attempt to bribe him.

COUPLE SET CLOCK BACK FIFTY YEARS

Attend Plaza Church Where Half Century Ago They Spoke Marriage Vows

In the congregation attending early mass at the old Plaza Church this morning were two persons for whom the occasion held special significance. They are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas H. Reynolds of 542 South Park View street, who today are celebrating the golden anniversary of their marriage.

On another New Year's morning, just a half-century ago, their wedding, an event in the social life of early Los Angeles, was solemnized in the same historical old Church of the Plaza, at the same hour as the services which they attended this morning. On that occasion, however, it was a nuptial mass, celebrated by the old Spanish priest, Father Peter, later ordained Bishop Verdaguer, remembered and beloved by early Californians.

"We emerged on a very different scene fifty years ago," said Mrs. Reynolds. "Instead of this thronged thoroughfare with its clanging street cars and rushing automobiles, was a wide, quiet, dusty street. In front of the church were hitched horses, attached to buggies, surreys, phaetons and hacks, and the saddle animals of the wedding guests. Over there on the north, around the old Avila house, were some of the town's finest residences. Now only the old plaza remains unchanged."

Mr. Reynolds, a native of New York, came to Los Angeles in 1875, when he was 22 years of age. He later engaged in the horse business, breeding and raising pedigreed stock. At one time, he owned, with "White Hat McCarty," picturesque figure in the racing days of the early West, a string of famous trotting horses.

In 1875, Mrs. Catherine Murphy, widowed, with a young family, made the long, arduous journey from her home in Quebec, Can., to California. She arrived in the little Spanish pueblo of Los Angeles in July, 1875, with four lovely young daughters, who were belles in the colorful days when there were only a handful of American girls in Los Angeles. Five years later one of the daughters, Caroline Murphy, was wooed and won by the young horseman.

Mrs. Reynolds has been a member of the Friday Morning Club for more than twenty-three years, and also is a member of the City Club and the Republican Study Club.

The couple have two daughters, Mrs. C. E. Mills of Jerome, Ariz., and Douglas Fawcett of Hollywood and three grandchildren, Mark and Marcia Mills and Caroline Kathleen Cassidy, a student at the College of the Holy Name, Lake Merritt, Oakland.

Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds will motor to Santa Barbara this morning to spend the day with relatives and friends.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING TO INCREASE

Survey Shows Merchants Will Employ More Space in Daily Editions

That California newspapers are preparing to serve advertisers more effectively during 1930 than ever before is one of the findings contained in a report of the study of newspaper and retail fields issued yesterday by the journalism department of University of Southern California. The survey was made under direction of Marc N. Goodnow, field representative.

"Realization that a large bulk of consumer buying is done through the daily and weekly newspapers has come to merchants in recent months," the report states. "Results frequently have been such that not only will more merchants take advantage of this medium of selling merchandise, but in many instances advertising appropriations promise to be much larger.

DARKEST AFRICA GOAL OF SCIENCE

Angeleno Among Expedition to Unknown Land

Diseases of Natives to be Subject of Study

Ethnology of Ancient Tribe Also Draws Interest

The study of ancient and modern life in the Lake Chad region of Central Africa, a part of the Dark Continent so far neglected by scientists, will be the aim of the American-Swedish expedition next June, it was explained at the Biltmore yesterday by Dr. Arthur Torrance, who will head the group of scientists.

Dr. Torrance arrived here yesterday to complete plans for the eighteen months' sojourn in the African jungle, which begins whe nthe expedition sails from New York in June.

The Lake Chad region offers great possibilities from a medical standpoint, Dr. Torrance declared yesterday. Sleeping sickness, yellow fever and malaria are epidemic among the natives just now, and a study of these diseases in that area should prove invaluable to medical science, the medico-explorer declared.

The scientists expect also to study the habits of an African tribe which, Dr. Torrance said, has had little recognition to date. The tribe, an ancient one, has its descendants in the Lake Chad region today, but it will be to the study of the skulls and bones of their ancestors that the scientists will devote their time.

Dr. Torrance, a graduate of the University of Southern California, who has spent much of his time in Africa, will leave tonight for New York to prepare for the expedition.

PLEA MADE FOR REVIVAL OF RELIGION

Salvation Army Leader Here to Start Campaign Tells of Country's Need

CHARLES M.PIERCE

"Not a revival of the stock market, but a revival of religion is needed in this country," was the assertion made last night by Commissioner Adam Gifford, Salvation Army commanding officer of the eleven Western States and Hawaii. The commissioner arrived yesterday from San Francisco to inaugurate the "Golden Jubilee Crusade," a nation-wide movement of evangelism called by Commander-in-Chief Evangeline Booth.

Twenty-two corps in the Los Angeles and South Coast division will begin simultaneous meetings in their places of worship next Sunday, to close with an enormous demonstration of young people's work March 17.

At Corps No. 1, 832 West Ninth street, Adjt. Frank Howell will be in charge of the services. A watch night meeting was held last night by all corps on No. 2, 125 East Fourth street, where Commandant Herbert Carroll is in charge.

"As the first fruits of the Golden Jubilee Crusade we are happy to welcome as a soldier, Charles W. Pierce, whose brother, Walter M. Pierce, is a former Governor of Oregon," Brig. James G. Bell stated last night.

INSTITUTE'S HEAD OPENS FUND DRIVE

Dr. White Hopes to Boost Bible School Enrollment Up to 1000 Students

With plans made for a more comprehensive course of study, a faculty superior to that of any other Bible institute in the country, a student body of excellent type and perfect harmony existing among the board of directors, the faculty and the students, the Bible Institute of Los Angeles, 536-558 South Hope street, is ready for a future that will produce a fine quality of Christian service for the world, according to Dr. William P. White, president. It is ready, he says, with one exception and that is the financial support without which the institute cannot operate.

Hence, Dr. White has inaugurated the Biola Honor Roll, in which he hopes to enlist 20,000 members, each to contribute $1 a month toward the support of the institute work. Seventy thousand letters with pledge envelopes have been sent to all parts of the country and Canada.

Dr. White says that the only endowment the institute has is so small as to be almost negligible. The lowest possible figure at which the institute can be operated is about $1000 a day and it is entirely dependent upon contributions, he said.

This support includes not only the work at the Hope-street building, but the branch of the institute in Hunan, China, work among the school children of the city, Bible classes on the Westwood campus, seamen's work, clubs for working people, maintenance of the buildings and the Biola Press for the publication of the institute magazine.

The institute now has an enrollment of 450 students. Within the next year Dr. White hopes to increase the total to 1000. Eighty per cent of the students, he said, work their way through the institute.

Of Interest to Women

Society

by JUANA NEAL LEVY

The women's committee of the Philharmonic Orchestra is starting out with its usual efficiency and charming hospitality giving a luncheon tomorrow at the Biltmore, following the special rehearsal at 10 a.m. with which Dr. Artur Rodzinski is honoring the committee at the Philharmonic.

This is a special courtesy as Dr. Rodzinski emphatically objects to any visitors attending the rehearsals, and as the day also celebrates his birthday anniversary, the women's committee is making him especial honor guest at the luncheon, which, by the way, is open also to all friends of the orchestra. Mrs. Rodzinski and Vladimir Horowitz, the talented young Russian pianist, soloist for the pair of concerts this week; will share the honors of the day with Dr. Rodzinski.

Among those planning to attend the luncheon are Mrs. D. E. Hartwell, Mrs. F. B. Wetherby, Mrs. Edna C. Olemacher, Mrs. Genevieve Gray, Miss Rowena Thom, Mrs. Judson Claudius Rives, Mrs. Hansen Moore, Mrs. Harvey S. Mudd, Mrs. William W. Stephens, Mrs. George Kuhns, Mrs. Edwin H. Furmin, Mrs. Claude Griffith, Mrs. W. L. Percy, Mrs. Katherine C. Watson, Mrs. Alfred Stern, Mrs. Sloan Orcutt, Mrs. Arthur Bent, Mrs. Willoughby Rodman, Mrs. Joseph F. Rhodes, Jr., Mrs. Frank William Davey, Mrs. R. D. Shepherd, Mrs. June Braun-Pike, Mrs. Hoyt Mitchell, Mrs. William N. Goodwin, Mrs. Granville MacGowan, Mrs. George Leslie Smith, Mrs. Carl Blissett Fix, Mrs. Robert Irwin Rogers, Mrs. Russell McDonnell Taylor, Mrs. Robert R. Pollock, Mrs. Lillian K. Floyd, Mrs. Ralph N. Heath, Mrs. Howard Eugene Verbeck and Mrs. Thaddeus Up de Graff.

Mrs. Cecil Frankel is general chairman of the committee while Mrs. Joseph F. Rhodes, Jr., is vice-chairman. Mrs. Erwin H. Furman is treasurer, Mrs. Hansen Moore, secretary, and Mrs. Granville MacGowan, chairman of hospitality.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY

Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

THE NEWNESS OF THE NOW

Perhaps New Year's Day is picked out as the one day you reform because of the fact that so many on this day are dejected and melancholy after their night's hilarious celebration of the evening before. New Year's Eve seems to be the one holiday celebration in the year where all restraint is thrown aside and so many seem to think it is absolutely necessary celebrate dangerously.

Those of my readers who awaken sleepy-eyed this morning may have good reason for having thoughts of reform, but would it not be better for all of us today to stop meditating upon the bad habits of yesterday, and determine to do some positive thinking in creating new habits which will make for health and happiness? The eternal now is the only time really worth considering. The only time we are ever really conscious of is the ever-present now. If there is any time ever best for starting a good habit, it is now. The one who can expect no future of happiness or health is the one who always thinks of the future as tomorrow, and does not consider the all importance of the present moment.

As you lay your paper down after reading this article, think of the first good thing you can do. Perhaps it is some immediate act of kindness or generosity. It may be that you are just about to sit down to the table. If that is so, you will never have a better time in your life for starting the good habit of eating a sensible meal for your health's sake. There will be enough things on the table that you can use which you know to be healthful foods. Refuse those other foods in front of you about which there can be the slightest suspicion.

Perhaps you have not been out for a long walk today. If not, now is a good time to start. Go out and walk as far as today's strength permits, and each day try to increase the distance, and correspondingly increase your strength and endurance.

Perhaps you have been careless in your choice of companions. If so, do not let the day go by without seeing either an old friend or a new one whose friendship will be helpfully stimulating. Maybe you have been neglecting old friends whose counsel would help you the most, and carelessly getting into a rut with friends whose habits or ideals are not constructive.

Perhaps you have been drawn into bad habits of living, thoughtlessly staying out late too many nights, going to too many parties, and eating and drinking too much.

If you are ever going to make any serious change for the better, you must not put off making this change until tomorrow or any other time, but do it at once, even though your habits of living undergo a very radical change even this very day—the first day of the year 1930!

Lay out a plan for yourself today, and follow it today. At the same time, it is also wise to make plans for each succeeding day. Determine how many hours you should spend at your work, how many hours for sleep, and how many for recreation and study. Most people can do well with eight hours for work and eight hours for sleep. Most of the harm from bad habits comes from those which are practiced the other eight hours of the day. Determine how you can use those eight hours to the best advantage. There will be plenty of time for outdoor exercises or indoor calisthenics, plenty of time for going occasionally to the theater, and many hours when you can study, either with private teachers or from the thousands of wonderful books which record the thoughts and deeds of the greatest minds in history. Try spending an hour or more each day with such thinkers as Shakespeare and Emerson.

Create your new constructive habits for health and efficiency so that each day of this year you will be full of increasing happiness and satisfaction.

WHEN THE SANDMAN COMES

A Bedtime Story

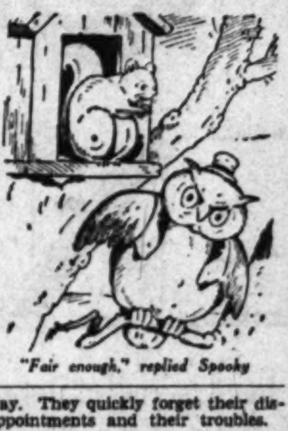
HAPPY JACK IS TAKEN CARE OF

Persistence seldom knows defeat;
You'll find it very hard to beat.
—Farmer Brown's Boy.



"Fair enough," replied Spooky

Farmer Brown's boy was wondering how Happy Jack the Gray Squirrel had come out in his fight with Spooky the Screech Owl for the possession of a house which Farmer Brown's boy had made and put up especially for Happy Jack. Late the afternoon before Happy Jack had had possession of the house, while Spooky sat disconsolately outside. Farmer Brown's boy wondered what had happened in the night. He knew that Happy Jack had had the advantage during daylight, but that Spooky would have had the advantage in the dark.

Farmer Brown's boy went out to the foot of the maple tree and looked up. He could see the doorway to the house, but there was no one in that door. He picked up some pebbles and threw so as to hit the house. He knew that if Happy Jack were in there, he would promptly come out. Happy Jack didn't come out. Instead, a very sleepy-looking face appeared in the doorway. It was Spooky. Farmer Brown's boy chuckled.

"So you win after all. Well, if you want that house so much, I guess we shall have to let you have it. I'll build another for Happy Jack and then both will be satisfied," said he.

So that very day Farmer Brown's boy built another house exactly like the one that Spooky had taken possession of. This he put up in another tree over nearer the Old Orchard and waited to see if Happy Jack would find it. Happy Jack did find it. He knew that that house was meant for him, just as he knew that the other was meant for him. He inspected it thoroughly, inside and out. Then he barked happily and forthwith began to carry in dry leaves as fast as he could. He meant to have possession of that house before anyone could get ahead of him. My, how Happy Jack did work! You know there isn't a lazy bone in Happy Jack's whole body. By the time jolly, round, red Mr. Sun began to get ready to go to bed behind the Purple Hills, Happy Jack had a snug, comfortable bed all made inside that house. He had quite forgotten his disappointment in losing the other house—the one that Spooky had driven him out of. Little people of the Green Forest and the Green Meadows are that way. They quickly forget their disappointments and their troubles.

Just after the Black Shadows took possession of the land, Spooky the Screech Owl came out of the house. It was hunting time and he was hungry. He flew straight over the Old Orchard and there he hunted for mice. He visited the edge of the Green Forest. He even went over to the barnyard. He quite forgot everything but his appetite and the need of catching enough mice to satisfy it.

It was just at the break of day, Spooky was preparing to go home, that he discovered the new house that Farmer Brown's boy had put up for Happy Jack. Spooky blinked those big eyes of his two or three times. That house was so exactly like the one that he had that he almost suspected a trick. He almost suspected that house had been moved. But when he flew over to this new house and discovered that inside was a bed of dry leaves, and heard the angry scolding of Happy Jack Squrrel, who had just awakened, he knew that this must be another house.

"What are you scolding about? I don't want your house," snapped Spooky. "I can't use but one house, and that I've got."

"Then go away and stay away!" growled Happy Jack. "If you won't bother me, I won't bother you."

"Fair enough," replied Spooky. And, spreading his wings, flew over to his own house and prepared to sleep away the long day.

Your Baby and Mine

by MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred will be glad to answer all questions pertaining to babies and children. A stamped and self-addressed envelope, forwarded to this office will bring a personal reply.

This department offers leaflets on weaning and feeding the child from weeks to 5 years, prenatal care and diet for the nursing mother, constipation, eczema, outfits for the new baby, sleeping, walking, teething, thumb sucking, ammoniacal urine, bed wetting, training in cleanly habits, periods of cod liver oil, orange juice, hives, worms, vomiting, refractory children, juice, lime water, rupture, stye and boils and cradle cap. Before sending a personal question about one of these subjects, it is better to send a self-addressed stamped envelope for the leaflet you need. If your particular problem is not covered in the above list, Mrs. Eldred will be glad to give you a personal reply.

NEW YEAR DEMANDS THAT MOTHERS KEEP PACE WITH THE TIMES

The years fly so rapidly that one needs wings to keep up with their changes. It is exciting and stimulating to live in this swiftly moving age, to see new ideas flower overnight, new modes of travel and new customs and manners taking the place of those to which the middle generation has become accustomed.

The older we get the more we hate change. It is uncomfortable and troublesome to step out of one's familiar groove of either thinking or acting and follow new and distracting paths. It is the parent who has the most difficult role, for she needs must keep in tune not only with this new consciousness of the child and his prominent role in the home, but with the child himself, who is growing up in a new world.

Each year demands something of us, and 1930 is demanding imperatively that we keep an open mind and have a willingness to be taught. There are so many new things to learn, so many new trends in dealing with children and their daily problems that one has to be constantly on the alert.

BABIES ARE NOT PLAYTHINGS

But there are some things which aren't bounded by years or even actual knowledge—some things which we believe should be intuitive in the sensitive mother. One of these is a realization that babies never are and never have been playthings to be exploited by parents for their own selfish pleasure. The real mother doesn't need to be told this, she knows it by that much abused word, "instinct." We can understand, then, that the letter we are printing might have been printed ten years ago and still be timely.

"Dear Mrs. Eldred," Mrs. A. B. writes, "this gets me 'hot.' I took care of a neighbor's baby while she went downtown. She is 1 year old, tall, thin, pale, fretful. When the

PAIR HELD FOR TRIAL AS BANDITS

Witnesses Identify Two as Robbers of Bank on West Washington Street

Identified by several witnesses as the man who held up a branch bank at 4730 West Washington street, obtaining $2258, Harry Hunter and Richard McKinnon were ordered held for trial by Superior Court on robbery charges following their preliminary hearing before Municipal Judge Lahey yesterday. Bail was fixed at $25,000 each.

Similar charges against Jerry Maher, accused by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Broker of being the driver of the car in which the two asserted bandits made their escape after the robbery, were dismissed by the court when witnesses failed to identify him.

Hunter and McKinnon were captured a few days after their successful bank robbery when they were frustrated by gunfire in an attempt to hold up another branch bank at One Hundred and Third street and Broadway. Both are awaiting trial on charges growing out of the unsuccessful robbery, their preliminary hearing on which was held Monday, last.

"TIMES" FORUM SALUTES YEAR

Season's Greetings Will be Broadcast by KHJ

Medium Noted Zoellner String Quartet

Several Stations to Cover Football Game

BY JOHN S. DAGGETT

New Year's greetings of The Times Forum, carrying an old-time radio message, will be broadcast from KHJ at 10:30 this morning by the Zoellner String Quartet. This organization is internationally known through appearances before crowned heads of Europe and was featured every Thursday night for many months when KHJ was owned by The Times.

Indicative of good will and the hope of kindness, happiness and joy to friends of The Times, the Zoellner quartet will present a memorable half-hour of beautiful music. This is the twenty-fifth year of the organization, a record for longevity which has never been equaled in musical history by a similar stellar group.

PATERNAL TRAINING

Joseph Zoellner, Sr., who plays the viola, trained his two sons, Joseph, Jr., 'cellist, and Amandus, violinist, and his daughter, Antoinette, violinist, from babyhood. In their development there has been incorporated into their playing a unity of family love and devotion to each other.

Perhaps this is the reason why their radio performances have always commanded unbroken attention from listeners-in. Their playing expresses more than mere musicianship and radiates a filial love which is felt by the unseen audience.

QUARTET'S PROGRAM

This will be their first appearance on radio in more than two years, because of their activities in connection with the Zoellner Conservatory of Music, which they established in Los Angeles several years ago. The program will be as follows:

"The First Noel," Pochon; "Minuet D Minor," Mozart; Music of the Spheres," Rubinstein; "Oriental" from The Novelettes, Glazounow; "In Highest Thought," Thern, arranged for quartet by Joseph Zoellner, Sr., and "Rosalie," Danish folk song, Sanby.

NEW YEAR'S FEATURES

Prosperity of the Southland of California will be enunciated tonight over KHJ from 9 to 9:30 by the presentation of a program featuring California composers and dedicated to The Times Midwinter Edition, which will come from the press tomorrow morning. Don Lee of KHJ co-operating with The Times, feels that a chain hook-up tribute should carry the Midwinter feature, which, after all, is published annually by The Times as a slogan of western development.

The basic object of the midwinter edition of The Times is to invite the public, in the spirit of co-operation, to mail it to relatives and friends, the world over.

FOOTBALL BROADCAST

KHJ will broadcast the Rose Tournament football game between the University of Pittsburgh and the University of Southern California at 1:45 this afternoon. Lloyd E. Yoder, former all-American tackle, and Carl Haverlin, internationally known athlete, have been selected to do the announcing. They will be assisted by Graham McNamee, who will be heard for a half-hour before the kick-off and between the halves.

KFI, the Earle C. Anthony station, will also join in the broadcast of the New Year's football game in the Rose Bowl, beginning at 1:30 p.m. today. At 7:30 p.m., tonight, Felipe Delgado, baritone, and Margaret Kintz-Duncan, accompanist, will be heard over KFI in a concert of Spanish songs.

"POP" WARNER ON AIR

KFWB has added to its Pittsburgh vs. U.S.C. football broadcast, which will begin at 2 p.m. this afternoon, the famous Stanford coach, "Pop" Warner, who will entertain sports enthusiasts between halves with his critical comment on the play of the first half and a forecast of what he anticipates will happen during the two closing quarters of the game. At 8 p.m. the second episode of the mystery serial, "Who Is Marion?" will be broadcast.

KNX, in response to the demand of listeners-in who had heard "Robin Hood," will broadcast, at 9 p.m., Gilbert and Sullivan's most popular of all tuneful operas, "Pinafores." Throughout the afternoon and evening, organ and orchestral concerts will also be heard over KNX.

MEDLEY POPULAR

KMTR promises Harry Geise's continuity program, "A Night in Spain," will outdo any of his previous efforts when presented tonight at 8:30. Popular demand has induced KMTR to present again "Moss Covered Melodies" from 9 to 9:30 p.m. tonight. This is a medley of "old-time" melodies.

For the benefit of those listening in to Westlake Park radio speakers, it is announced that the University of Pittsburgh vs. the University of Southern California football game will be presented.

CHEF WYMAN'S RECIPES

Every Tuesday and Friday at 2 o'clock Mrs. A. L. Wyman will conduct a free class and demonstration of good cookery in the lecture room of the Southwest Building, 130 South Broadway.

STEAMED CRANBERRY PUDDING

One cupful of flour, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder, half a teaspoonful of salt, half a cupful of bread crumbs, one-half a cupful of brown sugar, one cupful of chopped cranberries, two-thirds of a cupful of suet, one egg and one-half a cupful of milk, sift the flour, baking powder and salt together. Add the bread crumbs to the mixture, the sugar, that has been combined with the finely ground suet, beat the egg, add it to the milk, and beat well, place in oiled molds, filling two-thirds full, cover tightly, place in a steamer, and steam if in one large mold for two hours, serve with a hard sauce.

PEANUT COOKIES

Two cupfuls of peanuts, one cupful of sugar, one-half a teaspoonful of vanilla, the whites of two eggs, put the peanuts through the meat grinder, until they are like coarse meal, mix them with the sugar, add the vanilla, and beat the egg whites until foamy but not stiff. When well blended, roll out on lightly floured board, half an inch in thickness, lay strips of the mixture on an oiled baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven for twenty minutes.

GREEN PEA SOUFFLE

Four tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half a cupful of fine bread crumbs, two cupfuls of cooked peas, one and one-half cupfuls of milk, two eggs, a seasoning of salt and paprika, place the butter in a saute pan, add the crumbs to it and allow them to slightly brown. Put the peas through a sieve, beat the eggs, add the milk to it, the peas and bread crumbs, pour into a buttered baking dish, set in a pan of hot water and allow to bake slowly until firm in the center.

HAM WITH OLIVE STUFFING

Take two medium sized slices of ham, place one of them in a casserole dish and cover with the following dressing: One-half a cupful of finely chopped mushrooms, two tablespoonfuls of butter, two tablespoonfuls of finely chopped ripe olives, two teaspoonfuls of finely chopped parsley, one tablespoonful of Worcestershire sauce, a seasoning of paprika, a few drops of onion juice, and one-half a cupful of soft bread crumbs. Place the butter in a saute pan, add to it the mushrooms, and the rest of the ingredients, and if necessary moisten with a little boiling water, spread this on top of the ham slice and cover with the other slice of ham, place in a medium oven and if too dry, baste with a little hot water.

Mrs. Wyman does not reply to letters but requests for recipes are answered in the department. PRACTICAL RECIPES, published every Friday.—(All rights to reproduce reserved by A. L. Wyman.)

PARAMOUNT CASTS WAR ORPHAN

"Vanities" Comedian and Dancer Signs With Universal; Mal St. Clair to Direct Paramount Special; Rene Macready Featured by R.-K.-O.

BY GRACE KINGSLEY

No wonder Hollywood film writers believe in Cinderella. The newest Cinderella tale has just come from Paramount studios.

RUTH CHATTERTON

Because she emulated Ruth Chatterton so well during the making of character tests for "Sarah and Son," Lisa Gora, 18-year-old Austrian war orphan, yesterday was rewarded by Paramount with a featured part in the picture.

Miss Gora came to Los Angeles three years ago with a California woman, who, traveling through Vienna, had discovered the motherless girl working in a hotel and had adopted her.

As a youngster Miss Gora had dreamed that she would some day become a motion-picture actress in Hollywood. She told her Vienna playmates that she would adopt the screen name Lisa Gora, which is the name of a Russian mountain she had read about in her geography, and which had taken her fancy.

On her arrival here, the benefactress placed her in Monrovia High School, where she perfected her English.

For a year now, Miss Gora has been doing extra work. Her first break came when she was given the part of a Coblenz street girl in "Hell's Angels."

Before the start of production on "Sarah and Son," Miss Gora played Ruth Chatterton's role, that of Sarah, in the tests given the other members of the cast, and did it so splendidly that Dorothy Arzner, who is to direct, decided the girl had a touch of genius, and gave her the role.

Miss Gora's real name remains a secret, but it is known that she is the daughter of a Viennese physician, who died during the war.

FRANK LESLIE WILL BE WITH UNIVERSAL

Frank Leslie, noted New York comedian and dancer, arrived in town yesterday and will play a leading comedy role in Paul Whiteman's Universal revue, "The King of Jazz."

The actor was formerly for several seasons a star of Earl Carroll "Vanities" in New York.

While nothing definite is ready to announce, it is rumored that Leslie will sign with Universal on a long-term contract.

St. Clair Replaces Green

Mal St. Clair, and not Alfred Green, will direct "Dangerous Nan McGrew," the all-star production featuring Helen Kane, according to an official announcement made by studio executives yesterday. Al Green, it is recalled, is convalescing from a major surgical operation in Hollywood and will not be completely recovered in time to accept the directorial assignment as originally scheduled.

MALCOLM ST. CLAIR

Leaving Hollywood for New York tomorrow or Friday, St. Clair will at once on arrival in the East launch preparatory work on the production, with actual filming and recording scheduled to start about the last of January.

Paul Gerard Smith and Jack MacGowan are collaborating on the adaptation and dialogue of the original story by Garrett Fort and Charles Beehan.

Rene Macready With R.-K.-O.

When R.-K.-O. officials signed Rene Macready, noted English stage actress, and said that they meant to give her some good acting roles, they apparently meant it.

Now Miss Macready has been assigned one of the two leading feminine roles opposite Richard Dix in William Le Baron's play, "I Love You."

Van and Schenck Return

In case anyone is wondering what has become of those eminent comics, Messrs. Van and Schenck, it pleases me to be able to say that they have arrived at Agua Caliente and are working as entertainers at the new Casino there.

Their M.-G.-M. talking feature, "Playing the Field," is shortly to be released, and it is on the cards that the pair will tour the picture houses with the feature.

Arthur Stone With Fox

Arthur Stone, whose stock as a character actor has risen several points with the coming of talking pictures, has been signed to play the role of the chief racketeer in "On the Level," Victor McLaglen's next Fox-Movietone production, which Irving Cummings will launch into production within a few days.

ARTHUR STONE

Aggie Herring and Ben Blewett also have been signed for important parts in the picture. Lee Tracy is to portray McLaglen's buddy. George Brooks wrote the story.

THEATER BANDIT SOUGHT

A bandit who held up and robbed Adelaide Kidroski, cashier of the Balboa Theater at Eighty-seventh street and Vermont avenue, Monday night, of $80 was the object of a search yesterday by deputy sheriffs.

ADDITIONAL HELP GIVEN TO PORTER

Council Creates Another Secretary Job, Probably to Be Filled by Eagan

Another secretarial position for Mayor Porter's office was created by the City Council yesterday in short order. This job, it is understood, is to be filled by Ellis Eagan, dismissed as a deputy City Attorney by City Attorney Werner for "political activity."

At the same time Council abolished one position as deputy City Attorney at $375 per month, the place Eagan held under Werner. This was objected to by Councilman Davis, supported by Councilmen Jacobson and Williams, who declared the City Attorney's office already is handicapped by a lack of trial deputies, thus delaying court cases. President Sanborn stated that the City Attorney, if he finds a lack of office help, can apply to the Council to increase his staff. The votes were unanimous.

The committee report creating the new job described the new aide as an ordinance analyzer. Eagan, it is understood, wants to be known as research secretary. It is reported also that he will head a publicity bureau which the Mayor has announced his intention of establishing.

Mayor Porter retained the office staff of former Mayor Cryer, consisting of a secretary, $425 per month; two assistant secretaries, $200, and an executive secretary, $275; except that his son, Lee Porter, replaced H. H. Kinney in the first position.

When Mayor Porter first took office in July the Council created another secretarial position at $350 per month for W. J. Mosher, who is supposed to do the investigating of applicants for jobs. In addition, a number of investigators are working for the Mayor's office in some capacity or another.

Eagan was a deputy District Attorney under Asa Keyes, and handled the 1928 grand jury, of which Porter was a member. When Buron Fitts became District Attorney Eagan left that office. At the request of Mayor Porter, City Attorney Werner made Eagan a deputy and assigned him as legal adviser to the Mayor. He since has occupied an office in the Mayor's suite.

In connection with the transfer of Eagan's name from the pay roll of the City Attorney to that of the Mayor, City Attorney Werner directed a letter to Mayor Porter declaring that the latter is to feel free at any time to call on his staff for legal advice.

"In order that matters affecting the executive department may be given prompt attention, I have asked my executive assistant, Milton Bryan, to give such matters his first consideration," wrote Mr. Werner.

"I am confident that this change will result in better service to you and in more efficient dispatch of the city's business.

"Assuring you of the continued co-operation of this office, I remain,

"Respectfully yours,
[Signed]
"ERWIN P. WERNER."

POSTOFFICE SHOWS GAIN IN RECEIPTS

Total for 1929 Almost Three-quarters Million More Than Previous Year

Postoffice receipts for Los Angeles increased 7.54 per cent during the year 1929, as compared to 1928, it was disclosed yesterday by figures compiled by Postmaster O'Brien.

Receipts for 1929 were $10,912,736.30, compared to $10,147,823.14 for 1928. The receipts for December, 1929, were $1,408,790.14, compared to $1,280,718.31, for the same month in the previous year.

The total increase of 1929 was $764,913.16.

Tujunga Canyon Rock Crusher to Occupy Council

The City Council this morning will take up the matter of the application of Sol J. V. Godman to establish a rockcrushing plant in Tujunga Canyon. Granting this permit has been opposed by a large number of property owners in the Sunland and Tujunga territory and resolutions opposing the plant have been forwarded by the Federated Civic Organizations to the City Council and the Mayor.

The Federated Civic Organizations' resolution sets forth that it was adopted at the request of the Sunland Improvement Association. The point is made that the taxpayers are now spending their money developing a beautiful park at Sunland while the territory in which the plant is to be established is now zoned for residences.

DISEASE MAY CLOSE JAIL

Victim of Meningitis Found in City Cell Taken Out at Once and Quarantine Considered

Padlocking of the City Jail and the consequent exclusion of any additional prisoners loomed yesterday in the wake of an outbreak of spinal meningitis within its walls.

Following the removal of a victim of the malady to the isolation ward of General Hospital and an inspection of the building, Dr. Porter, assistant to Health Officer Parrish, announced that the Health Commission will meet Friday to decide whether it will "take the matter into its own hands" and close the doors of the structure.

The meningitis victim is Benjamin H. Smith, 38 years of age, of 3646½ Midvale avenue. He entered the City Jail as a prisoner September 14, last, convicted of possessing liquor in violation of the Wright Act and sentenced to a fine of $1000 and 360 days in jail. Monday he complained of feeling ill. Yesterday his ailment was diagnosed as spinal meningitis.

Apprised of Smith's condition, Dr. Parrish ordered the prisoner removed at once to the General Hospital. Then he and his assistant and Health Commissioner Larsen visited the jail and made a tour of inspection, following which they supervised a thorough fumigation of all quarters. No quarantine, however, has been ordered as yet.

Several months ago Dr. Parrish in his official capacity condemned the City Jail as unfit for habitation and called on the City Council to provide funds with which to erect new temporary quarters for police and prisoners pending the passing of another bond issue for the building of a new permanent structure. Delay in progress on the proposed temporary jail has resulted from the City Council's failure to act on the health department's recommendation.

DANCER SCORES REAL TRIUMPH

La Argentina Wins Instant Recognition

Spanish Offerings Reveal Splendid Talent

Celebrities Gather to See Noted Artist

BY ISABEL MORSE JONES

La Argentina captivated a distinguished audience, many members of which were world celebrities also, at the Philharmonic Auditorium last night. Some have music in their ears, others have it in their fingers, but it is rare indeed to find it in the heels. The art of "rhythmic combination of tones" is no longer associated in the mind exclusively with vibrations of vocal chords and strings—it is possible to realize music expressed in hard little wooden heels and in the varied gradations of delicate chestnut clappers.

Miguel Berdion, a clever, brilliant Spanish pianist, provided the very breath of Andalusia with his playing which established the atmosphere preceding each entrance of the dancer. Difficult as it was he sustained interest between her numbers.

The program of Granados, Albeniz, de Falla, Guerrero, Iradier and Valverde was all of Spain, but like the numberless "regiones" of that country of many facets, not one was without essential differences in character, in inspiration and in technique.

The first appearance of Argentina was in a beautifully timed Serenate with the serious color of dark blue toning her costume. It was subtle, that entrance—not sensational, not in the least flamboyant. The tone was pitched low and the whole dance a portent of the climax which was to come. The clic-clac, clic-clac of the presaging spurs of wood which adorned those miraculous feet told a tale not expressible in words.

The Dance No. 5, of Granados was a contrast in sinuous black velvet. Few dancers can appear so tall, and none that I have seen can strike a note with the body, with the feet and with the castanets at so exactly the perfect moment.

The castanets did not accompany the melody; they played showers of notes, crescendo, decrescendo, diminuendo, and then fortissimo again, until the audience which had come to see found itself straining ears to hear every note.

The great moment arrived with de Falla's fire dance, a ritual for driving away evil spirits. Argentina did astounding things with her long, sensitive hands, and her face became that of a sorceress with a strange power to charm. She became the embodiment of de Falla's "El Amor Brujo."

Later a gypsy dance by the same composer (Spain's composers seem to have the dance always in mind when they write) displayed a roguish side all fun and laughter, followed by a peasant dance of unutterable naivete and humor. It had to be repeated. The costume was unforgettable in colors and voluminous petticoats.

After a short interval La Argentina returned in a dance of Cordoba, all billowy lace and exquisite refinement—a real, flesh and blood woman with the most delicate movements of grace. This is the side of aristocratic Spain which too few accentuate. It is not the Flamenco art, not the legacy of the Moors. It is Madrid and of the royal family.

"Andalusian Tango," with its starched - cotton ruffles and its magenta splash of color, carried the audience away and the applause was deafening. The last group of Bolero, Seguidillas and Impressions of a Bullfight was all too short. The Bolero, half Italian and half Spanish, revealed Argentina as a ballet dancer of incredible lightness and charm, and the Seguidillas, one of the best known of the traditional dances of her land, was given without piano, but certainly the program was wrong to say that it was without music. The "rhythmical combination" of heels and castanets was without question most "pleasing to the ear."

In the Impressions of a Bullfight even the casual observer could see the meaning of her wonderful pantomime. But to the initiated it became a parade of toreadors suddenly changing into the "cuadrilla" around the ring. In a flash she was the picador spearing the bull, while her tiny feet perfectly beat the rhythm of his horse's hoofs. Every detail of the fight was mirrored with marvelous skill. Pointed "banderillas" plunged into the beast, and finally the matador turned to the throng for approval. It was all very real and the people rose in their seats to cry "Oyez" and other Spanish hurrahs!

It was one of the rare triumphs of great artistry Los Angeles has been treated to, and the next two concerts of Argentina on the 9th and 11th inst. will be crowded, for success of such caliber travels by word of mouth and is irrefutable.

Loew's Theater Announces Plans for Late Shows

The inauguration of special Saturday midnight shows as a regular weekly policy at Loew's State Theater has been announced. For the opening show, January 11, Roscoe Arbuckle in person as master of ceremonies and Curtis Mosby's entire Apex Night Club Revue are to be the special attractions. Each week's midnight show is to consist of the regular stage and screen programs augmented by noted screen and stage stars in person.

Late night life will be enlivened by these shows and a large number of downtown merchants are planning to co-operate by remaining open late for the convenience of the midnight patrons, it is said.

With the Fanchon and Marco stage "idea" as a nucleus, the theater is said to be in a decidedly advantageous position to build special midnight attractions. The entire roster of Fanchon and Marco talent will be available for other special acts.

Colorful Revue Announced

Adamae and Alberta Vaughn

Make up one of the sister teams which play a prominent part in "Show of Shows," Warner Brothers' melange, including over seventy stars, which will come to the Downtown Theater screen Monday night.

Charlie Murray Reveals Humor in New Comedy

CHARLIE MURRAY

Humor that has made Hollywood laugh in private is revealed on the talking screen for the first time by Charlie Murray, who is making his audible screen bow in the Paramount-Christie comedy, "The Duke of Dublin," on the same program with "Taming of the Shrew," co-starring Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, at the United Artists Theater.

Murray has been regarded as the master of Hollywood's story-tellers for many years. His specialty runs to Irish dialect—such as that spoken by the principal character in "The Duke of Dublin."

Mary Gordon, Monte Carter and Carol Wines are seen and heard in the supporting cast in the Paramount-Christie comedy, which was directed by William Watson.

'Hot for Paris' Players Make Resolutions

Here are some New Year's Eve resolutions from the director and players in "Hot for Paris" at the Criterion:

Raoul Walsh: "To make a production of 'Babes in the Woods' featuring Victor McLaglen and Eddie Lowe for the benefit of those who don't like human, red-blooded pictures."

Victor McLaglen: "To battle it out once more with Eddie Lowe with Raoul Walsh directing and to win out this time."

Fifi Dorsay: "To confine myself to picture work and cut theater prologue appearances out of my life."

El Brendel: "To find a story in which I may play a sympathetic role."

Reality Found in Melodrama

In constructing her new vehicle, "Diamond Lil," now at the Biltmore Theater, Mae West preferred reality to fiction and consequently set about to dramatize the famous "Diamond Lil" of Chatham Square as the central character of a melodrama with New York's underworld in the early 90's as a background.

She has a fertile subject with which to work in her dramatization, since few gold diggers, past or present, boasted a more colorful or adventurous career than Diamond Lil, it is said.

"Diamond Lil," whose Christian name was Lillian Diamond, hailed from a small Pennsylvania town. Her introduction to Bowery night life came in 1900 when Lil was but 18. She came with a bunch of tourists for a trip to Chinatown, and decided to stay.

"Dynamite" to Begin Popular Showing Today

Today "Dynamite" starts at the Fox Palace Theater in its initial towntown popular showing and as the opening attraction of the theater's new continuous policy.

"Dynamite" is the first Cecil B. De Mille all-talking picture and has won a firm place with the leaders of the outstanding special productions on the year's list. Its road-show exhibition smashed records throughout the country, it is said.

"Dynamite introduces two of Broadway's noted stage players in roles which won instantaneous note in the talking-picture field. They are Charles Bickford and Kay Johnson. Conrad Nagel and Julia Faye enact the other important parts. "Dynamite" will remain at the Palace for one week.

Carthay Circle Continues Run of "Rio Rita"

With three studios offering their best pictures to Fox West Coast Theaters for premiere presentation at the Circle Theater, "Rio Rita" continues serenely on its long run. The Ziegfeld-Radio musical has now entered the third month of its engagement.

Those persons who wondered if the stock market debacle would hurt business can take heart from the experience of the Circle Theater, it is said, which is enjoying better business in the third month of "Rio Rita" than it did in the first week.

"Rio Rita" has proved to be one production which builds up with the passing weeks. Opening in San Francisco "absolutely cold" as showmen say, "Rio Rita," by word-of-mouth publicity alone, steadily built up in patronage until it broke one week's record after another. This experience has been repeated at the Earl Carroll Theater in New York and in a score of other cities.

Mission Play Ready to Start in San Gabriel

Two dress rehearsals yesterday completed preparation for the opening of the nineteenth season of the Mission Play, John Steven McGroarty's story of the early history of California and the founding of the mission system, told in a colorful pageant drama, which opens with a matinee this afternoon in the Playhouse at San Gabriel.

Scheduling the opening on a holiday and the fact that the play is located in such proximity to the Tournament of Roses at Pasadena have been of advantage in attracting a good audience for the opening performance.

The new season again finds R. D. MacLean cast in the play's leading role as Fray Junipero Serra, and Irmalee Campbell is placed in the feminine lead as Senora Josepha Yorba. Carmen De Lara will be the premiere danseuse in the production and the other leading roles are capably filled.

Belasco Offers Three Dramas

The brilliant Jewish actress, Mollie Cohn, and her brother, Jack Berlin, will this afternoon, begin a brief engagement at the Belasco Theater, presenting three plays.

The attraction for the two performances today will be "Dance to Death," in which Miss Cohn appeared with success during her last appearance here. Friday and Saturday the two stars will be seen in "Eternal Song," and on Sunday afternoon and evening in "Manke from Odessa."

POPULAR ACTRESS IN "CONDEMNED"

Ann Harding

Grauman's Chinese Theater will present two performances of "Condemned," starring Ronald Colman with Ann Harding, today. The film has enjoyed a month's run at the theater, with excellent prospects for a much longer engagement.

The program is augmented with a Laurel and Hardy comedy entitled "Night Owls," and the orchestra under the direction of Gino Severi.

"OH, YEAH" WILL START AT R.-K.-O.

Robert Armstrong, James Gleason Costar in Film of Railroad Life

The first feature for the New Year at the R.-K.-O. will present the past masters of the art of slang, Robert Armstrong and James Gleason, in the Pathe talking comedy, "Oh, Yeah," and will also usher in the first anniversary of the reorganized Radio-Keith-Orpheum regime.

ROBERT ARMSTRONG

R.-K.-O. will observe its first birthday today. Exactly one year ago a new amusement organization stepped into the picture and vaudeville field, and in the twelve months it has made a remarkable start, it is said.

"Oh, Yeah" starts Thursday, following the close tonight of the romantic air drama, "Flight," which features Jack Holt, Ralph Graves and Lila Lee. In their first costarring picture, Armstrong and Gleason enact the roles of a couple of railroad roustabouts who pride themselves on being immune from women.

Bulletin Tells Resolutions of Duffy Players

Backstage at El Capitan, the bulletin holds the written New Year's resolutions of the cast of "The Boomerang," the comedy which the Henry Duffy Players are presenting.

KAY HAMMOND

Tom Moore has written: "I resolve never to let a day in 1930 pass without a five - mile ride on horseback." Kay Hammond's good resolution is: "Eighteen holes of golf every day, rain or shine." Ben Lyon has a similar one: "No day of 1930 without a spin in my own plane."

The others vary, Frances Morris writing: "I resolve never to alibi on a late entrance." Florence Roberts's resolution for the New Year is to collect as many photographs of the Prince of Wales as she can. Barbara Jo Allen resolves to go without luncheons and save her money for another trip to Europe.

Special Matinee Scheduled or New Year's Day

Bringing to a close a series of special holiday matinees during the Christmas season at the Vine-street Theater, an afternoon performance is scheduled today to provide New Year's Day merry-makers opportunity to view "The Rear Car." The matinee today will take the place of the regular Thursday afternoon performance.

Franklin Pangborn, Vine-street actor-producer, who is heading the cast of "The Rear Car," presented two performances of the Edward Rose mystery-comedy last night on New Year's Eve, playing to capacity houses for both shows.

"Glorifying the American Girl," Florenz Ziegfeld's first personally supervised picture which opens at the Paramount Theater tomorrow, presents several of the revue scenes that Ziegfeld has shown to Broadway audiences.

Foremost of these is the act of Eddie Cantor, star of Ziegfeld's "Whoopee." Cantor's portrayal of the young Jewish salesman in a clothing store is one of the most humorous acts yet presented in a talking picture, it is claimed.

Rudy Vallee and his Connecticut Yankees present their most popular number, "Vagabond Lover." Helen Morgan, late star of "Show Boat," also sings a song entitled "What Wouldn't I Do for That Man?"

Navy Will See 'Hit the Deck' Friday Night

The Navy will descend on the Orpheum Friday night to see itself as others see it in "Hit the Deck." Friday has been designated as Navy night and special trains will bring the sailors from San Pedro so that they can enjoy the fun and music of this Radio picture.

Several special features for the occasion have been arranged and a gay time is expected. "Hit the Deck" features Jack Oakie with Polly Walker, Follies beauty, heading a strong supporting cast of players. It was directed by Luther Reed, who directed "Rio Rita." It is now in the second week of its run at the Orpheum, where it inaugurated a policy of continuous performances.

"BLIND" FLYING PERILS TO END

Lieut. Doolittle Tells About Novel Instruments

Army Test Pilot in City for Visit Over Holidays

Newly Equipped Plane Will Be Employed Here

The day when fully equipped airplanes can wander off their courses in storms, crash into mountains or spin down because of fog is over.

This comes from Lieut. Jimmy Doolittle, veteran army test pilot, and the first man to take off, fly and land "blind" with only instruments to guide him.

Lieut. Doolittle flew in yesterday after a short visit to Agua Caliente in the Curtiss - Wright Cessna monoplane, which he piloted from New York to spend the holidays in his home city—Los Angeles.

Although he hesitated in forecasting developments for safe flying, he was positive that the instruments and mechanical aids already at man's disposal in conquering the air are sufficient to assure safety of control under any conditions.

FOUR INSTRUMENTS

The four instruments which Lieut. Doolittle depended on to guide him in his epochal "blind" hop last summer over Mitchell Field, N. Y., form the basis for his opinion. These were a visual radio beacon, two tiny reeds which vibrated in unison while the plane followed a radio ground beacon; a sensitive barometric altimeter, capable of registering the plane's distance from the ground within a very few feet; a directional gyroscope, a spin warner, and an artificial horizon that tilted to warn the flyer when a wind dipped.

"These are no longer experiments," Lieut. Doolittle said. "Air mail lines are equipping their ships with at least two of the instruments as fast as possible.

"These, however, are outside the more-recently tested Sperry gyroscope, which takes control of the plane while it is flying on a set course entirely out of the hands of the pilot. I consider this latter a very great aid to safe "blind" navigation and flying and it undoubtedly will become standard equipment of transports in the future."

PLANE TO BE EQUIPPED

Los Angeles student pilots will be able to take advantage of a fully equipped blind flying plane, as Lieut. Doolittle conferred yesterday with Maj. C. C. Moseley, vice-president of Curtiss-Wright Flying Service, on the details of outfitting a training plane, soon to be put into operation at Los Angeles Municipal Airport.

His local visit also is somewhat of a homecoming for Lieut. Doolittle. He is a graduate of Manual Arts High School here and was formerly amateur bantamweight boxing champion of the Pacific Coast. He plans to remain at the Ambassador a few days before leaving for the East.

Elderly Business Man Makes Resolution for More Air Miles in 1930

With only twelve hours to spare, Watkin Davies, 80-year-old Stockton business man, completed his 1929 aviation program at noon yesterday, which was 8000 miles of air travel.

He left here on the San Francisco plane of the Western Air Express after arriving here from Kansas City. He left Oakland December 21, last, and traveled by air to Omaha, Chicago and back. Davies covered 4000 miles in thirty-six hours, traversing the same route of travel that he made last summer. Before enplaning he announced his 1930 resolution to be "More air miles."

HIKERS RELATE STORIES

dark moved and the night was filled with cries of 'Help! Help!' That's all there was to it. We just called down to them that we were help—and there you are."

GREAT RELIEF

"We were huddled on the ground, sort of dozing and not knowing that anyone was within miles of us until these flashlights popped out at us from the side of the canyon," said Kotkin.

"I can't tell you how relieved I felt when I was startled from a fitful sort of sleep—no, you couldn't call it sleep—with this flashlight shining in my eyes," said Celia as she sat in the substation of the Sheriff's office at Altadena munching on an orange.

As to how they became lost and what they were doing while an army of men was combing the mountains in a frantic search for them, it can be summed up in the brief statement that they turned off the road, followed a firebreak down into Winter Creek Canyon, became confused, and spent most of their waking moments wandering around in the canyon seeking a way out.

And once—what a heartbreaker it was!—once, one of the searching airplanes swooped down very close to them as they floundered around in the canyon. That was Monday afternoon.

TEARS SHED

It was that night that Celia, brave though she was, began to feel hope fading—and she cried as she lay down on the cold ground.

"We just sort of huddled together on the ground to keep warm," Kotkin explained.

"And that night after we saw the airplane in the afternoon, I guess I was just a bit blue and I cried. I began to fear that we were through," Celia explained.

Kotkin said that when they got down into the canyon Saturday they spent most of the day beating their way back up the canyon looking for the firebreak on which they came down. Why they did not continue on down the canyon following the creek-bed is not clear. And why they could not find the firebreak on which they came down is not clear, except that they probably became confused and lost their sense of direction. The first night they spent in the canyon.

WENT BACK DOWN

"The next day," said Kotkin, "we went up on another firebreak which we found, but it did not seem to lead anywhere, and we were afraid to get too far from water, so we went back down into the canyon."

"When you were up on the firebreak in the clear, why didn't you light a fire—the county and Federal fire lookouts would have spotted your smoke in no time and could have located you within 100 yards?" Kotkin was asked.

"We had nothing to light anything with except one of those cigarette lighters—and it would not work!" he explained with a shrug of the shoulders.

They thought they heard voices around them, calling to them, they said.

"We were not sure of the voices," Celia said, "but we called back. We hollered until we were hoarse. But it was no use."

They had nothing to eat, and for shelter had merely their hiking clothes.

COLD AT NIGHT

Cold? It was very cold at night, they said.

When Dearholt and Green found the hikers, the former went back up to the hotel and took back County Forester Turner and others to assist in the steep climb back to the hotel. Green remained with the three in the canyon and fed them sandwiches which he carried in his knapsack.

At 3 o'clock in the morning the entire party started back up to the hotel, and was met there by Capt. Bright of the Sheriff's office and brought down to the substation, where there was a great reunion of relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Sam Caplan, Celia's parents, were there, as were Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Schwarts and Mr. Kotkin.

One of the tensest dramatic moments of the entire search came with the first exchange of words between the distracted mother and the daughter she feared had met a tragic fate in the mountain fastnesses. Apprised by telephone of the recovery of the trio, Mr. and Mrs. Caplan sped to the foot of Mount Wilson. Celia was being cared for in the hotel on the summit.

REPORTER AT PHONE

A Times representative was in the toll gate house at the base, talking over the phone to Spence Turner, county forester, who also was at the hotel.

"Can the girl come to the phone," he asked Turner. "If she can, put her on—because her mother is here."

Mr. and Mrs. Caplan peered into the toll gate house.

"Here, Mrs. Caplan," said the reporter, "talk to Celia—she's on the phone!"

With trembling hands the mother, on the verge of hysteria from joy, took up the receiver, and with trembling lips and in a quavering voice she told the girl of her unbounded happiness.

Mr. Caplan announced that Green and Dearholt will be paid the $500 reward he offered for the return of his daughter.

THOROUGH SEARCH

How thoroughly the search for the missing hikers was organized was indicated by a three-page instruction sheet issued by Turner to his deputies and county fire wardens from San Dimas west to Mint Canyon. Every canyon and trail in the mountains was covered in the instructions, with men designated for each trail and where all were to meet. The Sheriff's men, working out of the Altadena substation in charge of Capt. Allen, also were organized. Airplanes roared overhead and United States forest rangers under the direction of Dispatcher Davis at Pasadena and Supervisor Mendenhall at Los Angeles were out on trail and mountain road.

"Where did you make your big mistake?" the trio were asked when they prepared to go to their homes.

"The big mistake," said Celia, "was in leaving the road and trying to make a shortcut. My advice is—never get off the road or the well-traveled trail in the mountains."

Now You Tell Another One

A novel manner of coping with California's new marriage law was disclosed yesterday after Doris Anderson and Anthony Thomas McCulloch Jowitt, motion-picture writers, filed their notice of intention at the marriage license bureau.

They declared they filed the notice yesterday without any plans whatever for a ceremony.

"We decided to do this just in event we do want to get married sometime in the near future," Miss Anderson averred. "We have no plans whatever to get married, so I am unable to name the date." The new marriage law required us to file the notice, so we did it so we could get married whenever we want to."

Jowitt is a writer at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, 28 years of age, living at 6721 Alta Loma Terrace, while Miss Anderson, 33 years of age, resides in Beverly Hills.

Baptist Pastor's Funeral Friday

Funeral services for Rev. Dr. N. B. Rairden, veteran Baptist minister in Kansas and Indiana, will be conducted Friday at 1 p.m. in the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn Memorial Park. Dr. Rairden died Tuesday at his home, 1737 Homewood Drive, Altadena, at the age of 76 years.

He was born in Indiana and attended Franklin College, where he received his D.D. degree. He held pastorates in several of the Middle Western States and came to Southern California in 1910.

For many years Dr. Rairden took an active part in the home missionary work of the Baptist Church and served as an official of the boards. He leaves his widow, Mrs. Nellie Rairden.

JONES OPPOSES FUMBLE RULING

Offense Should be Unable to Run With Ball

'Pop' Warner, Stagg Favor Present Application

All Grid Mentors Decry Commercialization

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—Although the college football coaches have gone on record, as an association, against further tinkering with the gridiron rules, there is far from general agreement among them, especially with regard to the new fumble regulation.

POP WARNER

The Associated Press today received contributions to the debate from four of the country's most famous coaches now all in the Far West. In them Amos Alonzo Stagg of Chicago and Glenn S. (Pop) Warner of Stanford were disclosed as favoring the present rules without change. Capt. Lawrence (Biff) Jones of Army and and Howard Jones of Southern California expressed desire to do away with the new rule which prevents the defensive side from running with a recovered fumble.

In the opinion of Howard Jones, "the new fumble rule which prohibits the defensive team from running with a recovered fumble has proved unjust."

"If the defensive team which does not commit the error is not allowed to advance the ball, the offensive team which makes the error should not be allowed to do so," he added. "I would like to see the fumble rule changed so that both teams are denied the right to advance a fumbled ball, or else have the present rule repealed altogether."

The Southern California coach, whose team tackles the unbeaten Panthers of Pittsburgh tomorrow as the climax of an extraordinary schedule, also seized the opportunity to answer charges of gridirion commercialism.

"As far as I could see," said Howard Jones, "practically all of this criticism was based on the fact that major football games often bring in big gate receipts, the critics assuming that the public has become interested in the game because it is now a business.

"Football teaches self-reliance,

East versus West again. The undefeated Pittsburgh Panthers and the Southern California Trojans. The fifteenth annual New Year's Day gridiron classic at Pasadena. The final intersectional struggle of a colorful season.

And the competing teams are two of the finest in the country. They face each other today at 2 o'clock sharp before the biggest crowd that has ever seen a Rose Bowl game—71,000 strong.

JOCK SUTHERLAND

Before the Stanford - Pitt game two years ago the south end of the Rose Bowl was filled in with a new concrete addition, but the crowd lacked 12,000 of being capacity. Nor was the big bowl full for the California-Georgia Tech game last New Year's Day.

But this year every available seat will be filled, as well as added circus seats below the concrete rim of the old open end.

The game sold out weeks ago. The speed with which the pasteboards was gobbled up set a new record. And the demand for them yesterday, after the sun came out and assured a perfect New Year's Day setting, was terrific.

The sellout is a tribute to the undefeated record of Pittsburgh and the popularity of the Trojans, who though twice defeated in the season's play, have proved themselves one of the most colorful and powerful teams in the country.

Although Pitt has four players in Montgomery, guard; Donchess and Parkinson, fullbacks, and Uansa, halfback, who were picked on all-American teams and Southern California has only one in Tappaan, end, there is no reason to fear for the Trojans.

Pitt undoubtedly rates the right to be favored over Southern California today, but that doesn't mean a thing. The Trojans are just as likely to win as not. In fact, probably will.

According to the experts Pitt went through its unbeaten season pulled up. In other words, it did not reveal its full power at any stage of the year. As soon as a

MUST PLAY AS THEY CAN PLAY

Can't be Stopped if They Are Up to Snuff

Charging of Rival Lines to Decide Issue

Parkinson and Uansa Sure to Bother Troy

BY BRAVEN DYER

If the Trojans play the brand of football they are capable of uncorking, Southern California should defeat Pittsburgh before 71,000 fans at the Pasadena Rose Bowl this afternoon. And this in face of the knowledge that Pitt is undefeated and rated by eastern critics as one of the two greatest teams in that section, Notre Dame being the other.

HOWARD JONES

The Trojans have the stuff to win. They have the plays, they have the speed, weight and stamina, they have the right mental attitude and, what is apt to be most important, they have the reserves.

Therefore, if Howard Jones's proteges play as they did against Washington, Stanford, Washington State and Carnegie Tech they should turn back the Golden Panthers from the Smoky City.

But—and here's the rub, of course,—there is no way of telling in advance whether the Trojans will be right. It may be Pitt's day. Fans know enough about football in this day and age to know that teams often outdo themselves on certain days, only to fall far below this standard later in the season.

The scrambled condition among the Big Three of California is evidence enough to back up that statement.

SHOULD BE RIGHT

But there's no reason why both Southern California and Pitt shouldn't be at top form. Each squad has been pronounced physically and mentally right by respective coaches. There are no injuries and the only discordant note in the whole picture—if it can be called such—is that of the weather.

Jock Sutherland, Pitt mentor, has publicly stated that he knows the weather will prove a terrific handicap for his boys to overcome. He feels that he spots Troy two touchdowns by playing under Pasadena's balmy sunshine.

The main reason why so many

POINTED PARAGRAPHS ON TODAY'S RIVAL PLAYERS

Mahlon Chambers, substitute quarterback, for the Trojans, holds the unique distinction of being the lightest man on either squad of today's Rose Bowl game. He tips the beams at 155. Bill Loehr, Panther end, is next at 156.

George Dye, husky Trojan center, is the heaviest, his 232 far outshining his nearest rival. "Pug" Parkinson is the only man on the Panther team weighing more than 200, and he is only eight pounds over that mark.

Only two players on the Panther squad are under 20 years of age, Walber Babic, tackle, and Bob Merris, center, both claiming 19. Edward Schultz, end, and Marclay Barnes, center, both claim 26.

Three Trojans—Marshall Duffield, Jim Musick and Gaius Shaver—all of whom are main factors in the Trojan offense, are 19 years of age. Ward Bond is 26, followed by Irving Winfield, 25, and Frank Anthony, 24.

TWENTY-NINE ATHLETES END GRID CAREERS TODAY

Eighteen Trojans and eleven Panthers wind up their college football careers today. Probably not all of them will see action in the Rose Bowl classic, but both Coach Howard Jones of the Thundering Herd and Jock Sutherland of the visiting Pittsburgh team are planning to give every possible chance to the seniors to get into the game.

An entire first-string line, consisting of Francis Tappaan and Tony Steponovitch at ends, Cecil Hoff and Frank Anthony at tackles, Clark Galloway and Capt. Nate Barragar at guards and George Dye, center, will be missing from the Trojan line-up next year. In addition, two regular backs, "Racehorse Russell" Saunders and Harry Edelson, will also be playing their last game. Other men who have completed their three years of varsity work are Ward Bond, tackle; Bob Gowder, guard; Rocky Kemp, quarter; Karl Kreiger, end; "Dink" Templeton, guard, and John Ward, tackle. East, West Elevens Set for Annual San Francisco Game Today

STAR TEAMS IN FINE CONDITION

Tentative Starting Line-ups Announced by Coaches

Lom Wins Place on Western Squad at Halfback

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 31. (AP)—With starting line-ups for both teams tentatively decided upon, football squads of East and West went through light workouts today in final preparation for the annual all-star battle at Kezar Stadium here tomorrow.

BENNY LOM

Coach Percy Locey sent his western stars through their paces at St. Mary's College in the Moraga Valley, while Andy Kerr's men trotted through formations on one of Stanford University's practice fields. Both teams will spend a quiet New Year's Eve and will not invade San Francisco until just before game time.

Although the West has a slight edge in condition practically every one of the forty-four players comprising the two squads was pronounced in shape for tomorrow's fray, which will mark the fifth annual renewal of the game played for the benefit of patients in the Shriners' Hospital for Crippled Children. Tommy Dowler, halfback from Colgate, is the only one about whom there exists much doubt as to his ability to get into the contest. A wrenched knee has kept him out of the East's recent practice sessions.

Calderwood and Erickson of Northwestern and Mooney of Georgetown, all of the eastern eleven, nurse minor bruises, but will be able to play. The West's injured trio—Lom of California, Churchill of Oklahoma, and Sloan of Nebraska—have improved so rapidly that Lom and Churchill have been tentatively listed as starters by Coach Locey.

A sudden shift in sentiment has installed the West as a slight favorite, this despite an imposing array of all-American talent in the eastern line-up. To most observers, however, the game looks like a "natural," with a possible eastern advantage in the line being offset by a western backfield that is superior in kicking and passing and the equal of its rival in running the ball.

The tentative starting line-ups announced today by Coaches Kerr and Locey follow:

Bosma (Dartmouth)	L.E.	Churchill (Okla.)
Twomey (Notre D.)	L.T.	Richards (Ore.)
Cannon (Notre D.)	L.G.	Schwarz (Cal.)
Cox (Colgate)	C.	Riegels (Cal.)
Gordon (Ill.)	R.G.	Brumbaugh (T.C.)
Sleight (Purdue)	R.T.	Ackerman (St. M.)
Tanner (Minn.)	R.E.	Shrig (Or. State)
Peters (Ill.)	Q.B.	Clark (Colo. Col.)
Brazil (Detroit)	L.H.	Lom (Cal.)
Glassgow (Iowa)	R.H.	Pomeroy (Utah)
Nagurski (Minn.)	F.B.	Walsert (Wa.)

OCCIDENTAL TIGERS START TRACK WORK

Coach Joe (Timberwolf) Pipal, grizzled veteran of the track and field at Occidental, has announced his first call for Tiger cinderpath candidates to report on the Patterson field oval tomorrow afternoon. Pipal has previously predicted a very dark outlook for the 1930 season as far as any championships in the Southern California Conference are concerned. Plenty of field material is present at the Eagle Rock institution but an utter lack of track men, especially in the sprints and distance events, worries Pipal no little bit.

TROY HAS STUFF TO WIN

people favor Southern California to win, as I see it, is because the Panthers came here two years ago with much the same record they have this year and lost to Stanford, 7 to 6. Folks out this way feel that Southern California is better than that Stanford team and they don't think Pitt has encountered enough tough opposition to be properly prepared to withstand the battering which the Trojans are bound to deliver.

Never in the history of a Rose Bowl game have so many highly publicized athletes appeared. Pittsburgh boasts four players who have received liberal all-American honors. They are Joe Donchess, left end, who wears No. 11; Toby Uansa, halfback; Pug Parkinson, fullback, and Ray Montgomery, guard.

SAUNDERS RATES

Southern California offers one all-American in Francis Tappaan, left end, who also sports the magic No. 11. In the minds of most Southern California fans there is no better all-around back in the country than "Racehorse Russell" Saunders whose ball-carrying feats and brilliant forward passing have stood out so prominently during the closing games of the 1929 season.

It ought, therefore, to be a spectacular game, jammed with offensive football. Jones was never a man to wait for the other fellow to do something. Sutherland, employing Pop Warner's famous B formation, must have power to burn, which means straight line smashes, reverses, double, fake, triple and otherwise.

Sutherland, fearing the weather as he does, will undoubtedly shoot the works right off the bat. The Panthers have done terrific damage to all their foes in the first half of their games. In fact, Sutherland's boys have been so ferocious and have scored so quickly that his first team has seen service but half the time in a large majority of contests.

This is an angle that cannot be doped. Pitt's record, although unsullied by defeat, is not enough in itself to cause the Panthers to be favored over twice-beaten Southern California. But no one knows how good the Panthers really are. They have not been tested to the limit. Undoubtedly they will be put to that test today and it is certainly within the realm of possibility that they also have the stuff to win.

CAN'T BE SURE

The more you write about football the less sure you become about what's going to happen in any given game. Where two teams are as evenly matched as Troy and Pitt it won't take much to turn the tide of victory one way or the other. Master gridiron technicians such as Jones and Sutherland have proved themselves to be may have overlooked nothing in their preparations but one slight error by one football player can ruin everything.

Another point on Troy's side of the ledger is that Jones has done particularly well against Warner's style of offense in the past three years. Stanford has two defeats and a tie from Jones in that period of time, which should not afford Pitt much comfort.

If the Trojan line is charging properly there won't be much ground gained through Jones's wall by the Pitt backs. But if the trim and speedy Panthers can get the jump on their opponents this chap Toby Uansa is apt to slip away for several of those 50-yard runs which made him the talk of the East this year.

Pitt's line is none too heavy through the middle. I look to see Saunders and Musick hammer away at this point. And when Pitt pulls in her secondary defense to keep Russ and Jim from knocking off the yards you can watch for Troy's passing attack to blossom.

PASSES MAY WORK

They say back east that Pitt is none too strong against passes. For the first week of practice Jones stressed his aerial plays night after night. During the past five days he has given most of his attention to the running attack. One won't work without the other.

Pitt presents more offensive power than Sutherland showed here two years ago. Southern California no doubt faces a real task in stopping Parkinson and Uansa. They probably won't be stopped, but whether they and their team-mates can score more touchdowns than Southern California can tally if right is the question that only the game itself will answer.

Have a hunch that Howard Jones is pretty well satisfied with the way his team has been functioning. Monday evening, after the last practice at Bovard Field, Jones came into his office, doffed a sweater over his head and then inquired:

"What would you fellows do if I should make a crazy statement?" This was addressed to the writer and another local sports scribe.

We replied that we would probably be forced to use it against him, but followed it up by declaring that we would keep still about it if such were his wish.

"Well, I guess maybe I hadn't better say it anyway," was his final word.

What Jones had in mind I do not know. Perhaps he was going to predict defeat for his team. Perhaps he was going to say it looked like victory for the Trojans. There was nothing in his tone of voice to indicate the trend of his mind, but he seemed very well satisfied with the last strenuous workout and that might be the tip-off.

It is Jones's first shot at a Rose Bowl victory. He has called his team physically superior to any he has coached here. The Trojans have the honor of the West to uphold and I for one do not believe that they will be found wanting.

One thing to bear in mind is Troy's record of intersectional victories. Today's battle will be the tenth of its kind for the Trojans. Seven of the previous games were played in Southern California and of these seven Troy lost but one. That was to Notre Dame, 13 to 12, in 1926.

Penn State, Syracuse, Missouri, Iowa, Notre Dame and Carnegie Tech have fallen before the Trojans in local games. Of these teams, however, it can truthfully be said that the only one which rates with the present Pittsburgh outfit was the 1926 Notre Dame eleven. The Trojans defeated those six teams decisively, all of them, and gave the 1926 Notre Dame machine all the trouble it wanted.

Which ought to indicate how tough a battle awaits today's foes at the historic Rose Bowl, scene of football's greatest spectacles.

self-sacrifice and loyalty to its players. The increasing interest in the game on the part of young men and the public is a good sign and I look for a still greater season in 1930."

This sentiment was echoed by Warner, who pointed to the prospect of greater intersectional rivalry for the new year.

GAME GROWING

"Football is getting bigger and better each year throughout the country," in the opinion of Stagg, the "grand old man," although he made the proviso that coaches and players must unite to hold up the high ideals of the sport.

"Football became more than ever standardized during the past season," he added, "but, fortunately, it will never reach complete standardization, particularly on offense. There is still much opportunity for scientific development of various maneuvers of tactics and strategy which coaches of creative minds will seize upon. On the other hand, the rules of play fortunately seem now to have reached almost complete stabilization. On the whole, this year's rules have been the most satisfactory to date and I do not look for any vital changes in 1930."

of California. They are Henry Becker, halfback, Joplin, Mo.; Ward Bond, tackle, Denver; George Dye, center, Birmingham, Ala.; Bob Hall, tackle, Dallas, Tex.; Howard Joslin, end, Phoenix, Ariz.; Jess Mortensen, half, Thatcher, Ariz., and George Templeton, guard, Roswell, N. M.

Nine Panthers are from States other than Pennsylvania. Youngstown, O., sent Joe Donchess, all-American end, and Leo Murphy, half; Wheeling, W. Va., donated Charles Tully, tackle; Ray Montgomery, all-American guard, and Marclay Barnes, center. Bellaire, O., sent Hart Morris, guard, and Bob Morris, center, to the Pittsburgh institution, while Paul Collins, sophomore end, claims Sioux City, Iowa, as his home town; and Charles Edwards, quarterback, sings the praises of Moundsville, W. Va.

Both coaches played line in college. Sutherland was a guard for three years at Pittsburgh under "Pop" Warner, and Howard Jones was a first-string end at Yale for three seasons.

Johnny Kern, St. Paul middleweight, and Joe Peregrina, Yaqui wild man from Sonora, meet in the main event. The winner is slated to get a bout with Bert Colima.

Coaches Pick Trojans Over Pitt Panthers

If the combined opinions of twenty-two grid coaches assembled at the Biltmore yesterday means anything Southern California will defeat Pittsburgh at the Rose Bowl this afternoon. Of the twenty-two mentors only one picked Pitt. All the others favored Trojans, although one or two called the game a toss-up.

The only coach selecting Pitt was Eugene (Red) Kennedy, former Pomona College fullback, now mentoring at Fillmore High School. Gene admits he doesn't know much about it, but strings with Pitt.

Those favoring Southern California were Joe Pipal and Ed Kienholz of Occidental College, Ott Romney of Brigham Young, J. F. McKale of Arizona, Tex Oliver of Santa Ana High, Bill Driver, former Loyola mentor; Hobbs Adams of San Diego High; Eugene Nixon and Bob Strehle of Pomona College; Bill Spaulding and A. J. Sturzenegger of U.C.L.A.; Leo Calland of Idaho; Roy Cole of Tustin High School; Chief Newman of Whittier College; E. L. Romney of Utah Aggies; Verne Landreth, of Whittier College; L. W. Davis of Arizona, and Shorty Gillette, local official.

Bill Hess, former Loyola coach, says it's a toss-up, as does E. Y. Johnson of Fullerton.

Oliver declared Troy's passing attack would turn the trick while McKale said the Trojans would win by at least 7 points.

Two years ago the voting was proportionately in favor of Stanford over Pitt and Stanford won then, which may be a good sign as far as the Trojans are concerned.

The coaches were in attendance at the annual meeting of the Pacific Coast and Rocky Mountain association of Football Mentors. Kienholz was elected president, succeeding Howard Jones of Southern California. E. L. Romney, who has acted as secretary and treasurer for many years, was elected vice-president. Sturzenegger was named secretary and treasurer.

The consensus was that the present rules should be left alone, although one or two coaches argued in favor of putting the goal posts back on the goal line to revive the lost art of goal kicking.

Following the meeting the coaches were the guests of the University of Southern California at luncheon.

DEL MONTE EVENT IN FINALS TODAY

DEL MONTE, Dec. 31. (AP)—H. C. Howe of San Francisco defeated H. L. Strobel, Salinas, 1 up, and W. R. Reynolds, Del Monte, won from Winfred Detsch, San Francisco, 5 and 4, in today's semifinals of the Del Monte New Year's golf tournament.

Mrs. H. C. Horsford, Oakland, defeated Mrs. H. C. Howe, San Francisco, 5 and 3, in the finals of the women's flight.

Second-flight results: F. E. Thies, Oakland, defeated John Urabe, Salinas; Harold Morgan, Los Angeles, defeated H. Kita, Salinas, by default.

PETKIEWICZ REFUSED PERMISSION TO RUN

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—Stanislaw Petkiewicz, Polish middle-distance runner and conqueror of Paavo Nurmi, today was denied permission by the executive committee of the Amateur Athletic Union to compete in the United States. "Suspicious circumstances" surrounding his visit and actions since arriving here were given by the A.A.U. as the reason for the action.

game swung Pitt's way out came the regulars and in went the subs.

PLENTY IN RESERVE

Therefore, argue some of the eastern boys, what Pitt has in reserve for the Trojans will be more than ample to turn back the standard bearers of the West.

Sounds nice, but there is a deep suspicion in this writer's mind that Stanford and California and Notre Dame were the toughest teams the Trojans will have been called upon to face when they hang up their togs for good tonight.

The Trojans beat Stanford, 7 to 0, and lost to Notre Dame, 13 to 12, because in two chances Trojan booters could not get the ball between the uprights for the extra point.

Notre Dame was a better team than Pittsburgh because it came through a harder schedule and faced stronger teams. Both were unbeaten, but the majority of the experts rate the Irish above Pitt.

That doesn't mean that the Trojans can romp out on the field today and expect to walk off with the bacon, but if they play as they did against Stanford earlier in the year and as they did against Notre Dame later in the season Pitt can't beat them unless it is a real "wonder" team.

TWO BALL PACKERS

Two of Pitt's four all-Americans are ball packers—Parkinson and Uansa. The latter ran wild against Carnegie Tech, whom the Panthers defeated, 34 to 13, but so did Russ Saunders of the Trojans, who is not an all-American. At least he did not get on Christy Walsh's all-American team, which is selected by his four hired coaches.

But Mr. Russ Saunders did something this year no other man did. He ran 95 yards through the whole Notre Dame team for a touchdown on a kick-off. And the next Saturday he raced a punt back 65 yards for a touchdown against Idaho. And then he ran back another punt for a score against Washington State the following week-end—this time for 46 yards.

Of course, Pitt might stop Saunders. Stanford bottled up Army's Cagle like nobody's business. But there are other Trojans pretty good at packing the pill—Marshall Duffield, Musick, Moses, etc.

Just as in other big games what the backs do depends on the line. If the Trojan forward wall can push the Pitt line over the landscape as Stanford did to Army there will be another western victory to cheer about tonight.

DEVIL MAY PAY

But if that trim forward wall of Pitt's gets the upper hand there will be the devil to pay for the Trojans.

The only mutual basis of comparison between today's rivals is afforded in the Carnegie Tech games, and even that is faulty.

Pitt beat its great intercity rival, 34 to 13, while the Trojans won from Tech here, 45 to 13.

But the difference in the way in which the scores were made favors Pitt.

The Panthers rolled up 21 points in the first period and led, 27 to 0, at half time. Tech came from behind to make 13 points in the last period, but on a pass from Uansa to Donchess, Pitt's comeback was swift for another touchdown.

In the game here between the Trojans and Tech it was just the other way around.

At half-time the score was 13 to 13, and it was anybody's game. Tech wilted in the second half and the Trojans made two touchdowns in the third period and three more in the final quarter.

It was Uansa with fifty-seven and forty-two-yard runs in the first quarter of the Pitt-Carnegie Tech game—both for touchdowns—which started the ball rolling Pitt's way.

And it was Saunders, who, with his dynamic ball packing, scored two touchdowns in the third period and passed to Edelson for another tuchdown in the fourth period that swung the tide to the Trojans' side.

Therefore, the respective numbers of these young men—15 for Saunders and 19 for Uansa—probably will be keenly watched by the assembled multitude today.

LIKE WARNER'S

Coach Sutherland, an old pupil of Pop Warner's at Pittsburgh, where Warner coached for years before coming to the Coast, uses formations very similar to Stanford's.

The defense Coach Howard Jones has fashioned for the Trojans in this game, therefore, is fundamentally the same as that employed in the Stanford battles—the last two of which Jones's teams have won by scores of 13 to 0 and 7 to 0, respectively.

Assuming that today's rivals have met about the same standard of competition, there doesn't seem to be much to choose between the two teams, defensively speaking, but the Trojans have an offensive edge.

The Trojans have had their goal line crossed eight times in eleven games; Pitt six times in nine games.

Pitt has rolled up 277 points, against Waynesburgh, Duke, West Virginia, Nebraska, Allegheny, Ohio State, W. and J., Carnegie Tech and Penn State.

The Trojans are the highest-scoring team in the country, with a total of 445 points, against U.C.L.A., Oregon State, Washington, Occidental, Stanford, California, Nevada, Notre Dame, Idaho, Washington State and Carnegie Tech.

THREE SOPHS

The teams are about a stand-off as far as experienced men are concerned. Daugherty, center; McMurdo, tackle, and Collins, end, are the only sophomores on the Pitt team. The other starters in the Panther line-up are seniors.

The Trojans have Arbelbide at end, and Pinckert at halfback, with possibly Hall at tackle as sophomores. The rest are seniors.

It is hard to get a correct slant at the respective weights of the two teams.

The Pitt boys apparently, have both Pennsylvania weights and California weights.

Before the Carnegie Tech game a Pitt paper had Parkinson down at 196 pounds. Now he's grown to 208 pounds for California consumption, if we are to believe the statistics handed out by the Pitt publicity headquarters.

Donchess scaled 175 pounds back home, but he's 167 here. Montgomery, guard, has shrunk from 190 to 186, McMurdo from 195 to 189, and Collins from 180 to 178.

WEIGHT EDGE

However, it looks as if the Trojans will have the bulge in the middle of the line, where Dye's massive 235 pounds overshadows the 174 of Daugherty, and both Trojan guards, Galloway and Capt. Barragar, considerably outweigh Capt. Di Meolo of the Panthers.

There's not much difference in the rest of the line, nor in the two backfields.

No last-minute switches in the line-ups were announced last night by the coaches, although Hall, a bigger man, may replace Hoff, the senior, at left tackle for the Trojans. Williams, who played right half regularly for the Panthers at the first of the season, might get the nod over Walinchus, who beat out his senior team-mate later in the year.

Jones's line-up probably will be the same as opened the Notre Dame game with the exception of Gaius Shaver at full, in place of Moses or Musick, because of Shaver's kicking ability. When Duffield replaces Saunders, big Musick will go in for Shaver.

GRIDDERS END CAREERS TODAY

year of eligibility, but probably will be graduated in June.

The Panthers will lose Capt. Al Di Meolo, guard; Joe Donchess, end; Ray Montgomery, guard; Toby Uansa, half, and "Pug" Parkinson, fullback, from their regular line-up, in addition to Charles Edwards, quarter; Harold Williams, half; Marclay Barnes, center; Al Corson, tackle; James Rooney, half, and Felix Wilps, half.

BRITISHERS TO PLAY AT SANTA BARBARA

SANTA BARBARA, Dec. 31.—International flavor will be added to the local polo horizon this week with the announcement of Jim Colt, Santa Barbara Polo Club manager, that Aiden Roark, six-goal Irish star, and Capt. Selby McCreery, another high-goal Britisher, would arrive from Del Monte and compete in Thursday's regular club game. Roark is a younger brother of Capt. Pat Roark, famous nine-goal internationalist. He proved a sensation on Long Island field in his debut last summer and together with Capt. Roark is expected to form half of the British international team to challenge America for the famous West Chester cup next September.

The Midwick team that was to have visited Santa Barbara for a series of matches starting next Sunday, will not play here until the middle of the month.

PREDICT BRIGHT FUTURE FOR NEW YEAR OF 1930

Hope Youngster Has No Trouble in Deciding Sports' Crowns, Old Champs Praised

BY BRIAN BELL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—As the New Year slips quietly into the sports picture, he throws before him one of the longest shadows any year has tossed on the sport scene. The 1930 edition has much to do in untangling some of the chaos left by 1929 and writing a ticket on his account.

Fortunately for the infant 1930, he will be robust before the hardier tasks confront him. No juvenile could be expected to dig up a heavyweight boxing champion, decide major-league pennant races in baseball, separate the golf goats from the sheep and award the Walker and Ryder cups, do the same for tennis and the Davis Cup, see what can be done about Sir Thomas Lipton's perennial quest of highest yachting honors, repel a foreign polo invasion and give all the football teams of the country another chance.

BOBBY JONES

The heavyweight boxing fracas may continue to be a free-for-all for some time. With Jack Sharkey, the modest violet from Boston way, ready to defend the America first doctrine with his fists, men from other shores are flocking to the United States until standing room may be at a premium. Some time next summer the issue should be decided with Sharkey and some unidentified opponent fighting it out.

JONES STANDS OUT

New Year's golf sun will shine brightly on Robert Tyre Jones, Jr., in spite of the fact that Atlanta lawyer is not the amateur champion. Among the professionals Horton Smith, a promising youngster a year ago, is more so now and he will be hard to stop on any fairway or green. The veterans, too, Hagen, Farrell, Sarazen and the others will not go down without a struggle. "Jimmy" Johnston, the St. Paul sportsman, perhaps faces the hardest year of all golfers. He will have to defend his amateur champion against the best-equipped challenger in the world.

Baseball will be bigger and better. The 1930 schedule will take the national game out of the class of autumn sports, confining it to spring and summer with a start in April and close in September. The Athletics and Cubs are in and the burden of proof in getting them out will be on fourteen other clubs. At a great distance and decidedly a birdseye view of the prospects the A's seem to have a right to expect the most vigorous opposition from the Yankees, a powerful team, and Cleveland, a slick outfit in the making, lacking only co-ordination to make it dangerous.

WATCH PHILLIES

In the National League, the Pittsburgh Pirates are apt to harass the Cubs and the Phillies must not be taken lightly. This is not a typographical error. The Phillies may be a thorn in the side of the National League clubs accustomed to sit in the seats of the mighty. They can hit and are not the worst fielders in the league. If they get good pitching—a big "if," they should be contenders. Baseball is a queer game. The Boston Braves did it, the Phillies might repeat sixteen years later.

Mrs. Frederick S. Moody probably will dominate women's tennis for she is just as good a player as was Helen Wills. The contest among men promises to be more interesting. The up-and-coming youngsters may make it hard for Bill Tilden and his colleagues. Big Bill has definitely removed himself from international team competition, but will take his racket in hand in other quests, the gain to tennis marking a loss to the stage.

Sir Thomas Lipton will not have to battle the law of averages as well as an American yacht when he bids for the American's cup. The Irish peer is overdue, after a ten-year interval.

Tommy Hitchcock may be safely intrusted with the task of assembling a group of hard-riding fellows to oppose the British polo invasion.

LAUDS IRISH

Notre Dame, Purdue and Pittsburgh will be among the chief targets for the football opposition after showing the way in 1929. Rockne's outfit will have a flock of experienced backfield men to carry on, while Pittsburgh must seek some replacements. Purdue lost its coach as well as a number of stars. Army has a flock of promising plebes coming up to the varsity and no team ever needed them more.

Yale will reflect gleefully that Albie Booth will be more experienced by a year than he was in 1929 and Harvard expects to settle comfortably in the shadow of Big Ben Ticknor, with Barry Wood also around. Princeton may reason logically that any change will be for the better.

In the Far West the Pacific Coast Conference will find at least four teams ready and willing to play off a tie in the race. All over the country, bigger, better and faster football teams will be ready for the first whistle.

The new year faces an ambitious program. Probably he will be able to get away with it handily. Most of his predecessors have done very well. The departing 1929 was one of the most unsatisfactory. He left too much unfinished business.

Soccer Tilts Scheduled for Loyola Today

Two soccer games are scheduled for Loyola Field this afternoon in the second holiday program arranged for Southern California fans. The double-header will feature a game at 3 o'clock when the powerful Hollywood football club, at present the leading team in the City League, will be called upon to meet a team of all-stars, picked from the remainder of the City League.

Hollywood has its usual strong eleven this year and is defending the title won last year in league play. Whether Danny Hall's kickers will be able to defeat a hand-picked team of all stars remains problematical but the game promises plenty in the way of fast and furious soccer football.

The preliminary game at 1 o'clock will bring out another all-star team from the City League against a group of all stars from the Southern California organization. The latter league lost to the city stars on Christmas Day but since then has revamped its line-up and a tighter game will result this afternoon.

Oxy Cagers to Play Teachers

Not in the least discouraged in defeat, but rather inspired by their showing last Monday evening against the crack Brigham Young cagers, Coach Eddie Kienholz's Occidental basketeers will next engage the Santa Barbara State Teachers' College at the Glendale High gym Friday evening.

This tilt with the Roadrunner five is the last practice scrimmage for the Tiger cagers preliminary to the opening of the Southern California Conference in which the Oxy quintet defends their circuit crown. The Bengal squad opens against the Redlands five on the 11th inst. at Redlands. The Bulldogs are probably Oxy's greatest competition in the 1930 race.

Occidental's varsity schedule for the balance of the year follows:

January 3—Santa Barbara at Glendale High.
January 11—Redlands at Redlands.
January 14—U.C.L.A. at Glendale.
January 18—Tech at Glendale.
January 25—La Verne at La Verne.
January 31—Hollywood Y.M.C.A. at Glendale.
February 8—Pomona at Pomona.
February 15—Whittier at Whittier.
February 18—Tech at Tech.
February 22—Pomona at Glendale.
March 1—Whittier at Glendale.

CHANGE CUE DATES

CHICAGO, Dec. 31. (AP)—The national amateur three-cushion billiard challenge match between Bud Westhus of St. Louis, and Max Shimon of Milwaukee, originally set for January 13, 14 and 15, at St Louis, has been moved up to January 3-4, to avoid a conflict in dates. The match will be of 150 points in three blocks of 50 points each.

MUSHY CALLAHAN'S TITLE ABOLISHED IN NEW YORK

BY EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 31. (AP)—The New York State Athletic Commission bade farewell today to an old member and faced the fistic problems of 1930 with a drastic set of informal New Year's resolutions hitting at major evils in the boxing industry.

After passing a resolution of appreciation for the efforts of George E. Brower, a member of the commission for the past six years, who resigned today to become District Attorney of Kings county, Commissioners James A. Farley and William Muldoon cleared the record for 1929 and took their first shots at the problems of the coming year.

The solons abolished junior championships with the main blow aimed at the junior lightweight class. The purses of Benny Bass, Philadelphia socker, and Tod Morgan, the last champion of the "junior" division, still are withheld by the commission because of the bout in Madison Square Garden on the 20th inst., when Bass knocked out the title-holder in two rounds while gamblers in the lobby pleaded for wagers with odds 6 to 1 on the challenger.

The commissioners, morally certain that the battle was not fought on its merits, have been unable to discover definite proof of alleged fraud. Abolishing the 130-pound division, created seven years ago at the late Tex Rickard's request, for Johnny Dundee, strikes principally at Bass. Complicated financial arrangements disclosed before the match would, if true, cost Benny $20,000 to win a title now worthless.

The only other championship involved is the junior welterweight title at 140 pounds, now in the possession of Mushy Callahan, Chicago.

Warming to its task, the commission then leveled a blast at crack fighters who campaign among ordinary opponents and laid down the law to the final pair of light-heavyweights remaining in the elimination series for Tommy Loughran's vacated crown, Lou Scozza and Jimmy Slattery, both of Buffalo, who were ordered to sign for a title match by January 10 or be declared null and void in favor of two more belligerent 175-pounders. Scozza also was warned to beware of promoters offering matches with Mickey Walker, the middleweight champion, who is under suspension here.

The man power of the commission probably will be brought back to normal through appointment of the Secretary of State within the next two weeks.

Les Kennedy Earns Decision Over Jack De Mave in Star Ring Battle at Olympic

HOLLAND BOXER EASILY BEATEN

Foreigner Down for Count in Second Round

Benny Miller Victor Over Leo Hernandez

Silver and Chavez Battle Draw in Special

Les Kennedy, who recently trounced Kayo Christner, scored an easy victory over Jack De Mave in the ten-round main event at the Olympic Auditorium last night.

Kennedy had De Mave on the canvas for a nine count in the second round and hung up a decisive edge from then on.

They are heavyweights.

In a battle royal, five dusky boxers threw punches all over the ring. Only two remained standing after the first round and the bout was called a draw

Benny Miller stopped Leo Hernandez in the first round of the scheduled six-round semifinal bout. Hernandez was too aggressive for his own good and twice stepped into fast right hands. The first time he went down for a nine count and the second time he was down for good.

Jack Silver and Zenaydo Chavez battled to a six-round draw in the special event Milford Berglund had Tommy Huffman on the floor twice for counts in the first and second rounds to win the decision in a four-round preliminary. In the four-round opener Dewey Massey won from Walter Hoffman.

Harris Will Bolster Ice Hockey Team

"Smokey" Harris, a battle-marked veteran whose name has been a byword of hockey, has arrived in Los Angeles and Thursday night will take over the management of Arthur Guy Empey's Hollywood Millionaires in the California Hockey League.

The veteran could have arrived at no better time. He comes when the Millionaires need him sorely, just after they have made their four unsuccessful attempts to upset the Los Angeles Richfields.

Hollywood will try again Thursday night but it should be a more serious and certainly a more spirited try with the veteran Harris in the saddle as manager.

Empey is to give complete charge of the team over to Harris, who for years has ranked among the greatest players in the game.

Harris's experience and his knowledge of the game and its plays are expected to prove invaluable to the Millionaires, particularly the young players like Paul Maher and "Peaches" Headley, who are developing.

Giant Italian Fighter Here

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Primo Carnera, the Italian giant, landed in the United States today. He has been tentatively engaged to fight in the new Garden here on the 23rd inst. Jim Maloney, Rikardo Bertazolla and K. O. Christner are being considered as his first opponent. Fight promoters in Miami Chicago, Boston and Buffalo have wired offers for his work.

PIRATES OUT TO STOP LION SQUAD TONIGHT

Al Claman's husky Union Oil Pirates will attempt to stop the mad rush of the Gilmore Lions, in their sensational dash for the California amateur hockey championship tonight at the Winter Garden Ice Palace. Gilmore lost their first game last Saturday night in several weeks, when the Sunfreze Bears trounced them by a score of 4-3, and it will be necessary for the Pirates to do the same thing this evening, if they expect to head the Gilmore squad off.

MEXICAN COSSACKS TO GIVE EXHIBITION

The Mexican Police Cossacks, daredevil motorcycle riders, expect to make their final appearance in the United States when they give an exhibition at the American Legion Speedway January 12. The five handlebar experts, led by Capt. Enrique Laurent, will perform numerous feats, such as stunting on one motorcycle together and doing a Roman standing race around the track.

SHIPKEY TEAM TRIUMPHS

LODI (Cal.) Dec. 29. (AP)—The Sacramento independent football team, led by Ted Shipkey, former Stanford all-American, defeated the Lodi Athletics here today, 14 to 0, in a thrilling exhibition of the grid sport.

BLACK HAWKS NOSED OUT

CHICAGO, Dec. 29. (AP)—Toronto's Maple Leafs, battling like demons, took a rough-and-tumble national hockey game from the Chicago Black Hawks in the Chicago Stadium tonight by a 4-to-3 score.

MEXICAN CAGERS BEATEN

DALLAS (Tex.) Dec. 29. (AP)—In a free scoring combat the Dallas Athletic Club cagers defeated the F.A.L. team of Mexico City, national champions of Mexico, this afternoon, 59 to 34.

The creation of a billion-dollar harbor in a generation is told in the Midwinter Number of The Times, out January 2.

CHIP OFF OLD BLOCK

But not a sliver of wood in either case. For both Judge Clair S. Tappaan, one-time tackle at Cornell, and Francis Tappaan, star end at Southern California, are rated as among the smartest players of their respective teams. The elder Tappaan is the presiding judge in Department Forty-five of the Superior Court of Los Angeles, and his son is a freshman in the University of Southern California law school. The pictures were both taken when the respective subjects were about 21 years of age.

PITTSBURGH DINNER

James Gleason will be master of ceremonies at the University of Pittsburgh alumni dinner to be held at the Roosevelt Hotel tonight, following the University of Southern California-Pittsburgh game in Pasadena.

Arrange Plan to Entertain Pitt Players

The Pittsburgh football players will be busy boys from the time they prance out on the field for the game with Southern California this afternoon until they leave for home Saturday morning.

Tonight will be taken up with a dinner dance at the Hotel Roosevelt, the arrangements having been completed by Sam Kress.

Tomorrow four movie studios will be visited, and supper time will find the Panthers guests of Charles DeLong, a Pitt alumnus, at the Bull Pen Inn. In the evening the boys will be guests at the Mayan Theater. Friday will be devoted to a tour of the orange groves with lunch at the Mission Inn. Saturday morning the Panthers, defeated or undefeated by the Trojans, start back home.

WEIGHT EDGE TO TROJANS

Southern California Has Eleven Pounds Per Man Advantage Over Pitt

A weight advantage of eleven pounds per man will favor the Trojans today, according to the statistics on poundage released by the publicity departments of Southern California and Pittsburgh. All of this will lie in the line.

According to Don Saunders, publicity man for the Panthers, there isn't a single man in the visiting forward wall weighing more than 189 pounds, Jim MacMurdo, right tackle, tipping the beam at that figure. The total poundage for the forward wall is 1251, an average of 178.7 pounds per man. Joe Donchess, twice all-American end, is the lightest, at 167.

The Trojans, despite Francis Tappaan's 163 at left end, total 1381, an average of 197.3 pounds per man. With Capt. Nate Barragar, George Dye, Frank Anthony and Garrett Arbelbide all weighing 200 pounds or better, the Trojan front line will have considerable advantage on their rivals.

The two backfields are almost identical, Pitt weighing in at 718 for an average of 179.5, against 715, or 178.7 per man for the Trojans. The Panthers vary from 166 for Baker, at quarter, to 208 for Parkinson at full; while the Trojans run from Saunders, 175, to Pinckert, 182.

The Panthers average an even 179 per man, while the Trojans stack up at 190.5.

Friday will see in action such well-known golfers as John Golden, Charles Guest, Johnny Dawson, John Rogers, Harold Long and Olin Dutra.

Saturday will find the rest of the field headed by Horton Smith, Walter Hagen, Leo Diegel, Bill Mehlhorn, Tony Manero, Henry Ciuci and Johnny Farrell getting in their eighteen-hole first round.

RABBIT PUNCHES

By PAUL LOWRY

LIKES THE TROJANS

"NOT for publication, but I like Southern California over Pittsburgh."

The speaker was one of the best-known football authorities in the Middle West.

He pointed to the Southern California victory over Carnegie Tech and Stanford's triumph over Army—both second-half conquests.

"The Trojans have too much man power for Pitt. They showed it in the Carnegie Tech game. And the Stanford boys had too many good reserves for Army.

"Tech was able to start a first team just as good or better than Southern California. But it couldn't match the Trojans for reserves.

"Nor could Army substitute with the same nonchalance as Stanford. When the Cadets lost Humber and Price early in the game they lost a big part of their line. They were never the same after that loss.

"But they looked just as good as Stanford in the early part of the struggle.

"Pitt will have to be at the very peak of its form to beat Southern California, and that means to hold the pace it sets in the first period clear through the game. I don't believe the Panthers can do it."

KICKING HEROES

NOW comes H. B. G. of Pasadena to get away from the players for a minute and cry the accomplishments of the referee of today's football classic—W. G. Crowell of Swarthmore.

"I noted with a great deal of interest," he writes, "that William Crowell of Swarthmore is to referee the New Year's Day game. I believe, unless my memory is badly at fault, that his first name is Wilme, not William.

"He was a boyhood hero of mine, when I was a kid in Swarthmore, Pa. I not only saw all of Swarthmore's home games, but attended most of their practice sessions, too. Crowell was as sweet a kicker as I have ever seen, both in place and drop-kicking.

"If you will look in Spalding's football guide under field goals I think you will see his name as many times as anyone's.

"He was also a wonderful ball packer. In those days hurdling was permissible, and I have seen him soar over the head of a standing, would-be tackler, and continue merrily on his way.

"I don't know whether he keeps in practice or not, but if he does it would be a great stunt to get him to show the fans a few drop kicks between the halves on New Year's Day."

H. B. G. is right about the eminent Mr. Crowell. The record book shows that the head official of today's game was quite some pumpkins as both placement and drop-kicker.

He's right up near the top of the heap with a 48-yard place kick and another for 55 yards—both made on the same day in a game with F. and M. back in 1904.

And on at least half a dozen other occasions you will find Mr. Crowell's name mentioned as the propeller of place or drop kicks ranging all the way from 35-yard to 45-yard boots.

THE ECKERSALL RECORD

NOW if we only had Walter Eckersall officiating in some capacity today there would be a couple of drop-kicking demons on the field.

Eckie is here all right, but only as a writer for the Chicago Tribune. He has worked in many a New Year's Day struggle, but today will see the battle from the stands. He came out for the Southern California-Carnegie Tech struggle, went north for the Stanford-Army game, and remained for today's Rose Bowl combat.

Eckie holds two very unique drop-kicking records.

The following year he duplicated the feat in a game with Nebraska, kicking the ball between the uprights from 20, 30, 34, 34 and 38 yards, respectively.

Only one other man in the history of football has kicked more goals in a single game—Robertson of Purdue, who booted seven between the uprights in a game with Rose Poly in 1900.

SECOND RISKO VISIT

A CORRESPONDENT, in announcing a proposed fight between Johnny Risko and Frankie Campbell in Los Angeles, says Risko has never fought here.

Is that so?

Well, what in the world was Risko, the Cleveland baker boy, doing in the ring at the Olympic with Sailor Eddie Huffman one October evening in the year 1926?

Playing marbles or ping-pong?

Or was that shellacking he handed Huffman just a figment of the imagination?

MEXICAN FIVE HAS 26 GAMES IN STATES

WINFIELD (Kan.) Dec. 31. (AP)—The Fall basketball team of Mexico City, defeated here last night by Southwestern College, 36 to 26, will play twenty-six more games in the United States. Miguel Cirizia, manager of the team, announced a schedule which will take the good-will team on a tour through Kansas, Iowa, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Arkansas, Louisiana and Texas. The tour will end February 8 with a game at Pineville, La., with Louisiana College.

ROBLETO, SPORT MIX IN RING TOMORROW

Canto Robleto and Young Sport are to meet in a real grudge fight at the Pasadena Arena tomorrow night. It is the third meeting for these promising flyweights, with honors even to date.

Two other six-rounders will be presented in the semifinal and the special events. Stutts Houk will meet Joe Williams, New Orleans negro, in the semifinal. Bennie Rodriguez and Foster Manola, favorite flyweights at the arena, meet in the other six-rounder. Four-round preliminaries will be Battling Geysel vs. Frankie Burnell, 145 pounds; Hector Aquilar vs. Frankie Manns, 126 pounds.

PIRATES LOSE ON ICE

NEW YORK, Dec. 29. (AP)—Two goals in the listless first and a brilliant bit of thinking by Billy Boyd that brought another in the third frame, gave the New York Americans a 3-to-2 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates tonight in the battle of the tail-enders of the National Hockey League.

Panthers Are Favored by Tartan Coach

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 31. (AP)—Walter P. Steffen, head football coach of Carnegie Tech, which has met both Pittsburgh and Southern California this year, picks Pittsburgh to defeat California in the New Year's Day game at Pasadena, Cal., tomorrow.

"I regard Pittsburgh the stronger of the two teams," he said. "They are at a climatic disadvantage, of course, and that will be particularly true in the second half of the game. However, Pittsburgh is well fortified with reserves and it is my opinion that they will win."

GRID HEADS ARE GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

Pop Warner, Willaman and Graham McNamee Speak at University Club

Compliments flew thick and fast at the University Club football luncheon yesterday noon. A large crowd, filled with football enthusiasm and expensive food, hearkened to the pearly words of wisdom which dropped from the lips of Pop Warner of Stanford, Sam Willaman of Ohio State and Graham McNamee of the Whatchamacallit radio system.

Pop rose to reply to certain unkind remarks made about his close friendship with Pittsburgh and couldn't quite understand why folks should see anything unusual in his hobnobbing with the representatives of a school which he coached for nine years and which is now being coached by men who learned their football under his coaching. "Anyhow," Pop said with a grin, "I don't see how I could be much use telling 'em how to beat U.S.C. when I haven't been able to beat 'em myself for the last three years."

Willaman, who played fullback for Ohio State when they were trimmed by the Bears in 1921, said that every team that had beaten his squad this year used Pop Warner's double wing-back offense and he was now engaged in touring the country trying to find out how to stop it. He said that he didn't learn much about stopping it from the way Army played last week. He remarked about Stanford's fine punting and the wonderful all-around play of Smalling and Bull Driscoll and wound up with the statement that Pop was undoubtedly the "best offensive coach in football." No, Clarabelle, not the MOST offensive—the BEST offensive.

Graham McNamee was introduced and ran true to form by getting all mixed up as to who he had seen play and where, but said he really did think we had lovely roses and a swell climate. Pop Warner introduced most of his assistants and also Chuck Smalling, with a few well-chosen words, not to mention an introduction of "Babe" Horrell as "probably one of the greatest centers ever to play football."

Sarpolis and Daviscourt to Meet on Mat

Dick Daviscourt, the rough headlock exponent, was signed by "Carnation" Lou Daro yesterday to meet Dr. Carl Sarpolis, the wrestling physician from Cincinnati, in the special event of the all-star mat card planned for the Olympic next Wednesday night.

This battle will precede the one between Everett Marshall, the young 215-pound Washington State College star, and Joe Malcewicz, the Utica mat panther, who will clash in the finish feature event of the evening.

Dr. Sarpolis has never wrestled in a local ring. He came to this section of the country from the East about a month ago and won both of the big matches that brought him west. The first was with Charley Straak, former Olympic Games mat king, who held Malcewicz to a draw in a bout in New York several months ago. Dr. Sarpolis beat Straak easily. He followed up this victory with one over Ira Dern, the Mormon star, a few weeks ago.

Klick Favored Over Holtzer

Frankie Klick wound up the year as the Pacific Coast featherweight champion but this year he will probably do his fighting as a junior lightweight. His first shot of the year in the new division will be with Maurice Holtzer, the Frenchman, and Klick should come out of the fracas a winner because of his boxing skill.

The first boxing show of the new year at the Hollywood American Legion Stadium Friday night features two young fighters who may be championship contenders by the end of the year. Maurice Holtzer learned his boxing in France. He was discovered and managed by Francois Descamp, the man who discovered and managed Georges Carpentier. Holtzer is a stiff body puncher and a rugged youngster.

A good show has been booked to support the Klick-Holtzer bout. Lefty Cooper and Sandy Garrison in the semi-wind-up falls little short of being a main event and Frankie Diaz, the Mexican lightweight, fighting Fred Tomkins in the special is a bout that should provide action. Art Yarnell will fight Leonard Allen in one four-rounder.

WRIGLEY HERE FOR VACATION

Says Cubs Will be World's Champs This Year

New Angel Players Praised by Gum Magnate

Chicago Club Owner to See Grid Game Today

BY BOB RAY

William Wrigley, Jr., the head man of the Chicago Cubs, our Angels, Catalina Island and various business endeavors, arrived in Los Angeles yesterday and in the most approved chooser of commerce style, promptly remarked how lovely the weather was.

WILLIAM WRIGLEY, JR.

Wrigley, who is out here to start the new year right and wait for the arrival of his Cubs in Catalina Island to start spring training next month.

The Chewing Gum King is in the best health and prophecies that his Cubs will win the 1930 world's series and make up for their showing against the Athletics. Wrigley, however, doesn't blame the Cubs for losing to the A's, claiming that it was just plain hard luck that kept the Chicago outfit from being world's champions.

"We've gone out and spent a lot of money to strengthen the Cubs for next season's race and I can't see any reason why we won't win the National League pennant again. Lester Bell will help the club a lot at third base, and McCarthy expects some of those high-priced minor league pitchers we bought to deliver."

While on the subject of baseball Wrigley praised highly Johnny Moore, the outfielder the Angels secured from the Cubs, and George Harper, who comes here from the Braves in the deal that sent Walter Berger to Boston.

"Moore is a real ball player," said Wrigley, "and he ought to be a world beater out here. He's fast, a great fielder and can hit. In fact, Joe McCarthy thinks so much of him that he wouldn't agree to send him to the Angels unless the Cubs retained an option on him. As to Harper, I always did think he was a good ball player. I know he used to cause the Cubs a lot of trouble by coming through with home runs in the pinches. He's a sun fielder, too, and should be able to hold down right field for the Angels in great style."

When asked what chance the Angels had of securing talent from the Cubs, Wrigley said that that would be up to McCarthy. Wrigley said, though, that the Cubs were bringing along a lot of pitchers and might be inveigled to leave one or two of them with the Cherubs.

"Is Hack Wilson going to fight Art Shires?" one of the scribes asked Wrigley. "Not a chance," was his reply. "Hack knew a long time ago that if he fought Shires he wouldn't be with the Cubs next season, and that settled that."

Wrigley plans to take in the Rose Tournament parade and Trojan-Pittsburgh football game today, and then he will depart for Catalina to spend the rest of his vacation in Southern California.

While Wrigley is here Bill Lane intends to have a conference with him and see if he can't get a five-year lease for his Hollywood Stars at Wrigley Field instead of one for only a year.

New Stanford Golf Course Opens Today

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, Dec. 31.—Stanford's new $135,000 golf course, constructed under the supervision of William Bell, noted Southern California golf architect, will open tomorrow.

Situated behind the old Palo Alto stock farm, the eighteen-hole links has gently sloping natural fairways, abundantly shaded, and incidently, made hazardous, by oak trees. According to its designer, the course will immediately take rank with the finest links in the West.

No ceremony will mark the throwing open of the greens to use. Playing privileges have been extended to faculty and students, upon payment of nominal monthly fees, and to about 200 golfers of the vicinity who have subscribed to membership. Stiff green fees are to be charged in order to discourage visitors from crowding what is expected to be a very busy course.

The Stanford board of athletic control underwrote the project, which means that the old reliable sport of football will pay for it. Construction has been pressed since June.

TORALVA BROTHERS UPSET PARIS PLAY

PARIS, Dec. 31. (AP)—The Chilean brothers Toralva furnished the big surprise of the second round of the French indoor hard-court doubles tennis championship play today by eliminating Big Bill Tilden, American champion, who was paired with Charles Kingsley of England. The scores were 6-4, 6-4.

BELMONT FIVE WINS

Coach John Buehler's Belmont five won an easy practice game yesterday when the Hilltoppers walloped the Alumni cagers, 18-8. The game was played at Belmont. Eagles led the scoring with six points, while Fonner, Johnson and Mayo all tied for second place with four digits apiece. All four competed for the varsity.

High spots of the past year's record included the holding of the Charter Day Dinner on March 23 in Oakland; the Commencement Day Luncheon for nearly 700 of the earlier classes; the fostering of more than twenty five-year reunions in many cities of the world, such as New York, Chicago, Boston, Washington, D. The Alumni Association through its bureau of occupations placed in employment more than 5000 students who earned in excess of $1,000,000 during the year, the report showed.

Sibley also stated that "while membership in the association entitled the holder to application for football tickets, more than 10,000 members during 1929 did not take advantage of this privilege."

The American Alumni Council during 1929 awarded the California body the first prize for having the best edited story in its magazine, the California Monthly, against 125 competitors. The story was "The Vitamine Marathon," and was written by Dr. H. M. Evans, the discoverer of Vitamine E and F.

Printed invitations will be issued during January to all known addresses of former University of California students, inviting them to join the association and to participate in its privileges, Sibley said.

PILGRIMAGE PLAY AFFAIR POSTPONED DUE TO DUST

Due to the unprecedented dry spell which has left the canyon with a coating of dust nearly an inch thick, the restoration service program planned Sunday afternoon on the Pilgrimage Play amphitheater site was postponed indefinitely yesterday afternoon by the committee in charge.

Clothing and shoes of the spectators would be ruined, the committee believes, and rather than bring about this inconvenience to the thousands of spectators expected, the postponement was made.

"We probably shall hold this service later in the spring, after the rains have set in," Mrs. J. J. Carter, chairman of the program committee declared last night. "A splendid program has been arranged, but it would be unfair to both the artists and the public to give it Sunday."

Those to have participated included the John Smallman a Cappella Choir of thirty-two voices and the Woodwind Ensemble from the Philharmonic Orchestra.

The dusty condition has been brought about by the fire which recently swept that section of Hollywood hills, together with the present dry spell. Ashes from the destroyed theater and brush have mixed with the dirt and formed a heavy coating on the soil.

COUPLE'S MARRIAGE GESTURE, WIFE SAYS

Joe McDonough intended to be her husband in name only when he married her, April 20, 1926, in Los Angeles, Mrs. Thelma McDonough told Superior Judge Archbald yesterday when asking for an annulment of the marriage ceremony. Following a short hearing the annulment was granted. According to Mrs. McDonough's complaint, the couple never lived together after the ceremony was performed.

PATROL AGENCY OFFICER SLAIN

Fellow Patrolman Seized as Murderer

Police Report Confession From Prisoner

Killing Called Aftermath of Row in Office

Shot through the adbomen last night, Carl Ostrom, dispatcher of the Merchants' Fire Dispatch, was killed by Sterling H. Duncan, one of the operatives. Duncan was arrested on a charge of murder shortly after the shooting in the private office of the patrol agency at Wall street and Twelfth streets.

According to Detective Lieutenants Swant and Hatcher of the Georgia-street division homicide squad, Duncan admitted killing Ostrom, and said the shooting was the outcome of a personal dispute. Both Ostrom and Duncan, as licensed private watchmen, carried weapons.

The slayer ejected the empty cartridge from his weapon in the office, and went across the street to a drug store, where he reloaded his weapon. The detectives summoned from Georgia-street station arrived in time to see Duncan going back to the agency, when they arrested him. Duncan lived at the Santa Rita Hotel, 1104 South Main street.

Ostrom was dead when police arrived. His body was sent to the morgue. Duncan was taken to the Georgia-street station, where he was booked on a charge of murder.

DICK GRACE DARES FATE IN AIR AGAIN

Noted Stunt Flyer Crashes Thirty-second Plane in Death-Defying Feat

Dick Grace, stunt flyer and author, dared death for the thirty-second time by crashing airplanes intentionally when he flew a roaring open biplane into the edge of Sherwood Lake, near Calabasas, on one wing, bounced over on the other wing and came to rest upside down in the lake yesterday.

RICHARD GRACE

All the injury Grace received in the spectacular crash was a superficial cut on one cheek and a slightly bruised chest.

The pilot hurtled the plane tothe ground and into the water in what he declared to have been "the trickiest of any smash I ever tried."

And when Grace admits a crash is tricky it is just that, for he has been in the cockpits of practically every airplane wrecked purposefully in this country for the last five years. He nosed the plane in as cameras cranked away for a scene in Paramount's "Young Eagles," starring Buddy Rogers

Grace went aloft in the doomed biplane shortly after noon and took on in mimic air combat another World War type ship. Finally Grace rolled his ship over at 1000 feet, feigning that it was out of control.

Down it came crazily, struck the bank of the lake at a predetermined point with the right wing, turned a somersault on the other wing and smacked down on its back in the lake as a deluge of mud and water squirted upward.

But Grace crawled out. He had timed the intentional mishap correctly, weakened the plane in the right places and protected himself in the control seat as the wings took up most of the shock of the crash.

"It's all in the day's work," was practically all he had to say. "The ship acted nicely, but I guess it won't fly again."

Grace had come in fairly fast—not under fifty miles an hour—so that he would have enough wind pressure on the plane's control surfaces to guide it until the second he struck the ground.

"Any more?" he questioned. "Sure. Crashing and writing are my lines and I like them both too much to cut either. And it isn't so dangerous after all—that is, if you know what to do and the time to do it."

Grace is the author of articles on stunt flying in national magazines and of an air-thrillers book, "The Legion of Death."

Gift Presented to Car Dealer

More than 150 employees and friends of J. V. Baldwin, metropolitan Chevrolet dealer, gathered in his office to pay their respects yesterday on the occasion of the nineteenth anniversary of Mr. Baldwin's advent into the motor-car industry in Los Angeles.

A handsome platinum wrist watch was presented by the employees with the assurance that it was 'golf proof,' as several fine timepieces have gone by the board within the last few years as Baldwin has attempted to lower his score at the Los Angeles Country Club course.

Rail Fares East Will Be Reduced

Reductions in railroad fares to points in the East from Los Angeles will become effective February 1, and continue to March 1, it was announced yesterday by the Santa Fe, Southern Pacific and Union Pacific system.

The fares will be sold on a one-way basis only. The fare to Chicago will be $52.50; St. Louis, $47.50; New York, $83.06; Philadelphia, $81.96; Missouri River points, $40, and to Salt Lake City and Ogden, $17.50.

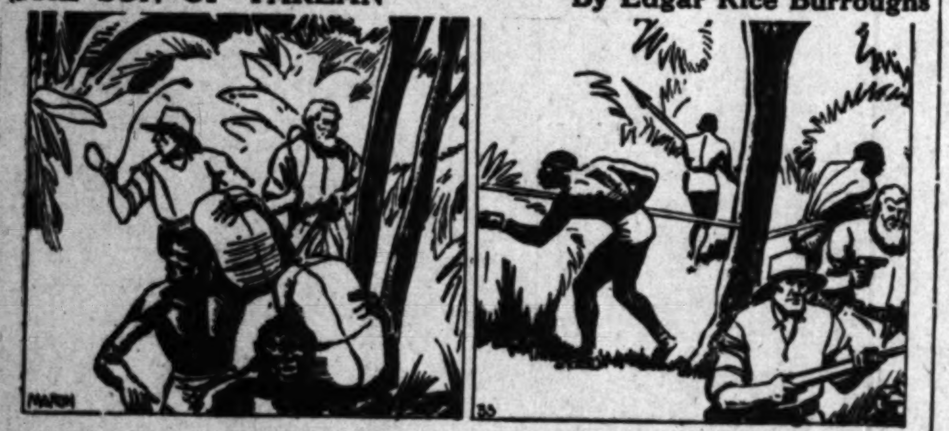
A CHUCKLE FOR EVERYBODY

THE SON OF TARZAN

By Edgar Rice Burroughs



Days of panic-ridden flight through the jungle had filled Jenssen and Malbihn with jangling nerves and their native boys with unreasoning terror. Each new noise behind them sounded to their ears like the coming of the Sheik and his bloodthirsty followers. So, when the naked white warrior stepped silently out of the jungle, the shock had been enough to loose in action the pent nerves of Malbihn and he had fired the first shot.

But it developed that none of the caravan had seen clearly what they were fighting. One of the blacks even insisted the thing had been eleven feet tall, with a man's body and an elephant's head! After they had conquered their nervousness and came to investigate the enemy's position, in the gathering twilight, they found nothing. For by this time Akut and the son of Tarzan had retreated far from the unfriendly guns.

"The lesser beasts flee from me, the greater ones are ready to tear me in pieces," the boy murmured, half to himself. "Black men would kill me with spears. White men, men of my own kind, shoot at me and have driven me away. Has the son of Tarzan no friends?" The old ape drew closer to the boy. "There are the great apes," he said. "They only will be the friends of Akut's friend. You have seen men want nothing of you. Let us go to the great apes—our people!"

The two proceeded in silence for some time after Akut spoke. The boy was deep in thought, bitter thoughts in which hatred and revenge were uppermost. Finally he spoke: "Very well, Akut. We will find our friends, the great apes." Akut, who had long sensed that the boy wished to return to civilization, and was sorrowful because of that, now was overjoyed. A grunt of approval, however, was his only response as he busied himself searching for food.

GIRL SEIZED AS "DIARY BANDIT"

List of Crimes Revealed in Daily Entries

Sweetheart Dropped Her, She Says in Preface

Companion of Long Beach Lass Also Held

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, Dec. 31.—Because her sweetheart dropped her "like a live coal," a pretty 19-year-old girl just a week ago today took up a white pencil and on the black-papered pages of a little diary dedicated her future to a career of banditry. Today, on the eve of a year through which she had expressed the hope that "the star of good fortune will pilot me happily," she landed behind the bars, booked on suspicion of robbery and the confessed engineer of four recent hold-ups.

ALICE LE FEVRE

The fair "diary bandit" is Alice Le Fevre, and languishing in a cell with her, also as a suspect, is her chum, Dorothy V. Trone, 28. They were taken in custody when they made their appearance together in a room at the Brooks Hotel, Locust avenue and Broadway, where police say they found not only the incriminating black diary, but a .32-caliber revolver.

CHRONICLE OF CRIME

The trail to the hotel room had its source, according to the police, in information dropped by a man arrested last night on a charge of possessing liquor. Without any idea of what it might lead to the officers followed it to the hotel—and there found the little diary with its black pages and white handwriting.

On the first page the officers, their curiosity strangely intrigued, read a familiar quotation:

"May the star of good fortune, strong and clean, pilot me happily through the next year!"

Then followed a preamble to the entries.

"Would you like to know what turned me into a bandit?" it inquired. "Well, I have tried to play the game on the square all my life. I have worked hard whenever I have had a job. I have always played square with my friends—especially with the one I love . . . but he dropped me like a live coal. So I am resolved in future to play the game as crooked as in the past I have played it square."

"JOBS" DETAILED

The first entry was dated December 24 and characterized as "Job No. 1." It recounted how "my girl friend and I persuaded two young men to get drunk. Then I stole a gun and a flashlight and we went to Venice; and the boys pulled a hold-up." There was no mention of the victim.

"Job No. 2" concerned the stealing of an automobile from Long Beach Christmas Eve, a drive to San Diego, the hold-up of a service station there, and the cashing of a worthless check in payment of gasoline on the return trip.

"Job No. 4" told of picking up another youth and forcing him to hold up another service station at South Main and Camille streets, Santa Ana. To the page chronicling this "job" was attached a newspaper clipping of the hold-up, in which the bandits obtained $27.43.

The last entry, entitled "Job No. 5," was confined to attached clippings telling of the hold-up, Christmas night, of C. C. Tenkhoff, a druggist, in his store at Temple avenue and Tenth street, Long Beach, in which a lone woman robber made her victim hand over $10 from the cash drawer.

PAIR WALK IN

In addition to the diary and the gun, the police found a cigar box, similar, they report, to one in which $1600 was carried away by bandits, following robbery of a tobacco shop here since Christmas. And while they were pondering their finds, the door opened and in walked Miss Le Fevre and Miss Trone. Placed under arrest, they were taken to headquarters, where under questioning, according to the officers, Miss Le Fevre finally admitted every statement in the diary and further confirmed her connection with them by admitting complicity in the four hold-ups mentioned.

On the cigar-box clew, police tried to link Miss Le Fevre with three other robberies, perpetrated here since Christmas, and which netted a total of $8000, but the young woman, they said, stoutly denied any connection with them.

Mary Miles Minter Said to Have Taken Refuge in Eastern Sanatorium

Mary Miles Minter has disappeared from Los Angeles. Inquiry yesterday at the apartment-house where she has resided for the past two years revealed that the former film actress left hurriedly on Monday to go to a sanatorium, following a collapse which came on the heels of the recent revival of the mysterious murder of William Desmond Taylor, film director, seven years ago.

Information regarding the disappearance of Miss Minter, who steadfastly refused any comment on the Taylor case during its most recent reopening, came yesterday from Betty Buttrick, manager of the apartment-house, which is located near the Ambassador.

"Miss Minter left here on Monday to go to a sanatorium to recuperate," Miss Buttrick declared. "It's too bad this old case had to be revived again. She had lived here quietly for the past two years and had tried to forget. She lived to herself, minded her own business and felt terrible when all this came up again."

The apartment-house manager was reticent to discuss Miss Minter's present whereabouts, but stated the former actress got as far away from Los Angeles as she could. It is believed she has gone to some sanitorium or hospital in the East to recuperate. Miss Buttrick indicated her apparent breakdown was the result of the revival of the Taylor case.

Miss Minter was asked for a statement several days ago in consequence of utterances made by her mother, Mrs. Charlotte Shelby, which were given out by her in connection with a statement from ex-Gov. Richardson that the mystery of the death of Taylor had been solved.

Miss Minter's name was mentioned prominently during the investigation of the Taylor death following her admissions of a close friendship with the slain man. At the time Taylor was slain Miss Minter was at the height of her career in films, following which she went into seclusion. Dist.-Atty. Fitts said after Richardson's statement his office would not reopen the investigation.

Two are dead and four other persons are at the point of death with skull fractures as the result of traffic mishaps during last night's welcoming of the New Year. Mrs. Esther Burgess, 36 years of age, 1321 West Twentieth street, was killed instantly when struck by a car driven by Linn Cain of Gardena, at One Hundred and Sixty-first street and Vermont avenue. She was crossing the street with her sister, Mrs. Walker Mathers, when the car struck both women. Mrs. Mathers was knocked down and her skull was fractured, and Mrs. Burgess was dead when the ambulance arrived.

Henry Roland, 66, 4638 St. Elmo street, was killed when struck by a hit-and-run driver at Third street and Las Palmas avenue. He was rushed to General Hospital following the accident but did not regain consciousness.

EIGHT DAYS OF MARRIED LIFE COSTS HIM $12,000

Eight days of married life cost a husband $12,000 because of the extravagance of the woman he married, Samuel Lochie, retired Long Beach business man, told Superior Judge Archbald yesterday when seeking a divorce from Mrs. Jean M. Lochie.

Lochie told the court that as he has no regular position or earnings he was in imminent danger of losing all his life's savings because of the asserted extravagance of Mrs. Lochie.

"Spending the $12,000 wasn't all," Lochie complained further. "She treated me like a piece of household furniture. I also had to do the cooking. She was home only long enough to eat and sleep."
